

The

The Woman's College of the University of North Carolina

PROPERTY OF THE LIBRARY OF THE

Alumnae News

NOV 12 1957

WOMAN'S COLLEGE
UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

“the man”

October, 1957

Progress Report

The 1957 Alumnae Fund

How did your sunflowers grow?

The Winston-Salem Journal and Sentinel reported on August 18th that Mrs. Joe Burchett in their town had "two big 15 feet sunflower stalks topped by blooms 15 inches in diameter."

"These two plants have an interesting background," the article continued. "Three sunflower seeds came in the mail to Miss Julia Courts (also of Winston-Salem) from her Alma Mater, Woman's College of the University of North Carolina. The Alumnae Association of the college sent the seeds for planting, and as a reminder of how a small beginning can grow into great things — thus even a small donation can grow to great proportions for your college.

"Miss Courts lives in an apartment and did not have the space to plant the sunflower seeds. She gave them to Mrs. Burchett to plant. Mrs. Burchett, who insists she is quite old in years, is young in heart. When able to do so, she works in her little garden which grows a variety of flowers and vegetables and a few strawberries. Since these two seeds, out of the three, germinated into such big plants, Mrs. Burchett gave them extra food, care, and watering just to see how tall they would grow. They now top the garage . . ."

October | 2,683 contributors
$11,797.80

June | 2,189 contributors
$9,568.00

April | 1,036 contributors
$5,024.25

The Woman's College of the University of North Carolina

The Alumnae News

Vol. XLVI, No. 1

October 1957

Inside Info

The frequent mention in this issue of Dr. Gordon Blackwell, the A. A. Wilkinson article about him and his family, and the cover photograph are indications of the Blackwells' importance to Woman's College. It is their hope . . . and ours . . . that each Alumna may, in time, become personally acquainted with the Chancellor and his family. In the meantime, however, may we introduce them to you "on paper."

Even though the video part of the Founder's Day Convocation telecast failed, we knew that many Alumnae were listening, if not seeing, and we were aware that many Alumnae-thoughts turned Woman's College-ward the following day. "Observance in Three Parts" is published in this issue so that you may know how the College celebrated its 65th birthday.

We join Miss Largent and the Harriett Elliott Social Science Forum Committee in hoping that many Alumnae will attend the 11th annual forum. A national trend among alumnae (-i) seems to point toward an increasing interest in returning to one's alma mater for intellectual stimulation. We are grateful to this forum for offering Woman's College Alumnae this chance.

The photographs of the Blackwells and of the campus activities in this issue were made by A. A. Wilkinson, Director of the College News Bureau.

Circumstances beyond the control of the NEWS staff delayed the publication of this October issue. We are sorry . . . but we are now rejoicing that you have it . . . at last.

Contents

"the man and his record"	2	A. A. Wilkinson
Powers in Profile	5	Martha Jester
Campus Facts, Faces, Figures	6
Observance in Three Parts	8
Chapter-ly Speaking	12
Barbara's and Julia's	14
Book Review	15	Virginia Terrell Lathrop
In Memoriam	16
News Notes	7
Sympathy	32

Barbara Parrish, Editor

Evon Welch Dean, Assistant Editor

Mildred DeBorde Jackson, Circulation Manager

Published four times a year (October, January, April, July) by the Alumnae Association of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro. Admitted as second-class matter at the postoffice in Greensboro, N. C., June 29, 1912. Single copies, 50 cents.

The Cover: Dr. and Mrs. Blackwell and "Cockie" are pictured on the steps of the Chancellor's House. The Blackwells became the Alumnae House's closest neighbors on August 29th.

223352

his family "the man $\wedge$ and his record"

THROUGHOUT the summer of 1956 and into the following fall and winter the chancellor's committee of Woman's College carefully examined the list of recommended candidates for the chancellorship of Woman's College.

Numerous meetings were held in the Pecky Cypress Room of Alumnae House. A succession of educators was invited to appear before the committee. Among them was Dr. Gordon W. Blackwell, director of the University of North Carolina Institute for Research in Social Sciences. Both the man and his record greatly impressed the committee.

On February 25 at its meeting in Raleigh the trustees of the University of North Carolina, on recommendation of University President William Friday and the Committee, named Dr. Blackwell chancellor of the college.

A little over four months later when the new chancellor entered his office in the Administration Building the welcome sign literally was waiting for him. His secretaries, Mrs. Helen P. Yoder and Miss Nancy Jo Wilson, had placed a sign on his desk proclaiming "Welcome Dr. Blackwell". It expressed the feeling of the college community, and in the intervening months Chancellor Blackwell has done much to increase the general satisfaction that has been expressed over his coming to the college and to heighten confidence in the college's future.

It was no easy decision for Dr. Blackwell and his family to move from Chapel Hill where they had been established for over fifteen years. It meant leaving their lovely home and giving up steady associations with old friends and neighbors. For Dr. Blackwell it meant a new professional direction, to leave research and writing in his field and to break away from the institute when it was at the threshold of new programs of activity and expansion.

As a sociologist and as one of the country's best known specialists in community organization, Dr. Blackwell actually cannot be said to be departing from his field. Rather, it provides a rich background for him as he applies its techniques to the college community, to the community in which the college operates, and the larger state and regional community it undertakes to serve.

Dr. Blackwell seeks to integrate the college more completely into the world about it. "I have known that Greensboro already supports the Woman's College," he said on the day of his appointment, "but I hope we can create an even closer relationship." Dr. Blackwell is well aware that there is a growing inclination for metropolitan areas to support colleges of higher education.

PRESIDENT Friday in his own recommendation of Dr. Blackwell spoke of him as a "man whose life has been dedicated to faithful service . . . a man of vision and integrity." George Watts Hill, Durham trustee of the University, in a speech seconding the appointment of Dr. Blackwell, said "we can look forward to Woman's College taking its rightful place as the leading institution for women in the Southeast."

Between the time of his appointment and the day he first sat at his desk in the Administration Building, Dr. Blackwell lost no time getting acquainted with Woman's College and Greensboro. He spoke to the student body, mindful that the June graduates would soon be alumnae. He was invited to address various civic groups. He was heard by the Faculty Council before its members scattered for the summer. So, July 1 found him well informed about all aspects of Woman's College life and mission.

The first weeks of the Fall semester have brought full evidence that Woman's College's new chancellor desires complete two-way understanding between the administration and the faculty and between the administration and the students. He has impressed the faculty with his completely free and open concept of interchange of ideas. Student leaders were pleased that he had invited a student representative to sit in on some meetings of the Administrative Council in the chancellor's office. A further indication of Dr. Blackwell's desire to understand student problems was shown when he appeared in the role of an observer at a meeting of the Student Legislature.

His warmth, humor, and friendliness have completely won the students. "I want you to know that I'm wearing my 'Woman's College' monogrammed handkerchief," he told students at the first fall convocation, "and I hope you'll come up to me close enough to see it." (Editor's Note: He wears this handkerchief to Alumnae Meetings, too.)

WOMAN'S College's tall, 46-year-old chancellor is a native of South Carolina, the son of a Baptist minister and a 1932 graduate of Furman University. He came to the University of North Carolina in 1932 for graduate work in the Sociology Department, headed by Dr. Howard W. Odum, who was quick to observe his high quality of scholarship. In time the young South Carolinian succeeded Dr. Odum as director of the Institute for Research in Social Sciences. He received the masters' degree in 1932.

After two years of research work with the North Carolina Emergency Relief Administration and the Works Progress Administration he went to Harvard for additional graduate work in sociology. He received his second master's degree

by A. A. Wilkinson

at Harvard in 1937 and the doctorate in 1940, meanwhile serving as professor and head of the Department of Sociology at Furman.

Returning to Chapel Hill in 1941 as Associate Professor of Sociology and Research Associate in the Institute, the caliber of his thought, research, and writing soon marked him as one of the country's brightest young sociologists. He was called on by the Commission on Teacher Education to make a survey of programs of teacher education in sixteen colleges and universities throughout the nation. He went to Washington to serve as Chief of the Community Problems Section of the Office of Civilian Defense. He later was Chief of the Training Section. He also made a survey of teacher education for the New York Committee on Teacher Education. This latter work resulted in a volume "Toward Community Understanding."

Returning to Chapel Hill after these assignments afield, he became Director of the Institute and resumed his teaching as Professor of Sociology, work that was to enhance his national prominence in this field and to establish Chapel Hill firmly as one of the nations' most distinguished centers of sociological research, thought, and publication productivity.

Dr. Blackwell himself has published more than fifty articles on a wide range of topics in his field, and has written or contributed substantially to a half dozen books. Many of these have dealt with the South, particularly with community life and development. Others have been concerned with the problems of higher education. More recently he has been interested in problems of health, especially in regard to community physical and mental health. This year he has served as a consultant on State Surveys to the American Psychiatric Association.

He has served on the council of the American Sociological Society; is a past vice president of the Rural Sociological Society; and has been vice president of the Southern Sociological Society. He has served as co-editor of the Social Forces, and has been assistant editor of The American Sociological Review. He has served as a member of the National Advisory Mental Health Council and has been consultant to the Joint Commission on Mental Illness and Health.

He has served North Carolina on many commissions, boards, and study groups.

WOMAN'S College newest asset is not only its chancellor but the chancellor and his family. The Blackwells moved into their campus residence August 29 even while extensive renovations and decoration processes were under way. They could not wait for their new home to be ready, for three of their four children had to get set for the opening of school, and the fourth readied for college.

Mrs. Blair was Elizabeth Blair Lyles of Spartanburg, South Carolina. After majoring in French at Converse College, she married Dr. Blackwell in August 1937. Their children—two boys and two girls—are Gordon Lyles, a sophomore at Furman; Randolph (Randy) Williams, a junior at Greensboro Senior High School; Elizabeth Blair, a sixth grader at Curry; and Amelia (Millie), a Curry fourth grader.

Visitors to the Chancellor's residence are quick to see the evidences of joyous family living and affection, the general sharing of interests. It is a home that both students and faculty will be seeing a lot of, for there is no doubt about the latchstring being on the outside.

Continued

Randy

Millie

Mrs. Blackwell

Blair (seated)
Gordon (standing)

Dr. Blackwell

Continued

Dr. Blackwell's public addresses during the past six months attest to the logical blending of the educator and the sociologist, making it clear that he understands the role Woman's College, as a unit of the University of North Carolina, must have in serving the region, the state, and the nation.

He has discussed the Raleigh-to-Charlotte "Industrial Crescent" of North Carolina as growing potentiality for the state and its paralleling demands for new schools, enlarged utilities, and expanded recreational resources, its traffic and housing problems, the necessity for maintaining cultural and human values at times of growth.

The Woman's College chancellor has discussed a variety of school problems, the teacher shortage, the need for new and larger physical facilities, the encouragement of young people in going to college, of the need for scholarships and counselling.

In Miami, Florida, Dr. Blackwell gave the opening address at the annual meeting of the American Dietetics Association, citing the problem of population increase and social change and a new emphasis on nutritional needs that must be made in the years immediately ahead.

With the advent of the Russian satellite, Dr. Blackwell declared that it did not indicate the Soviet system of education is superior but that we probably have misjudged Soviet scientific prowess. Rather, he said, we have learned that we must give greater support to our own American democratic system at all levels, including research.

As a member of the resolutions committee of the American Council on Education, Dr. Blackwell wrote the council's resolution at its recent Washington meeting. This resolution as much as anything he has said, epitomizes his educational philosophy:

WHEREAS free inquiry and responsible expression of judgment are central in the heritage of American education, and

WHEREAS recent world events have raised questions concerning the efficacy of the underlying principles of our education and research efforts.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the American Council on Education reaffirm our belief in the essential character and philosophy of American education and are confident that, with continued public understanding and support, we shall meet the challenges of the future.

Eleventh Annual Harriet Elliott Social Science Forum

Thursday, November 14

4:00 p.m. Registration

Elliott Hall, Lobby

8:00 p.m. Opening the Forum

Chancellor Gordon Blackwell

Aycock Auditorium

RUSSIA SINCE STALIN

Speaker: Bertram D. Wolfe

Moderator: Vera M. Dean

Friday, November 15

10:15 a.m.

Elliott Hall, Ballroom

RUSSIAN POLICY TOWARD THE UNITED STATES

Speaker: Frederick L. Schuman

Moderator: Vera M. Dean

2:00 p.m. Round Tables

Guest: Vera M. Dean

Moderator: Bette Davis

McIver Lounge, Elliott Hall

Guest: Frederick L. Schuman

Moderator: Carolyn Young

Sharpe Lounge, Elliott Hall

Guest: Bertram D. Wolfe

Moderator: Valerie Honsinger

Alumnae House

8:00 p.m.

Aycock Auditorium

UNITED STATES POLICY TOWARD RUSSIA

Speaker: Vera M. Dean

Moderator: Jordan Kurland

Powers in Profile: The United States and Russia

by Martha Jester '58

A Russian-born woman specialist on United States foreign affairs and two prominent American authors with sharply conflicting views on the future of Russia will be featured speakers for the Social Science Forum at Woman's College on November 14-15.

"Russia and the United States: Powers in Profile" is to be the topic for the 11th annual Harriet Elliott forum. Featured on the two-day program will be Dr. Vera Micheles Dean, author and editor of the Foreign Policy Association Bulletin; Dr. Frederick L. Schuman, Woodrow Wilson Professor of Government at Williams College, whose latest book is "Russia Since 1917;" and Bertram D. Wolfe, author of a recent book, "Three Who Made A Revolution."

Alumnae to Participate

Special invitations to the forum have been extended to active alumnae chapters and to some 600 alumnae whose majors were in the social science field.

Dr. Dean makes her third appearance on the campus this year, and the event marks her second forum visit. She appeared as a forum speaker in November, 1951, speaking on "The Meeting of East and West In China."

A second familiar name to Woman's College graduates is that of Frederick Schuman, whose book, "International Politics," was for many years the text for Miss Louise Alexander's popular World Politics course.

More than 1,000 faculty members at colleges in North Carolina and adjoining states, alumnae, and international relations students and leaders have been invited to take part in the two-day forum. Alumnae interest in participation in college intellectual events, expressed during the 1957 Pre-School Conference, led to the renewed effort to attract interested alumnae.

The first two forums, held in February and November 1948 and named for Dean Harriet Elliott, were joint alumnae-college projects. Theme of the programs—events in the social science field—was a continuation of the previous alumnae seminars.

Forum Committee

Heading the Social Science Forum committee this year are Miss Vera Largent, a member of the history department since 1923, who is faculty chairman, and Sara Jo Johnston, a senior sociology major from Pittsboro. The student chairman is the daughter of Ethel (Midyette) Johnston '26.

Mr. Jordan Kurland, specialist in Russian history and a member of the faculty since 1956, is serving as special consultant for the forum and will moderate the final session.

Students who will moderate the informal Friday afternoon roundtable discussions by the three speakers include Carolyn Young, psychology major from Taylorsville; Valerie Honsinger of Washington, D. C., sociology major; and Bette Davis of Richmond, Va., history major.

Economics Department: Dr. John Kennedy, department head, and Greta Hendricksen of Durham, major. Dr. Edna Arundel, head of the Geography Department; Dr. William Mueller of the English faculty, Dr. Eugenia Hunter of the Education Department, and Miss Ione Grogan of the Mathematics Department, are also committee members.

Speakers' Experience

Vera M. Dean spent the summer of 1957 in Asia, teaching during the summer semester at the Indian School of International Studies where she occupied the chair of American History and Institutions. Traveling to India by way of Japan, Hong Kong, Bangkok and Singapore, she interviewed leading officials and gathered new material on developments in the East.

Schuman

Wolfe

Dean

Eight departments are represented on the committee. Others serving include History Department: Dr. Richard N. Current, department head; Barbara Caudle of Winston-Salem, Peggy Anne Duncan of Fairborn, Ohio, Louise Gooch of Hallsboro, Martha Jester of Greensboro, and Jacqueline Long of Rocky Mount, majors.

Sociology Department: Dr. Richard Lieban, faculty member; Mary Louise Coleman of North Wilkesboro, and Marcia Warford of St. Petersburg, Fla., majors. Psychology Department: Anne Memory of Randleman and Nancy Boyd of Pilot Mountain, majors.

Ten weeks in India permitted interviews with members of the cabinet, political leaders and journalists. The experience has convinced Mrs. Dean, she writes, that despite great odds the Indians with their great political vitality and philosophy of reconciling extremes are determined to improve their living standards by democratic methods and to play a constructive role on the world scene.

Dr. Dean, who published a book on "The Nature of the Non-Western World" early this year, was born in Russia and

Continued on page 13

Campus Facts, Faces, Figures

FEBRUARY 24 has been set as the date for the installation of Chancellor Gordon W. Blackwell. The installation service is scheduled for the afternoon, following the semi-annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the University of North Carolina on the campus. Miss Florence Schaeffer, head of the Department of Chemistry, is chairman of the committee appointed by University President William C. Friday to plan the installation. Serving with her are Dr. Richard Bardolph, Dr. Marc Friedlaender, Dr. Malcolm Hooke, Dr. Pauline Keeney, Mr. Phillip Morgan, and Dr. Celeste Ulrich '46, faculty members; Mrs. Albert Lathrop (Virginia Terrell '23), Mrs. Paul Maulden (Julia Watson '33), and Mrs. L. Richardson Preyer (Emily Harris '39), Alumnae; and Judy Burch, Katherine White, and Sylvia Whitley, students.

FIVE MEMBERS of the faculty have been given grants for research projects from a $10,000 annual fund established by the 1957 General Assembly: Dr. Warren Ashby (philosophy), Dr. Harry Finestone (English), Dr. Robert C. Humphrey (English), Dr. Franklin D. Parker (history), and Dr. Donald W. Russell (education).

This legislative appropriation is the first which the Woman's College has received for research, and its use is being administered by the Graduate Research Council, of which Dr. Franklin H. McNutt of the Graduate School is chairman.

A FRESHMAN walked over to the dining hall one afternoon "while things were still new." Quite unaware of the history she was making, she "unabashedly" asked if she might "borrow" two level tablespoons of butter. It seemed that she was in the process of making fudge when she realized that she lacked butter. Naturally, she assumed, the dining hall would be the ideal place to "borrow" the butter.

TOTAL College enrollment, as reported on October 16 by the Registrar's Office, is 2400. There are 344 seniors, 469 juniors, 549 sophomores, 612 freshmen, 192 Commercial, and 194 graduate students. Fifty-one of the graduate students attend weekday classes, while the other 143 take Saturday courses. There are also 40 special students, among them five foreign students.

Last year's enrollment, as of October 2, was 2504. In the Greensboro Daily News on October 20 (1957), Chancellor Blackwell commented on the slight decline in enrollment: "We are not too surprised at the small drop this year. The birth rate in 1938 to 1940, when the present freshman class was born, was low, after all. We can still look forward to the beginning of a great increase in applications within two or three years. We can't see that this prospect will change. . . . Our own freshman class is smaller than last year's by 88, but our junior class is 19 girls larger than last year. We think this last is the start of a new trend, already noticeable in California. More students seem to be starting in junior colleges, and transferring to four-year schools. We expect this to become a pattern.

"We think our junior class is larger, too, because we are holding them better. Lots of our girls who come here with the idea of transferring to Chapel Hill in their junior year are now content to stay through the four years."

The Daily News article states further that "the new testing program now in effect at state institutions is given little credit for this year's slowing of enrollment expectations." Woman's College turned away only 8 per cent of its applications for failure to meet standards set for the tests, and the College administrators believe that the smaller freshman class will have fewer failures in the coming years as a result of the screening and will have a better overall record than if the rejected students had been admitted.

1,120 YARDS, par 31, nine holes . . . that's the course on which the first Woman's College Invitational Golf Tournament was held on October 4. The tournament celebrated the opening of the completed College course, a project which has been underway since the summer of 1955 when State Legislative approval was given. Mr. George Cobb of Chapel Hill designed the course; the College Department of Buildings and Grounds constructed it. And, if you'll pardon the editor's note, it's a "lulu." The lake which many Alumnae will remember has been filled in, but a sufficient number of ditches was retained to make the going . . . shall we say, interesting. Although cliffs and blind corners were not remembered in the area previously, they are there now.

But back to the tournament . . . Chancellor Blackwell's welcoming remarks opened it, and some 50 people, including members of the local press, the local pros, visiting pros, faculty members, and students, played. Dick Clark, professional from Asheboro, set the course record with a low of 27 to win, with his partner, student Betty Arnold of Elkins, West Virginia. Freshman Nancy Phillips of Newton, former women's state amateur champion, and Miss Margaret Martin, Physical Education Director at Curry School, turned in 33's to set course records for women.

J. N. PEASE AND COMPANY of Charlotte have been employed as the architects for two new College buildings now in preliminary stages of development: a classroom building and a residence hall.

Nine hundred and ten thousand dollars of the one million appropriated by the 1957 General Assembly for a new classroom building (which will be a new McIver Memorial Building) will be allotted for actual construction. The remaining ninety thousand will be used for fixtures. The new building, covering an area of 75,000 feet, will be approximately the same size as the old one, and it will be located on the same site. Demolition of the old building should begin about four months after the plans have been finished, approved, and bid-on, and it is estimated that it will take around fifteen months for the actual construction.

The new residence hall, which will be ready for occupancy in 1959, will house 350 students, and will be located behind the northwest corner of Weil-Winfield. Construction of the building, to be designed with two self-contained units with one common entrance as Ragsdale-Mendenhall, was made possible through the issuance of one million dollars in bonds, which are payable over a forty-year period, through the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the Federal Government.

In addition to these two major construction projects, College Business Manager W. M. Murray has announced that several campus improvements are scheduled for the coming year: the building of a new College entrance from West Market Street, the air-conditioning of the Library lecture hall, the re-routing of the steam tunnel between the campus and the power plant, and the repairing of the swimming pool in Rosenthal Gymnasium.

IT HAPPENS every year . . . a freshman noted on her Permission Slip a line for "Remarks." When she returned from her date, she faithfully indicated on said line whether or not she had had a good time.

MR. WENDELL McCULLEN MURRAY, who directs the business affairs of the Woman's College and who is "thoroughly grounded in fundamentals of public school education, in higher education, and in the practical fiscal matters which affect academic life," has another claim to fame . . . Mrs. Murray (Charlotte Koonce, before her marriage) was graduated from the Woman's College in 1930. As announced in the July issue of the NEWS, Mr. Murray is the new College Business Manager, and he and Charlotte, and their sons, Wendell Jr. and Robert, have moved from Raleigh to Greensboro.

A native of Burgaw in Pender County, Mr. Murray was graduated from Duke University with a major in history, a minor in English, and a teaching certificate in both subjects. He taught school for three years, and then for the following six years he was connected with the State School Commission, now the State Board of Education. In 1941 he joined the staff of the State College Business Office, where he remained until he came to Woman's College last July.

"One indication of a man's standing in his life's career is the regard of his fellows in the same profession." Mr. Murray has served as President of the Southern Association of College and University Business Officers, and he has also been chosen by that group to be a vice-president and a member of the Executive Committee.

AS MOST AREAS have been hit by Asiatic flu, so was Woman's College. In mid-October the College Infirmary, which normally is equipped to care for 45 patients, was swamped with about three times that number. To alleviate the impossible situation, the second floor of Woman's Hall was converted into an auxiliary infirmary. And because rest seemed to be a necessary combatant, faculty members were asked to delay tests for a time, and a curfew (lights out thirty minutes after residence hall-closing time) was imposed. Even the deadline for reporting "unsats" was delayed.

AGAIN THIS YEAR the Consolidated University Queen is a Woman's College student. Joan Backat, a junior from Rocky Mount, was selected from among candidates from Carolina, State College, and Woman's College on Consolidated University Day in Chapel Hill.

LIFE Magazine has cited Dr. Theodore Parker Ferris, who will deliver the 1957 Edwin A. Penick Lectures (November 11-13), with twelve other outstanding preachers who are "bringing America back to the churches." In the LIFE article, published several years ago, Bishop Henry Knox Sherill of New York said that Dr. Ferris is "the best expository preacher of the Bible that I know of today." The rector of Trinity Church in Boston since 1942, Dr. Ferris is active in many religious organizations, the author of several books, and a trustee of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Sponsored by Episcopal students and faculty members at the College, the lectures on the general subject of "Worship" were established in honor of Bishop Penick of the Diocese of North Carolina.

AN ALL-TIME RECORD has been broken by the Class of 1960. The Sophomores have ordered more class jackets than any of their predecessors . . . 513, and orders are still coming in. On October 30, no matter what the temperature, the charcoal grey jackets, with new, striped, ivy-league linings, will be the focal point of sophomore wardrobes.

IT HAPPENED during the summer . . . it being an "enrichment course" for 18 sixth and seventh graders from Curry School and a practical work session for 13 College graduate students. It was so successful that now, three months later, it deserves comment.

"School," it was called, but such a school is seldom seen. For a week until Thursday night, classes were conducted in the form of a day camp at the College's Piney Lake. Ten boys and eight girls were taken to the "outdoor campus" every morning after assembling at Curry School. At the end of the day they were hauled back to Curry and dismissed. On Thursday the group remained "on campus" and cooked-out and spent the night. On Friday afternoon the experimental "school" was over.

Drs. Gail Hennis and Celeste Ulrich '46 of the Physical Education Department and Mrs. Gay (Grant) Manchester '54 ME of the Curry School faculty were directors of the experiment, which actually included four weeks at the camp for the graduate students and the final week of practical work with the boys and girls. Consultants who assisted in the course were specialists in soil and water conservation, water biology, forestry, wildlife and biology, nature study, water safety, swimming, boating and canoeing, and crafts. And, there were classes in fishing.

Typical comments of the youngsters during the week was this one made to Dr. Charlotte Dawley of the Department of Biology after a jaunt through the woods in a wildlife study: "It didn't seem like a lesson at all."

SADYE DUNN '57 of Bladenboro is currently touring North Carolina and neighboring states as the College's first full-time Field Representative. She is working with high school students, teachers, parents, and Alumnae in interpreting the work and resources of the College.

Elected everlasting president by her '57 classmates, Sadye's very active "extra-curricular career" was climaxed by her election as president of the Student Government Association. She was graduated with a B.S. degree in Physical Education, and proof of her ability in "things academic" was her selection, upon graduation, as co-recipient of the Weil Fellowship.

For details of Sadye's work with Alumnae groups, read "Chapter-ly Speaking" in this issue of the NEWS.

THE CLASS OF '58 has elected its eight outstanding members: Meeta Carlton of Salisbury, Beryl (Weckworth) Honsinger of Springfield, Massachusetts, Valerie Honsinger of Washington, Sue Sigmon of Charlotte, Mary Jane Smiley of Salisbury, Gail Steacy of Mahopac, New York, Sandy Walker of Raleigh, and Katherine White, daughter of Rachel (Aycock) White '29, of Dunn.

AN ANNEXATION of 28 square miles of suburban territory has made Greensboro the second largest city in the Carolinas. The city's population was increased from 97,000 to 119,000, making it second only to Charlotte which has a population of about 150,000. The additional territory makes Greensboro the largest in North Carolina in area . . . 49.5 square miles as compared with Charlotte's 32 square miles.

Continued on page 33

Left to right: Chief Marshal Judy Burch, Dr. Morris (back), Dr. Carmichael, Dr. Blackwell, UNC President Friday, and Sue Sigmon.

Observance in Three Parts

Part I: Convocation

HAVING become acquainted with your Founder, I agree (with Dr. Blackwell) that there is every reason for this annual recognition of his services . . . Dr. Oliver C. Carmichael, Jr., president of Converse College, began the Founder's Day Convocation address. The annual assembly in Aycock Auditorium was held on the evening preceding Founder's Day since October 5 came this year on Saturday.

Speaking to the predominantly student-audience, Dr. Carmichael's address continued (the manuscript has been edited slightly for publication) . . . This afternoon a most unusual event occurred. Your chancellor arranged an interview with Dr. Charles Duncan McIver, who was your Founder and first President—from 1891 until his premature death in 1906 at the young age of 45. I shall not embarrass Dr. Blackwell by asking how or why, after all these years, he enticed the spirit of Dr. McIver to return, but I will say my visit with him was most enjoyable. As a matter of fact, I believe that everyone here might enjoy hearing about it.

Naturally, the first question which I asked was for him to tell me something about himself. He said that he, his father, and grandfather before him, grew up on a farm in Moore County, North Carolina. Although the years following the Civil War were desolate, he was privileged to spend his childhood in an atmosphere of a Christian home. He performed his daily labors on the farm, attended church and Sunday School each week, and studied at a private academy in the neighborhood. At 16 years of age he began making plans to attend college. After a talk with his father — for whom he had much respect, love, and admiration — they decided to visit the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill by attending the commencement exercises of 1877. Dr. McIver said, "It was simply a case of love at first sight." He entered the university that fall. So loyal was he to his Alma Mater that for the remainder of his life he missed only one commencement exercise.

After four years of study he was graduated in 1881 with a Bachelor of Arts degree—winning the medal in Greek, and honors in French and Latin. But the best things which he got at the university were knowledge of men and training in leadership.

He confessed that like most young men of his time, upon graduation from college, he took a position as a teacher as a stepping stone to the profession of law. Within a few years, however, he recognized his call to serve in the field of education. He taught at several preparatory schools. In the late 1880's he became an associate director of the teachers' training institutes and finally in 1891, as a culmination of many years' efforts, this fine college was established and he became its first president. He devoted the remainder of his life to this task.

Editor's Note

The imaginary interview with Dr. McIver was used by Dr. Carmichael as a vehicle for the presentation of ideas. The quotations used in this address are a mixture of quotations from Dr. McIver and fictional quotes.

After hearing the story of his life, I asked Dr. McIver, "What was there so unique about the establishment of Woman's College that would differentiate it from the university or any other college of the time? Why was there such a struggle for its establishment?"

... He responded: "My young man, I can sum up the climate of the times and the attitudes of both individuals as well as the leading colleges of the time in one question: 'Why educate a woman?' The single unique feature of Woman's College was that it was established in protest to this statement.

"You would be amazed if you but knew how people felt about the education of women. Why, even Noah Webster, of spelling book fame, defined a good education for women as 'that which renders them correct in their manners, respectable in their families, and agreeable in society—that education is always wrong which raises a woman above the duties of her station.' The general attitude was that women simply could not do college work and that sex differences in mind were insurmountable barriers against which no propaganda for the equality of women could be effective."

DR. McIver continued: "A contemporary of mine who was conducting a fund-raising campaign for the establishment of a college for women received this answer upon discussing the matter with a leading citizen in his community: 'No, I will not give you a dollar; all that a woman needs to know is how to read the New Testament and to spin and weave clothing for her family. . . . I would not have one of your graduates for a wife and I will not give you a cent for any such object.'

"Now the interesting thing was that professors in many educational institutions of the time expressed these same sentiments. For example, in 1888, an amazing incident occurred at Harvard College which illustrates the point, I think:

"Radeliffe College (once the 'Harvard Annex') and Harvard College gave prizes for dissertations. The same subjects were assigned to both the men and women and the same panel of judges awarded the prizes. In the spring of 1888 the two sets of papers became mixed. The judges were not aware of the situation. The top prize of $100 went to E. B. Pearson — who proved to be a student in the 'Annex'."

Dr. Melver . . . continued: ". . . Here (is) a clipping containing a report of this incident. It appeared in the March 24, 1888, edition of the Boston Post.

"So the essay of Miss Pearson was necessarily ruled out of the list, and a prize of $75 was awarded to a young gentleman instead; while Miss Pearson dropped at once from the Bowdoin Prize of $100 to the humbler Annex prize of $30, thus paying $70 outright for the privilege of being a woman.

"The crowning fact which makes the situation amusing is that the venerable Professor Torrey (one of the judges) is one of the few professors who have disapproved of the Annex from the beginning, he having held that neither the brains nor the bodies of women were quite equal to severe study."

Prior to meeting Dr. McIver, I learned some amazing facts about the man: He refused to run for governor of North Carolina when his victory was virtually assured. Twice he refused the presidency of his beloved Alma Mater—the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill—on several occasions he declined other university presidencies, and the head of an educational foundation — he refused persistent business opportunities paying far more than his position at Woman's College.

Knowing these facts, I asked, "Why, at personal sacrifice, did you remain at Woman's College? What were the motivations and ideals which influenced you in these decisions? Why did you cast aside personal ambition and success to continue serving Woman's College?"

... He said, "I believe in every child having an opportunity to go to public school. With regard to politics, I recognize the importance of the issues of the day. — For example: the gold versus the silver standard debate which was the primary issue in the presidential campaign of 1896 was very important, but I was convinced that this issue, as well as many others, was insignificant when compared to fighting for increased educational opportunities for the children of our state. After all, education is the thing that makes our democracy possible. A high standard of intellectual leadership not only determines the present, but the future prosperity of North Carolina.

"Now I suppose you ask why I chose women's education in preference to all other areas of service. Well, first, teachers are the 'seed corn of civilization.'

Since public schools are the vehicle for teaching all of our children and helping them grow up as responsible citizens, qualified teachers must be trained. I was firmly convinced that most of the teachers in these public schools — that we were going to establish—would be women—thus, the importance of training and educating them."

... He continued — "The Necessity of educating women does not stop at this point. Tied together with their role as teacher, women are mothers. Now if you educate a man, you have educated only one person — educate a mother and you educate a whole family. Oftentimes we see an educated man who is the father of illiterate children, but I have never seen illiterate children of an educated mother.

"So you see, both the cheapest and surest road to universal education is to educate the mothers and teachers of future generations. My mission was to point out to the taxpayers that money invested in the education of women yields dividends many times over the original investment — that it is folly to educate only the men of the state to the total exclusion of women. I was convinced that when people recognized that homes and primary schools are the chief forces of civilization, the state of North Carolina would be assured of a bright and prosperous future."

AFTER hearing his wonderful philosophy, I asked: "What are your reactions to the present day status of woman? What things impressed you most about the present day American scene?"

... He replied: "Of course, the material progress made by all of civilization is truly amazing. The results of the industrial revolution which had its beginning at the end of the 19th century could not possibly have been predicted. Automobiles, airplanes — almost every home with a radio or television set — the age of electronics and automation — Yes, modern civilization staggers your imagination. As overwhelming as these developments are — the most significant and far-reaching changes of the past 50 years have occurred in the economic, social, and political status of woman.

"I predicted that most of the teachers in our public schools would be women. Naturally, I am gratified to see that my conclusions were correct, because today 85% of the elementary school teachers and 75% of the secondary school teachers are women.

Continued

Continued

"I remember well the struggles of the women suffragettes who fought for the right to vote — but the results of their efforts went far beyond anything anticipated. Today millions of women are voting and thousands are representing the people in all phases of government — local, state, and even in the United States Congress.

"One of the most fascinating changes in the status of woman has been the increase in property rights and even rights in her children. The English common law which prohibited a married woman's ownership of property was the rule in most of the American states until almost 1900. As late as 1902 the father and mother shared equally in the guardianship of their children in only 9 states and the District of Columbia. The father was not only 'the head of the household' . . . but he also 'owned' the children. Today —if anything—the mother has more legal rights to her children than the father. The changes in property laws and ownership are even more astonishing. According to a recent report, it is estimated that 70%-75% of all stocks, bonds, and real estate ownership are now in the hands of women.

"A Fortune Magazine survey reveals that 80%-85% of all purchases of consumer goods in the United States are made by women.

"As a matter of fact, if I appraise the situation correctly, I don't believe a husband would dare buy a home, household appliances or furniture, or even an automobile without consulting his wife. Having consulted her, he would not be wise in making a purchase over her objections. Of course, women buy the majority of groceries. When you add up these few consumer products alone, Fortune Magazine results are substantiated.

"There has been a virtual 'Revolution' in women's employment. In 1890, 4 million women were employed — this accounting for about 1/6 of the working population. In 1956, 22 million women—almost 1/3 of the civilian labor force — were employed.

"This doesn't tell half the story. In 1890, with the exception of the teaching profession, the great majority of women were unskilled workers and unmarried. Today, 6 out of 10 women who work are married, and they are found in virtually all occupations listed by the Bureau of Census. Hardly any significant field of work carries the tag 'For Men Only'."

Left to right: Burch, Smiley, Shore, Harmon, McIver, the Babingtons, White, Maulden, Donnell, and Blackwell.

Dr. McIver concluded: "Advances in science, a great depression and two world wars, industrialization, and many other factors have contributed significantly to this 'revolution.' However, I am firmly convinced that the most important single factor has been the 'education of women.' Their knowledge and education not only affect women themselves, but also the millions of men whom they have taught in the classrooms. Universal education is the thing which makes human progress possible."

. . . He mused: "The most interesting and in many ways surprising change has been the rapid disappearance of age old social customs. Symbolic of this great change has been the disappearance of the chaperon. For hundreds of years and possibly thousands, women were required to conform to certain rigid patterns and then suddenly during the past 50 years most, if not all, of these restrictive customs have been discarded.

"When I think of a college girl of the nineties and compare her social status to the 1950's, I am truly amazed. I was criticized because of the liberality of our college policies. We even permitted students to go to town once a week—that is, if she obtained permission from home, passed inspection, and was accompanied by one other girl. Of course, she wore gloves, for she did not dare to leave her room without putting them on. She wore a hat on all occasions, even before breakfast if she crossed the campus. We even permitted her boy friends to call at holiday time and one very new policy that we established was to permit her to mail out 'at home' cards. Today there are virtually no such customs for young women, not only in college, but at all age levels."

. . . Realizing that this fascinating story was about to end, I hastened to press the discussion, asking particularly about his wife. He proudly told me several interesting things about her. At an early age, she wanted to be a doctor but she never quite recovered from the shock of learning that being a woman was an insuperable obstacle to attaining her ambition. She had to settle for being a school teacher. As a result of this experience, however, she became an ardent advocate of women's rights. From these early years her convictions had a profound influence upon Dr. McIver.

On one occasion, just prior to their marriage, upon being called on to make an impromptu talk and being at a temporary loss for words, he asked Lula Martin what he should say. She quickly answered, "Talk about women's education." This was the main theme of his speeches throughout the remainder of his life.

Not only was Lula Martin a counselor, but she was a co-worker throughout his career. In the early days she worked untiringly with Dr. McIver in the schoolroom, and later in the summer institutes, which were predecessors to Woman's College. She labored behind the scenes in his struggles with the legislature for the establishment of the college. At the college, Mrs. McIver served in many capacities — often acting as Dr. McIver's secretary, or serving as a diplomatic buffer with the public. She greeted prospective students, parents, newspaper reporters, and visitors. And yet, Dr. McIver said: "She always remained the charming hostess, wife, and mother in the president's home."

AFTER this brief resume, he concluded: "My wife was unusual for her day, as I like to think she would be just as outstanding today. She exemplified the role which every young woman should play if she takes advantage of all opportunities for a full life in marriage and family. Not only was she a mother of four children, but a dedicated partner in my career. My success was due in no small way to her love and devotion.

"If pressed for a truthful answer, many men today would make these same admissions about their wives. Contrary to the popular notion that one's career and home life are separate, it is recognized that they are becoming more and more interdependent. In modern society business, education, the professions — yes, in all walks of life — the role of our wives as partners is being recognized. Not only must a young woman prepare herself for responsibilities of the home and a career, she must be prepared to climb the ladder of success with her husband. Too often this last point is overlooked.

"Before I leave I wish to make a final comment. I am truly proud of the tremendous growth of Woman's College. I can hardly realize that from such a small beginning she is the largest residential woman's college in America. But even more important, I am proud that throughout all the years from 1906-1957, with the many changes in the educational, social, economic, and political status of women, this college continues to serve upon the same foundations which were originally laid. Woman's College is still committed to the principle that the real worth of a college is 'the mental and spiritual atmosphere of the place.' She maintains that both 'liberal and practical education should be combined in a single individual as well as in a single institution,' and that 'the primary purpose of a college is to give such education as will add to the efficiency of the average woman in whatever walk of life her lot may be cast.'

"As I look into the future, I know this great college will meet the challenges of the new day. Throughout her history, the state's expansion in population and economy has been reflected in the College, and conversely, the College's progressive thinking has been reflected in the state. 'They are partners in progress.'"

... His story echoed in my ears — I thought of the words of Ralph Waldo Emerson: "An institution is the lengthened shadow of one man."

Part II: Statue

ON Saturday morning at 10:00, students, faculty, and a few Alumnae gathered for a commemorative service in front of McIver Building at the statue of Dr. McIver. Chancellor Gordon Blackwell presided at the service, and class and college representatives placed flowers at the base of the statue as symbols of respect and gratitude. Mary Jane Smiley of Salisbury, Julie Shore of Winston-Salem, and Diana Harmon of Greensboro, presidents of the senior, junior, and sophomore classes, respectively, represented their classmates. Betty Nash McIver of North Wilkesboro, great-niece of Dr. McIver and granddaughter of Catharine (Nash) Pitcher, represented the freshmen. And Helen and Robin Babington, twin daughters of Helen (Howe) Babington of Gastonia, represented the Commercial students. Percy Donnell, who has been on the College staff since 1914 and is the oldest employee in point of service, represented the College. The Woman's College Band also participated in the service.

Part III: Cornerstone

AT the conclusion of the service at the statue, attention was shifted to McIver Building itself. As the first concrete sign that the building will be demolished and replaced by a million dollar structure on the same site to be called the McIver Memorial Building, the cornerstone, laid with Masonic ceremonies during the commencement exercises of 1908, was removed. Jacks and crowbars pushed the heavy granite stone onto an especially constructed platform, and the copper box fitted into the stone, was opened.

The documents concerning the College and Dr. McIver, which had been placed in the box fifty years ago, were removed by Katherine White of Dunn, president of the Student Government Association; Julia (Watson) Maulden, president of the Alumnae Association; and Jane Summerell, a member of the faculty and a marshal at the cornerstone laying service. Mr. Wendell M. Murray, College Business Manager, received the items, identified them for the audience, and turned them over to Mr. Charles Adams, College Librarian, for safekeeping.

The contents included: a copy of the Charles Duncan McIver Memorial volume, copies of the Raleigh News and Observer, The Progressive Farmer, The Charlotte Observer, The Greensboro Patriot, The Greensboro Record, The Greensboro Telegraph, The Daily Industrial News, the college catalogues for the years 1892-93 and 1907-08, and a copy of the Bible. Also a copy of the McIver Family Tree, a 1908 commencement program, a class roll for the year 1908, a copy of the college prospectus, a copy of the State Normal magazine, the Westminster Shorter Catechism, a roll of the General Assembly of Presbyterian Churches in the United States, and the proceedings of the Grand Lodge, Masonic Order.

It is planned that the same cornerstone will be used for the new McIver Building, and many of the original contents will be redeposited in it, as will be significant material about today's Woman's College. The first brick removed from the opening around the cornerstone was sent to the Consolidated Office of the University of North Carolina, to be presented by President William C. Friday to Dr. W. W. Pierson, who last year, as Acting-Chancellor of the College, was very active in efforts to secure an appropriation for the new building.

Left to right: Katherine White, Business Manager Murray (foreground), Miss Summerell, and Mrs. Maulden.

IT is customary for Chapter news to be presented alphabetically, that is, from B for Buncombe to V for Richmond, Virginia, but for this issue, W comes first, for Washington County. And here's why: the Washington County Chapter, formed on September 30, is our first brand-newly formed group in over two years . . . pride prompts its being listed first.

Frankie (Davis) Hassell '47, who was elected secretary of the group, was instrumental in arranging for the first meeting, held in the Agricultural Building in Plymouth. Sue Underhill '30 was elected chairman, and serving with her, in addition to Frankie, will be Thelma (Getsinger) Barden '28, vice-chairman and co-social chairman; Mary Frances (Misenheimer) Darden '31, co-social chairman, and Mary Olivia (Burbage) Campbell '11, program committee chairman. Much reminiscing about the past and much planning for the future took place at the meeting. Washington County-ites, be on the lookout for publicity about a dinner meeting in April. And bon voyage, Washington County Chapter . . . we're glad to have you a-board.

Instead of skipping back from W to the alphabetical-first, let's follow the Chapter meeting calendar. Bright and early in October (the first), Jane (Thompson) Davis '43 arranged an Alumnae - Dutch - luncheon - gathering in Lumberton, the special purpose being to meet Sadye Dunn, the College's first full-time Field Representative. This gathering cannot quite be called a Robeson County Chapter meeting, but maybe it will promote the serious consideration of a bona fide chapter there before long.

New Hanover County's Chapter had three busy and very successful days, October 7-9. Sadye Dunn was in Wilmington during this time. Before we begin the October report in detail, may we insert a little "back news" to the effect that in early summer Camilla (Griffin) Herlevich '45 was elected Chapter chairman; "Rusty" (Carson) Garner '47, vice-chairman; Peggy (Hill) Seitter '55, secretary; and Lettie (Gwynn) Dannenbaum '28, treasurer. These folks "engineered" the three busy days. Twenty-two people met for dinner in the Azalea Room of the H&W Restaurant on Monday night to meet Sadye and to hear up-to-date news from the College. On Tuesday, arrangements had been made for Sadye to visit Wilmington College and to visit around the city. On Wednesday morning, Sadye talked with between 30 and 40 New Hanover High School seniors about the Woman's College, and in the afternoon after school these girls came to a chapter-sponsored Coke Party at Janet (Weil) Bluethenthal's '12x home. "Operation Wilmington" proved of tremendous mutual benefit for Sadye, the College, the Alumnae Association, and the New Hanover Chapter.

A Chapter which has been drowsy for two years "revived" on October 14 . . . the Scotland County Chapter in Laurinburg. The group had a good reason for meeting; Sadye Dunn was coming to their town. Grace Evelyn (Loving) Gibson '40 discussed preliminary plans for the revival with a small group; they decided to have a covered-dish supper and Chapter meeting in the social hall of the First Methodist Church. Sadye met with them, and during the evening officers were elected. Word has drifted back that Martha (Fowler) McNair '49 was elected chairman, but the names of the other officers are not yet available. May we say . . . Welcome back, Scotland!

CHANCELLOR Gordon Blackwell began his 1957-58 Alumnae circuit tour here in Greensboro on October 16 . . . and the occasion is one which we shall all remember for a long time. Plans for this meeting began in the late summer when the Greensboro Chapter officers (Janice (Hooke) Moore '44, chairman; Gladys (Sessoms) Elmore '43, vice-chairman; Nancy (Edmunds) Hannah '46, secretary; and Fay (Sylvester) Arnold '53, treasurer) met together. These officers did two promising things: they asked Clarence (Boren) Jones '49 and Jane (Banner) Kelly '49 to serve as luncheon chairmen, and they decided to form a Greensboro Chapter Council, with Greensboro-resident representatives from each class as members. This Council, organized by Janie (Brooks) Grantham '49, Carol (Byrd) Sellars '51, and Nancy (Bogart) Kabrick '51, met in late September, talked over plans and "ways and means." And quite obviously, the group went to work, because an astounding number of Alumnae, with non-Alumnae guests . . . 145 in all, lunched together on the 16th at the Greensboro Country Club. Dr. and Mrs. Blackwell and Charlotte (Koonce) Murray '30, wife of the new College Business Manager, were their guests, and Dr. Blackwell, the speaker.

Another promising thing happened at the luncheon. Tickets for a Chapter-sponsored Tour of Kitchens were distributed to members of the Council. A Tour committee, co-chaired by Marion (Adams) Smith '49 and Margaret (Johnson) Watson '48, has arranged for some 12 private kitchens (including the Chancellor's here on campus), the College Home Economics Department's demonstration kitchens, and the College Kitchen to be open "for inspection" on Wednesday, November 20 . . . a kitchen-y time just before Thanksgiving. The bargain price of a tour ticket is $1.00, and proceeds will constitute the 1957-58 contribution to the Greensboro Chapter Scholarship Fund, which, by the way, has amounted to $500 for each of the two preceding years. Alumnae and their friends in neighboring towns, villages, and cities are most cordially invited "to tour." Tickets will be mailed, postpaid, upon request to the Alumnae Office. Come and bring a carload!

In Fayetteville on October 16, Josephine (Hunter) Deem '53 and the Cumberland County Chapter arranged a Coke Party to afford Sadye Dunn, who was visiting in their town, an opportunity to meet informally the high school girls who were interested in hearing about the Woman's College. Sadye, backed-up by local Chapter members, met the girls at Elsie (Rouse) Wilson's '43 home. This occasion was not a substitute for a full-fledged Chapter meeting . . . that's coming-up. Keep reading.

The second stop on Dr. Blackwell's circuit was in Dunn on Saturday morning, October 19. The Harnett County Chapter had a Coffee Hour at Nell Barefoot's '42 home, and a goodly group came to meet Dr. Blackwell, Sadye Dunn, and Barbara Parrish. In addition to hearing the new Chancellor speak, the Coffee Hour provided an opportunity for the attenders to talk informally with "the College delegation." Ophelia Matthews '30 is the chairman of the Chapter.

THE HARNETT meeting brings us up-to-date on October 21, but there's much more to come. Before magazine delivery time Sadye Dunn will have joined the members of the Richmond, Virginia, Chapter at a Coffee Hour at Dovie (Kinlaw) Lee's '40 home. Jean (Flanagan) Bynum '48, Chapter chairman, is currently making arrangements for this gathering on October 28. And Dr. Blackwell will have met with a group in New York City. June Rainey '52 is arranging for a dinner meeting on October 29 at Lottie's Dogwood Room (there's real Southern cooking here, including hot biscuits and apple butter).

Sadye Dunn will be in Atlanta, Georgia, from November 4-8, and we beieve that Mary (Archer) Dietz '46 and the other Chapter officers are planning a meeting for the evening of November 5.

In the meantime in North Carolina, Celeste Ulrich '46, a member of the College's Physical Education faculty, will meet with the Rowan County Chapter on November 6. Martha Dell (Purvis) Hudson '47 is the Chapter chairman. Rowan Alumnae, call her . . . Mrs. Thomas Hudson in Salisbury, for full details.

Dr. and Mrs. Blackwell will meet with the Cumberland County Chapter at the Highland County Country Club on November 8. You, Cumberland Alumnae, contact Josephine (Hunter) Deem, the Chapter chairman, for details . . . telephone HUDson 4-9919.

On November 18 the Blackwells will dine in a private dining room of the S&W Cafeteria with the Alumnae in Mecklenburg County. Eleanor (Kershner) Campbell '39 is Chapter chairman there, and Mecklenburg Alumnae should call her (Mrs. John S. Campbell) in Charlotte for details. By the way, two new officers were installed at the Chapter's summer picnic to work with Eleanor and Eleanor (Strong) Barkley '46, the secretary: Betty Louise (Howser) Surratt '44, vice-president, and Mary Agnes (Cochrane) Ward '44, treasurer.

President of the Alumnae Association Julia Maulden will meet with the Wake County Chapter in the Student Union at State College on November 19. Undine (Nye) LeGrand '42 writes that shortly after November 1, full details about this gathering will be mailed. All Wake Alumnae . . . be on the lookout for this information.

AND you in Forsyth and Randolph counties, stand-by . . . you will be hearing from your Chapter officers. We hope that Dr. and Mrs. Blackwell will be able to arrange to visit with you before long.

Mae (Lovelace) Tomlinson '07 (Mrs. Charles F.) is working toward a meeting of High Point Alumnae after Christmas and before spring activities pick-up. Indications of interest in and around High Point have been encouraging . . . call Mrs. Tomlinson if you have suggestions.

And finally, to you in Lee County . . . Helen (High) Dusenbury '51 (Mrs. Philip E.) is interested in organizing a Lee County Chapter. If you would like to incorporate your interest with hers, call her in Sanford, and before long, let's have a repeat of the Washington County story.

Forum

Continued

came to the United States in 1919. She received a master's degree in international law from Yale University and a Ph.D. from Radcliffe College. She has taught at Smith College, the University of Rochester, Barnard, Harvard, and Mills College.

The author, lecturer, and expert on international affairs has been research director of the Foreign Policy Association since 1938. Among her books are "The United States and Russia," published in 1950, and "Foreign Policy Without Fear." She not only edits the FPA Bulletin and Headline Series, but regularly contributes articles to them and to other publications.

BERTRAM D. WOLFE, since 1934 a writer on history and political science, has made three trips to Russia and has been a personal acquaintance of various Soviet leaders including Stalin, Molotov, Bukharin, Zinoviev and Trotsky.

During the Korean War he interrupted his writing career to set-up for the U. S. State Department an Ideological Advisory Staff, serving as its chief for three years. He is a contributor to the Symposium to be published this fall by St. Anthony's College, Oxford, on "Changes in the Soviet Union Since Stalin's Death." His work is entitled "The Durability of Despotism in the Soviet System."

Since 1939 Wolfe has been engaged in writing a history of the Russian Revolution, of which the first volume, "Three Who Made A Revolution," was a 1948 bestseller. Two more volumes are contemplated, to be called "The Seizure of Power" and "The Uses of Power." Special studies on the power question were published early this year as "Six Keys To The Soviet System."

A grauate of City College of New York, and Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the University of Mexico and Columbia University, Wolfe has three times been a Guggenheim Fellow, Senior Fellow in Slavic Studies at Stanford University, a senior fellow at the Russian Institute of Columbia University, and a research assistant on the Russian Communist Party History Project of the Ford Foundation and Columbia University.

His latest book, "Khrushchev and Stalin's Ghost," was published last year. Schuman, the third Forum speaker, disagrees sharply with Wolfe on the future for Russia, but concedes that his analyses are "astute" and his defense of his point of view "masterly."

AS a political historian and chronicler of international diplomacy, it is said of Frederick L. Schuman, "Professor Schuman remains peerless." The third Forum speaker has taught political science at the University of Chicago, Harvard, Cornell, Columbia, and the University of California.

Of his several books on Russia the latest, just out, "Russia Since 1917," has had widely varied reviews but all critics agree that it stimulates thought.

During World War II Schuman was principal political analyst of the Foreign Broadcast Intelligence Service of the Federal Communications Commission. He has been awarded fellowships by the Social Science Research Council, the American Academy of Political and Social Science, and the Foundation for World Government.

In his extensive lectures, articles, and books, five years before the event, he predicted World War II and forecast that the "Cold War" would not result in World War III but in a negotiated peace.

During the two-day forum at Woman's College the three speakers will present their views on the topic, and audience questions will be answered and discussed.

Bertram Wolfe opens the November 14 session at 8 p.m., speaking on "Russia Since Stalin," historical background for the discussion. Frederick Schuman will continue the program on Friday morning with a talk on "Russian Policy Toward the United States," and the final session will feature Vera Dean on "U. S. Policy Toward Russia." Roundtable discussions Friday afternoon will provide time for informal meeting with the speakers.

Thanksgiving-y

ONE of the "tested recipes" in Time for Refreshments, published by Elliott Hall, is Cranberry Punch for 50:

Cranberries	2 lbs.
Water	2½ qts.
Whole Cloves	12
Sugar	2 lbs.
Lemon Juice	1¼ cup
Orange Juice	5 cups

Boil cranberries, water and cloves together until cranberries are soft. Press through a colander, add sugar and fruit juices. Serve hot or cold. Variations: When served cold, water may be decreased and ginger-ale added just before serving. Apple cider may also be substituted for the orange juice.

Knowing just where to begin when there's so much to report and announce is always a problem. I was in the midst of this dilemma when Evon Dean, who works here in the Alumnae Office with me, came in with the Alumnae Fund report for the "daisy page" on the back of the front cover. As important as the figure itself is, it is not the important thing. This is the encouraging news: with two more months to go before the close of the current fiscal year, contributions for 1957 already top those of 1956 by $191.37. And to date, 52 more Alumnae have contributed than did last year. We slid back a-ways in contributions and contributors in 1956, you'll remember . . . and it's mighty encouraging to know now in October that such will not be 1957's story. We've a long way to go to match the alumnae annual giving records of the large colleges for women with whom we feel that Woman's College is definitely in the running, but time and continued and increased support can change this story.

Julia says in her note to you on this page that "she'll see you on February 1." That's the date of the Mid-Winter Meeting of the Alumnae Association . . . 12:30 p.m. on Saturday, February 1. As Julia says, it's really mid-winter this year. We decided that you would be able to come a little easier after all the Christmas to-do is over. As soon as the grocer or the service station operator sends you a 1958 calendar, circle February 1 . . . reserve it for the Woman's College. And as soon after Christmas as we think that the Post Office has had time to deliver its backlog of mail, we'll send you a reservation card for the luncheon-meeting. From the looks of things now, we'll lunch and meet in the Mary Frances Stone Building of Home Economics. This will give you an opportunity to become acquainted with this building as you have with Elliott Hall.

And speaking of Julia Maulden . . . you who saw her biographical sketches in the April and July issues of the NEWS know that she is among the country's most active leaders in Girl Scouting. During the summer she was appointed to a position about which I believe that you'd like to know. She was named for a three-year term as the one and only United States representative on the Constitutions Standing Committee of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts. The chief duties of this committee are to study the constitutions of countries seeking admission to the World Association and to make recommendations as to when applying countries are ready for Tenderfoot membership or full membership. There are six members of the committee from six different countries, and the group meets once or twice each year (possibly next in London). For the life of me, I don't know which I'm happier for . . . Julia or the Constitutions Committee.

Preliminary to the Mid-Winter Meeting a slate of officers must be prepared by the Nominating Committee. This group, representing all areas of the state, will be working during November and December, and anyone of them (listed below) will appreciate your suggestions as to nominees for First Vice-President and the Alumnae Board of Trustees.

Mrs. Edwin A. Hubbard, Chairman
(Dorothy Bell '40)
504 Caribton Road
Sanford, N. C.

Mrs. J. P. Beckwith
(Heath Long '35)
Warrenton, N. C.

Mrs. Brown Lane
(Emmie Dark '43)
522 W. Elk Street
Siler City, N. C.

Mrs. W. T. Mason, Jr.
(Marietta Allen '56)
933½ Carr Street
Greensboro, N. C.

Mrs. John E. Raper
(Sarah Gulley '26)
406 Rollingwood Circle
Fayetteville, N. C.

Charlesanna Fox '30
412 Sunset Avenue
Asheboro, N. C.

Mrs. Robert M. Jones
(Anne Holmes '44)
6122 Lansing Drive
Charlotte, N. C.

Mrs. Luther Herring
(Nettie Brogden '08)
505 E. Fourth Street
Greenville, N. C.

Mrs. Walter H. Moore
(Marilyn McCollum '49)
Box 148
Reidsville, N. C.

Mrs. Samuel J. Ervin, III
(Betty Crawford '50)
115 Ervin Road
Morganton, N. C.

Mrs. Carl J. Sink
(Mary Elizabeth Barwick '44)
5 Jarnaul Avenue
Asheville, N. C.

Nell Barefoot '42
300 W. Harnett Street
Dunn, N. C.

Mrs. A. E. Smith
(Emily Chappel '47x)
2804 Highland Drive
Wilmington, N. C.

Mrs. Phillip E. Brintnall
(Lucille Farmer '34)
Box 275
Bryson City, N. C.

Have you heard? There is more than the tang of autumn in the air as I write this: there is news! The College-Alumnae Conference in September started a lot of wheels turning in a lot of heads. (Hearts, too, we hope!)

Come to Mid-Winter Meeting . . . hooray, it's really mid this time, and we'll swap ideas with you. If you're short on ideas, we'll share.

See you on February 1.

Julia Maulden

Mrs. Sam H. Beard
(Libby Bass '47)
2519 Kenmore Drive
Raleigh, N. C.

Ruth Henry '26
606 Joyner Street
Greensboro, N. C.

Sarah Wilson Jones '38
301 McIver Street, Apt. 5
Greensboro, N. C.

Mrs. John B. Norwood
(Jane Umstead '39)
345 Dabney Drive
Henderson, N. C.

Mrs. H. J. Brown, Jr.
(Mary Winston '34)
Ahoskie, N. C.

What are your dreams for the Woman's College by the year 2000, and what can be done today, and during the next 43 years, to help with the realization of these dreams? These were the first two questions asked of some 35 Alumnae who were invited to attend the first College-Alumnae Pre-School Conference in September. Unfortunately the College could not manage housing and feeding for all of us 24,500 Alumnae, so a representative group including the Alumnae Association Officers (current and just retired), Alumnae on the University Board of Trustees, Chapter Chairmen (past and present), Associational Committee Chairmen (current and just retired), and past presidents of the Association for several terms back, met for two days to discuss how the Alumnae may more effectively serve the College.

Since our conference was held at the same time as the student leaders', we were able to meet together for several sessions . . . to learn more about what today's students are thinking and working toward. For our separate sessions, we combined the advice of guest experts and the devices of group-technique in our exploration of three College-Alumnae areas of cooperation: a College Development Program (University of North Carolina's Vice-President and Finance Officer William D. Carmichael, Jr., guest); Public Relations (Sweet Briar College's Director of Public Relations

Continued on page 33

McIver of North Carolina. Rose Howell Holder. The University of North Carolina Press. $5.00.

Few colleges or universities are privileged to have a founder of such stature as Charles Duncan McIver. Though respected by the state during his lifetime, the impact of his contribution to education in North Carolina and to the women of North Carolina becomes stronger with the passing of time. His shadow lengthens as his native state becomes conscious of the great gift that he gave North Carolina—not only his leadership, but his life.

A book about McIver is long overdue. Frances Gibson Satterfield wrote a timely and excellent brochure about him in 1942, on the occasion of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the College.

Now Rose Howell Holder, who spent many years as a resident of Greensboro, and a great admirer of McIver and his work, has produced McIVER OF NORTH CAROLINA, in which she brings to life, vividly, the man who early dedicated his life to education, and never swerved from his purpose through the brief lifetime that he had to give his state.

Mrs. Holder beams her book more at the man, perhaps, than at his work — though it would be difficult to separate the two. McIver was the fight for education. And the fight for education was McIver, assisted by a group of zealous young men who were determined to pull their state out of the condition of illiteracy that prevailed at the turn of the century—20 whites out of every hundred over 14 years of age were unable to read and write.

McIver's greatest concern was about women. He considered them the capstone of the family, the capstone of the educational scene. Without an educated mother a family would suffer. Without trained teachers the whole public school system and the state would suffer. Women were born to be teachers. Q. E. D. Educate the women of North Carolina!

McIver was a crusader for education, a public relations expert, a loyal friend, a devoted family man, an excellent speaker, a tireless worker. He was offered positions that would have given him wealth and prestige—he could have been a University president, he could have run for governor, he could have gone into business with the way paved, but he never thought of accepting any of the tempting offers. With the support and devotion and encouragement of his wife, he continued toward the goal he had long before set for himself — the education of the women of North Carolina.

Mrs. Holder has captured the human quality of Charles Duncan McIver. She has brought forth the husband, father, college president, crusader, loyal friend. The family of Dr. McIver made it possible for her to read his letters, which have been of great help to her, and of interest to the reader. A number of people who knew him personally are still living and Mrs. Holder has talked with them.

McIVER OF NORTH CAROLINA is a timely book and one that will be of great value in interpreting the development of education in North Carolina. It will also trace the shadow of a great man, as it falls benevolently across the campus and that state that he loved.

Virginia (Terrell) Lathrop '23

McIver of North Carolina

by Rose Howell Holder

To the Alumnae Office
Woman's College, UNC
Greensboro, North Carolina

Order Blank

Please send me _____ copy (copies) of the biography of Dr. Charles Duncan McIver, entitled McIVER OF NORTH CAROLINA, by Rose Howell Holder, @ $5.00 per copy.

() I am enclosing a check.

() I shall remit upon receipt of the book.

Signed _____

Date _____ Address _____

Profits from the sale of McIver of North Carolina by the Alumnae Office will be credited to the Alumnae Fund.

Miss Edith Harwood
(October 16, 1957)

Miss Harwood was a member of the Woman's College Registrar's Office Staff from 1920 until her resignation last year.

A graduate of Berea College in Kentucky, where she was buried, she had long been interested in music and art.

Miss Harwood had remained at her residence on South Mendenhall Street in Greensboro since her resignation. She was, however, at the home of a brother in Norwalk, Ohio, when she died.

In Memoriam

Eliza (Hodges) Frazier, 1897x

Alice V. Wilson 1898x
(July 21, 1957)

Clee Winstead 1898

Hattie Everett 1900

Mary (Winbourne) Skinner 1900

Emily Semple Austin 1901x
(September 24, 1957)

Em Austin, as she was affectionately called by her contemporaries, (Miss Em, to many later Woman's College Alumnae), was selected by State Normal President Charles Duncan McIver before her graduation from the College to be his secretary. From her student and presidential secretarial days, she remained a devoted friend of the College. A charter member of the Alumnae Association, its first treasurer, and a former member of its Board of Trustees, she returned for commencement almost every year from 1907 when she left Greensboro to return to Tarboro until she became physically unable to travel. She served for six years as a member of the Board of Trustees of the University of North Carolina.

Her energies contributed greatly to her native Tarboro. She was associated for thirty-seven years with the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company, and for 18 years before her retirement in 1944, she was assistant treasurer of the company . . . the first woman to hold this position. She was treasurer of Tarboro's First Baptist Church for more than 25 years. In 1920 she was a charter member of the Edgecomb Public Library Board, and its first and only treasurer.

" . . . be it said that she was a happy, jolly, unhurried, modest person, who laughingly said that she had done only the things which she enjoyed doing. This may well have been the secret of her success, for she loved people and enjoyed doing for them. . . "

In 1951 Miss Em established the Emily S. Austin Loan Fund at the Woman's College. This fund has made college education possible for a number of students . . . its influence will be a continuing one.

Annie Woltz 1902 Commercial

Anna E. Hardin 1903x

Annie (McIver) Young 1905
(July 1, 1957)

From its founding as the State Normal and Industrial School, Annie McIver Young has been close to the Woman's College. Daughter of the founder, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Duncan McIver, she moved with her family to the President's home on the campus in October, 1892.

After her graduation in 1905, Annie remained at the College to teach at the Training School. For the 1907-08 session she was in residence at Vassar College, but she returned to the College and the Training School in 1908 where she remained until her marriage to Mr. James R. Young in 1913.

She served as president of the Alumnae Association from 1911-13. A resident of Greensboro since the 1892 move of her family, she served a term as chairman of the Guilford County Chapter of the Association.

Orie (Lee) Vanstory 1906x

Mamie Lee (Sechrest) Gurley 1908x
(May 15, 1957)

Zora (Hannah) Gresham 1911
(August 30, 1957)

Marguerite Galloway 1918
(June 29, 1957)

For the last ten years Marguerite Galloway had been supervisor of field services at the Bureau of Assistance, Division of Welfare of the State Department of Institutions and Agencies in New York. Before she moved to Trenton, N. J., where she was living at the time of her death, she had lived in North Carolina and had taught school. At one time she was church visitor for the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant in Greensboro.

Addie Louise Johnston 1922x
(August 2, 1956)

Virginia (Barker) Moffitt 1928
(September 23, 1957)

A member of the Asheboro City Schools faculty until 1947, Virginia Barker Moffitt, who had majored in mathematics at the College, became associated with the McLaurin Hosiery Mills, a division of Burlington Industries, in Asheboro.

Rena (Cole) Parks '24 and her husband, J. Rankin Parks, III, and daughter, Serena, have established a loan fund at the Woman's College in memory of Virginia Barker Moffitt.

This fund is to be used by students who have financial needs, with preference being given to such students from Asheboro, which was Virginia's hometown.

Charlotte (Debnam) Barnes 1942
Commercial
(October 20, 1957)

Although she was born in Raleigh, Charlotte Debnam Barnes spent most of her life in Greensboro. She and her husband and son were living in Greensboro with her parents at the time of her death.

Margaret (Potts) Purchase 1945
(August 31, 1957)

In addition to her degree from the Woman's College, Margaret Purchase held a master's degree in special education from the University of Wisconsin, and she had done further graduate study at Newark and Montclair State Teachers College, Seton Hall University, Columbia University, and the University of Chicago. She was a nationally recognized teacher of braille and for ten years prior to her death she had taught the primary braille class in Newark.

A member of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education sorority, she had been on the Board of the Newark Chapter of International Council of Exceptional Children and was chairman of the Primary Teachers Department of the American Association of the Blind.

A tribute to Margaret by her associates in the Presbyterian Church of Upper Montclair, New Jersey, contained these words: "Early in life she determined to be a teacher of the blind. This objective dominated her student life and she carefully selected colleges and universities where she could find teachers and courses best adapted for her career. Equipped with a brilliant, well organized, orderly mind, she soon became an authority in the field of instruction of the blind. She was a natural in the teaching profession. Her pupils will long remember her engaging phrases and her vivid word pictures adapted for her precious pupils deprived of their sight."

Dinah Lee Heath 1954 Commercial
(September 6, 1957)

A resident of Greensboro and a graduate of Curry School, Dinah Lee Heath was associated with the Accounting Department of Burlington Industries at the time of her death. She had been working with Burlington for three years.

Janet (Greene) Stokes 1955x

A native of Boone, Janet Greene Stokes lived most of her life in Greensboro. Her death followed an illness of eighteen months.

News Notes

'96 (Old Guard Reunion on May 31, 1958)

Annie Maie (Pittman) Hartsell, who taught for many years and who received her master's degree from Columbia University, makes her home at 400 S. Edgeworth Street, Greensboro. "I've been married fifty-five years and am posing as a nurse for my husband, who fell and broke a leg several months ago."

'98 (Old Guard Reunion on May 31, 1958)

Bessie Harding was hoping "to get a peep at Woman's College" when she attended the W.C.T.U. State Convention in High Point during October.

Florence Pannill recently spent two months in New York City, where she studied art under Mrs. Margaret McD. Phillips.

'00 (Old Guard Reunion on May 31, 1958)

Annie (Kizer) Bost is at her home, 100 N. Bloodworth Street, Raleigh, following recent hospitalization at the Memorial Hospital in Chapel Hill.

Avila (Lindsay) Lowe's address is No. 8 Circle Drive, Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla. Mrs. Lowe was visiting in Greensboro on October 5, and came to the College campus for the Founder's Day Observance.

'07 (Old Guard Reunion on May 31, 1958)

Mary Exum, along with her sisters, Carrie (Exum) Brown, class of '13, and Iola Exum 1897, spent the summer at their cottage on Atlantic Beach.

Florence Gray, formerly of Blackey, Ky., lives in Carthage.

A portrait of Inez (Koonce) Stacy, of Chapel Hill, first dean of women at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, was presented to the University in October.

'12

Lucille (Middleton) Ivey's address is 106 Colville Road, Alson Court 31B, Charlotte.

'13

(Next Class Reunion on May 31, 1958)
The Historical Book Club held its tenth annual Town Meeting on Books in Greensboro on October 8. Walter Spearman, the University of North Carolina journalism professor this year a visiting scholar at Harvard, was moderator. With emphasis being put on history, the following authors spoke: Mrs. Glenn P. Holder of Baltimore, Md., author of "McIver of North Carolina," Dr. Frank G. Slaughter of Jacksonville, Fla., author of many best seller novels, and David Stick, historian of the Outer Banks. Clara Booth Byrd is president of the Book Club.

'14

Maud (Bunn) Battle's daughter, Laura Maud, was to be married in Rocky Mount on October 26 to Emerson Clarence Winstead, Jr.

'16

Addie (Kluttz) Stutts lives at 2325 Englewood Avenue, Durham.

Sadie (McBrayer) McCain, who retired as Dean of Women at Flora Macdonald College, lives at 1601 Highland Street, Wilson.

'17

Estelle (Dillon) Babcock is housemother at Phi Beta Phi Sorority House, the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Artelee Puett teaches at James A. Gray High School, Winston-Salem.

'18 Cornelia Brady lives at 408 Church Street, Wilmington.

Elizabeth (Rountree) Simpson has moved from Memphis, Tenn., to 1614 N. W. 12 Road, Gainesville, Fla.

'19 Dr. Ezda Deviney has been appointed interim professor of biology at Coker College, Harts-ville, S. C.

Lillie (Kearns) Michael, 206 N. Orange Avenue, Sarasota, Fla., writes "We are very fortunate to have all of our children and grand-children living in Sarasota, except my oldest daughter, Virginia, who lives in Tampa."

Annie Lee (Stafford) Greenfield, Kernersville, says that she has been enjoying an arm chair trip to Europe with her daughter, Sallie, who spent three months there.

Adelaide (VanNoppen) How-ard, who lives in Tuscaloosa, Ala., where her husband teaches at the University of Alabama, recently accompanied her husband to the convention of the men of the Pres-byterian Church, U. S., in Miami, Fla.

'20 Maude (Long) Few's husband is pastor of Myers Park Methodist Church, Charlotte.

Winnie (Smith) McKinney is permanently settled in High Point at 2014 West Rotary Drive.

Sadie (Somers) Oplinger's hus-band is pastor of the East Monroe and Turner Presbyterian Churches, Monroe.

Carrie (Tabor) Stevens, Council, recently wrote: "Mr. Stevens and I are planning a trip to the James-town Exposition, from there to Philadelphia for a few days, then back to Washington, D. C. During August we visited Crossnore School and had a personal inter-view with Dr. Mary Martin Sloop."

'21 Alena Rhyne's address is Box 264, Dallas.

'22 (Next Class Reunion on May 31, 1958) Ruby (Hodgin) Parnell manages two cafeterias in the Richmond, Va. City Schools. "My son is an aeronautical engineer in California. My daughter works in First Merchants Bank in Rich-mond. We live together in Chester, a village near Richmond.

'23 (Next Class Reunion on May 31, 1958) Virginia (Terrell) Lathrop's son, Terry, was married to Frances Ann Anthony, August 24, in Gastonia. Ann is a graduate of Meredith College, where she received bachelor of arts degrees in both piano and public school music. Terry, a 1957 honor graduate of State College, is employed in Asheville as an engineer by the N. C. State Highway Commission. He expects to begin active duty with the U. S. Air Force in December. While at State, he was cadet colonel commanding the Air Force ROTC Wing and was editor of the student newspaper.

Autumn-ish

ONE of the "tested recipes" in Time for Refreshments, published by Elliott Hall, is Cider Punch for 50:

Cider or apple juice	1 gallon
3" sticks of cinnamon	4
Whole cloves	24
Pineapple juice	1 qt.
Orange juice	1 qt.
Lemon juice	1 qt.
Crushed pineapple	1 lg. can
Ginger ale	3 qts.

Simmer 2 cups of the cider with spices in a saucepan about 15 minutes. Cool and remove spices. Chill juices until icy cold. Combine all ingredients. Pour into a punch bowl. Add a block of ice. Garnish with thin slices of orange and mara-schino cherry halves.

'24 (Next Class Reunion on May 31, 1958) Berta (Coltrane) McBane, a teacher in the Pittsboro school, and her daughter, Rebekah, sailed on the SS United States in August for the United Kingdom, where Berta is teaching this year under the international exchange program of the State Department.

Martha (Hamilton) Morgan is teach-ing again in the History Department at Converse College, Spartanburg, S. C. "Our son, Elford, will be a senior at Davidson, and our son, Charles, a fresh-man at Princeton."

'25 (Next Class Reunion on May 31, 1958) Elizabeth (Duffy) Bridgers, member of the Woman's College Faculty, says: "At the meeting of the American Psychological Association in New York, September, 1957, I presented a paper in a symposium entitled "Behavioral Arousal," sponsored by the Division of Experimental Psychology. The three other participants came from McGill University, Indiana University, and the Fels Research Institute of Antioch Col-lege. I also served as chairman for a session of papers presented by the Division of Personality and Social Psychology."

Kate Hyder lives at 789 Harvard Avenue, New Haven, Conn.

Ruth (Mason) Ippolito, formerly of Coronado, Calif., is at Meade Heights School, Ft. Meade, Md.

Mary Belo (Moore) Carlyle's husband delivered the summer school commence-ment address at Wake Forest College in Winston-Salem.

Margaret (Thornton) Clover recently made a 38-day South American cruise. The Clovers divide yearly residence be-tween Sao Paulo, Brazil, and Scarsdale, N. Y.

Sybil Dean (Wilson) Vann teaches U. S. History at the Junior High School in Greenville, S. C. "I enjoy that and the student teacher supervision (students from Furman University). Mr. Vann continues in his profession (C.P.A.) here. Our son, Daniel Vann, III, was grad-uated from the University of North Carolina in June and is now doing graduate work at Yale."

'26 Sarah (Franklin) Brisker teaches at Chamberlain Vocational High School, Washington, D. C. "My daughter, Lisa, is a senior in high school, and my son, Henry enters junior high. He won the American Legion Award and was valedictorian."

Mary Elizabeth (Gary) Ingram lives at 100 Trenmen Terrace, Winter Park, Fla.

Frances (Harrison) Cunningham's husband is with Key Tobacco Company in Winston-Salem. They have four chil-dren, a son in the Navy, a daughter who is a junior at Salem College, where she is majoring in music, a son in high school, and one in elementary school. Frances stays busy with church and civic activities.

Mildred (Little) Hendrix's daughter, Nancy, was married in June to Durwood Spencer Jones, Assistant Director of Institute of Government, Chapel Hill.

Ruth A. McLean is a bacteriologist with the United States Department of Agriculture, Research Center, Beltsville, Md.

Nellie (McSwain) Matlock, Greensboro, received her master's degree in Education from Woman's College, UNC, on June 2.

Loretta Mooney teaches at Oakhurst School, Charlotte.

Mary (Polk) Gordon is one of the four teachers of the North Carolina television classroom teaching experiment which began in September, under the sponsorship of the University of North Carolina and the Ford Foundation Fund for the Advancement of Education. She will teach from the studio of WUNC-TV on the Woman's College campus.

Lucille (Wynne) Broyles lives at 2500 Hudson Blvd., Jersey City, N. J.

Carolyn (Zoeller) Sturge lives at Route 1, Windsor, Ontario, Canada.

'27 Myrtle Brock is teaching world history from the Chapel Hill studio of WCUNC-TV. This experiment in television classroom teaching is being sponsored by the University of North Carolina and the Ford Foundation Fund for the Advancement of Education.

Viola (Cowan) Young teaches first grade in Rutherfordton.

Elizabeth Evans teaches English at the high school in Franklin, Va.

Ola Fleming lives at 737 Victory Street, Salisbury.

Minnie Jane (Ross) Walter's husband is a physician in Sautee, Ga. "Our oldest daughter, Margaret Jane, married August 25. Her husband, Harry D. Wise, will graduate from Emory in March. Linda, our other daughter, entered Emory in September to begin her B.S. and R.N. work, having graduated as valedictorian from high school. Besides our David, we have five foster children."

Lula Mae Simpson is Mrs. Lee F. Tuttle, Box 5197, Ardmore Station, Jacksonville, Fla.

Dorothy (Stamey) Welborn lives at 1126 Marine Drive, Alexandria, Va.

Ruby (Sumner) Voss lives at 6750 Dupree Street, Chattanooga 11, Tenn.

Mary Elizabeth Young retired in June and is now living at 217 E. Parkway, High Point. "I am keeping house for my sister, who is a high school teacher, and rooming teachers."

'28 Martha (Biggs) Thompson, Home Demonstration Agent in Davidson County, received a distinguished service award at the National Home Demonstration Agents' Association meeting in Minneapolis.

Mildred (Davis) Greene, Morganton, is proud of her new granddaughter, Teresa Dawn, who is the daughter of her son, a senior at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

'29 Emma (Beaman) Day writes from North Wilkesboro: "Jerry, my older son, received his master's degree in Education in Teaching from Duke University in June and is now teaching social sciences in Wilkes Central High, Wilkesboro. His wife is teaching English in East High in Wilkes County. My younger son, David, is a junior at Appalachian State Teachers College, 1 am teaching fifth grade in Mulberry School here."

Elizabeth (Crowder) Vaill lives at 701 Grove Street, Framingham Centre, Mass. She is in the Real Estate Business with Harold C. Wiswall, Realtor, Wellesley Hills. "If anyone comes this way, call Framingham, Trinity 2-0951."

Ethel (Spruill) Rhea lives in Plymouth.

Mary Elizabeth (Womble) Williams is teaching first grade in Reidsville, and says: "I am loving it more and more."

'30 Grace (Bryant) Banguess teaches a sixth grade and lives at 32 Pear Street, Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio. "Our school is famous for several things, among which is camping for every 6th grade public in the entire township. All children spend several days at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, where they have experiences in camping. They have trained counselors, also resource people in various areas, as forestry, animal life, bird study, soil, etc."

Margaret (Crews) Newland, Falls Church, Va., was feted at several parties during her visit to her home in Greensboro in June.

Rosalyn Howard Gardner was recently promoted to Professor of Romance Languages at Gallaudet College, Washington, D. C. To be published (probably in November of this year): Gardner, Rosalyn and Greene, Marion. A Brief Description of Middle French Syntax. Chapel Hill: The University of North Carolina Press. Romance Languages and Literatures Studies, No. 29.

Nita Mae (Lewis) Allen lives at 17 Plymouth Road, Summit, N. J.

Glenn MacDougall of Greensboro, spent last year in Honolulu and is this year teaching in the American military personnel schools in Germany.

Eloise Rhodes of Culpepper, Va., recently had a ten week European vacation.

Ruth Sikes is teaching in England under the Fulbright Teacher Exchange Program. She is the fourth grade teacher at Braxton Craven School in Greensboro and will teach the fourth grade at Woodbury Downs School in London. She is being replaced at Craven School by a teacher at the London school.

Evelyn (White) Whitfield, Greensboro, was awarded a masters degree in Education from the Woman's College, UNC, in June.

Ownership

Statement required by the Act of August 24, 1912, as amended by the Acts of March 3, 1933, and July 2, 1946 (Title 39, United States Code, Section 253) showing the ownership, management, and circulation of THE ALUMNAE NEWS, published January, April, July, and October at Greensboro, North Carolina.

1. The names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are: Publisher, The Alumnae Association, Woman's College, UNC, Greensboro, N. C. Editor, Barbara Parrish, Greensboro, N. C.

2. The owner is: (If owned by a corporation, its name and address must be stated and also immediately thereunder the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of stock. If not owned by a corporation, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a partnership or other unincorporated firm, its name and address, as well as that of each individual member, must be given.) The Alumnae Association, Woman's College, UNC, Greensboro, N. C.

3. The known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amounts of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: None.

4. Paragraphs 2 and 3 include, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting; also the statements in the two paragraphs show the affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner.

5. The average number of copies of each issue of this publication sold or distributed, through the mails or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the 12 months preceding the date shown above was: (This information is required from daily, weekly, semiweekly, and triweekly newspapers only.)

BARBARA PARRISH, Editor.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this twenty-seventh day of September, 1957.

(Seal) RUTHE SHAFER, Notary Public.
(My commission expires February 24, 1959.)

'31

Ruby (Barnhill) Fatula is president of the Business & Professional Women's Club in Orlando, Fla. She also does work in the field of music—for ten years she has helped the chamber of commerce there entertain winter visitors.

Henrietta (Edgerton) Martin's daughter, Elizabeth Martin '57, will be married in November.

Pauline (Kenley) Ziegler, known as Betty Ziegler professionally, is manager of Tall Fashions, Charlotte.

Rosa Coit (Moore) Barham is secretary at the Methodist Church, Franklin, Va. She has a daughter attending Greensboro College.

Pearle (Raper) Ramas is a teacher of retarded children in Charlotte.

Kate (Robinson) Farr's older daughter, Lina Hendley, student at Salem College, Winston-Salem, was presented by the Debutante Club of Greensboro at its fourth annual ball in June. She was also presented by the State Debutante Society in Raleigh.

Matilda (Robinson) Sugg's daughter, Elizabeth, is a junior at Woman's College, majoring in Music Education. Her daughter, Anne, is a freshman at East Carolina College, Greenville. The Suggs live in Washington, D. C.

Nellie Wheeler is director of the Greensboro Special School. For several years she operated a private school for exceptional children.

'32

Gwendolyn (Britt) Clifton, 419 Butler Drive, Clinton, is not teaching this year. "I had major surgery last September and again in April. I am now improving but my activities are limited."

Mildred (Cowan) Ritch teaches first grade in Spencer. She lives in Salisbury.

Edna (Henley) Man writes: "I'm thinking of my school and classmates often. Being a clergyman's wife I am seldom able to be away from home long enough to visit WCUNC. Also two teenagers keep me busy!" They live in Bessemer, Ala.

Louise Robinson, former director of children's work at West Market Street Methodist Church, Greensboro, is now Western North Carolina Methodist Conference director of children's work with the Conference Board of Education, located in Salisbury. She received her master's degree from Scarritt College.

'33

(Next Class Reunion on May 31, 1958)

Margaret (Creech) Branshaw teaches at Eastway Junior High School, Charlotte.

Margaret (Henderson) Mitchell writes from Kankakee, Ill.: "My daughter, Joyce, was awarded her A.B. 'cum laude' from Mt. Holyoke College in June. Also was awarded the Amherst-Mt. Holyoke Honor Scholarship in Government and an internship in the Office of Vice-President Nixon for the summer."

Mary Anna (Lentz) Cline lives in Gold Hill. "My 17-year-old-son, Donald and I went on a 9,100 mile trip with my three sisters to the Pacific Northwest and the Canadian Rockies last summer. We visited 24 states and two provinces of Canada and were away 36 days. My 14-year-old daughter, Ann, and my husband stayed home and kept things running smoothly on our poultry farm."

Mary (McBnie) Byers has moved to 1859 Galloway Avenue, Memphis, Tenn.

Virginia (Pearce) Bobo is working on her master's degree at Emory University. She recently moved from Ponte Vedro Beach, Fla., when her husband was transferred to Atlanta, Ga.

Mary Emma (Powell) Butz writes that her new address is 312 Jefferson Drive, West Lafayette, Ind.

Sunflowers

Asenath Cooke '34 has reported from Burlington that one of her Alumnae Fund sunflower seeds produced a flower 20 inches in diameter on a stalk 9 feet tall. That one blossom yielded 1871 seeds.

Doris (Shuler) Lester writes from Glendale School, Kenly: "My husband and I went to London, England, to visit my sister and her husband last summer. My sister's husband is a major in the U. S. Air Force there. We made a 16-day tour of Europe in their little English Ford. We visited Paris, Geneva, Milan, Venice and many, many other interesting places on the continent. After that trip, we spent three weeks in London and did much sightseeing there. We visited several English schools."

Mable (Smith) Cordle teaches second grade, Peck School, Greensboro. Her son, Claiborne, is a freshman at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Beulah May Welch to Col. Leslie S. Bean, U. S. Army, Ret., March 15, Washington, D. C. Beulah is a personnel officer in the International Corporation Administration, Washington, D. C. "My job is to recruit secretaries for foreign duty and my work carries me on recruiting trips all over the United States." Colonel Bean, who is retired, fought through World War II, and then became the Forester for occupied Germany. Later he was Principal Inspector for the Forest Service of the United States.

'34

Alice Armfield is at Anderson College, S. C.

Martha (Berry) Morgan teaches English and French in the high school, Franklin, Va.

Howard Holderness, Greensboro, President of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company, is the state campaign chairman for the United Community Campaigns of North Carolina. Mr. Holderness is the husband of Adelaide (Fortune) Holderness.

Evelyn Hammond to Olin Orin Dukes, August 17, Lumberton. Mr. Dukes attended Presbyterian Junior College and the University of North Carolina. He is associated with the Dukes Flowers, and is owner and manager of Dukes Distributing Company, Lumberton. At home there.

Lois V. McClure's new address is Apt. A-33, 540 West 123rd Street, New York 27, N. Y.

'35

Frances (Kernodle) Blunk is food supervisor with The Colonnade Company, Louisville, Ky.

Anna Mary Pierce is Director of the Laboratory at Gilmore Clinic in Greensboro.

Ellen Sherwood teaches two classes of physical education and is a seventh grade guidance counselor at the Dana Junior High, San Diego, Calif.

Kate (Wilkins) Woolley writes from Birmingham, Ala.: "We had a delightful family vacation trip, seeing the 'sights' between Birmingham and New England and then visiting my brother's family in Newburyport, Mass."

Anna Wills, who has been living in Alaska for two years as a recreation supervisor employed by the military, spent a month with her mother in Greensboro during the summer. She returned to Whittier, Alaska, where she is supervisor of crafts for members of the armed forces there.

'36

Elizabeth Barineau, who has been teaching French at the University of Chicago since 1955, spent the spring quarter in France. Early in June she represented the University of Chicago at the official ceremonies re-opening the University of Caen. The fifteenth-century university had been totally destroyed in 1944 during the Allied landings in Normandy, and much interest in its reconstruction had been aroused all over the world. Three days of ceremonies gave a good opportunity to visit the modern and well-planned buildings of the new university, the excellent library which donations from many countries had made possible, and to meet some of the representatives from foreign and American universities.

Alice (Dunlap) Sakowski's new address is 518 Lenoir Street, Morganton.

Elizabeth (Harvell) Miller is Director of Cafeterias for the Greensboro City Schools.

Margaret (Neister) Hosea lives at 630-5th Avenue, New York 20, N. Y.

Edna (Plyler) Settle, Lancaster, S. C., writes: "My husband, a medical doctor, is deceased, and after 21 years, I'm planning to resume my study of interior decorating."

Lyal (Reynolds) Shoemaker resides at 301 Walnut Drive, Nashville, Tenn.

'37 Martha (Andrews) Mason lives at 7315 Ruthven Road, Norfolk 5, Va.

Josephine Butler's address is 736-22nd Street, N.W., Washington 7, D. C.

Isabelle (Moseley) Fletcher, Kinston, writes: "Husband and three sons, 16, 13 and 7 years, are settled 'for good' on Carolina farm. We bought my old home place this fall where we plain to raise our boys, some tobacco, hogs, cattle, etc. I am presently serving as President of District 12, N.C.F.W.C., among other activities of a local nature."

Rachel (Moser) Cobb is moving back to North Carolina after having lived in Bethlehem, Pa. for ten years, during which time her husband was pastor of Grace Lutheran Church. He is now pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, Raleigh. They have two sons, John Moser 13 and William Jerry 10.

Judy (Ulrich) Capps has moved from Cleveland, Ohio, to 11 Fayetteville Street, Wrightsville Beach.

Kate F. Urquhart of New York and Annie Lee Singletary of Winston-Salem, recently made a one-month tour of Europe during which time they wrote a series of articles on fashions and their meetings with European notables.

'38 (Next Class Reunion on May 31, 1958)

Frances (Alexander) McLeod, who retired from teaching in June, is making her home with her son and family in Emory, Va. "My son teaches mathematics at Emory and Henry College here. He is working on his Ph.D. at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill."

Dr. Mary L. Boney was promoted from assistant to associate professor of Bible, Agnes Scott College, Decatur, Ga.

Marguerite (Brower) Hargrave, Asheboro, received her master's degree in Education from Woman's College, in June.

Catherine Lucille (Davis) Marcus' husband received his Doctorate at the University of Florida and is now an Assistant Professor of Physical Sciences and Geography there. They live at 2001 NE 7th Terrace, Gainesville, Fla.

Camilla (Johnson) Percival, her husband, and two children, Curran 6 and Jan 3, have moved to 2711 Willow Street, San Diego 6, Calif.

Lelah Nell Masters, director of the Cone Mills Corp. news bureau, received a certificate from the New York State School of Industrial and Labor Relations, a unit of the State University of New York at Cornell University. The certificate was presented upon completion of a seminar in company communications.

'39 Margaret (Hall) Coman is case-work supervisor, Department of Public Welfare, Asheville.

Emily (Harris) Preyer, retiring president of the Alumnae Association, is chairman of the Residential Division of Greensboro's United Fund campaign. She will be responsible for securing over 1,000 volunteer women to canvass the many residential neighborhoods. Emily and her husband, Judge Richardson Preyer, were among those attending the National Bar Association in London during August.

Caroline (Lewis) Williams is homemaking in Forest City.

Mary (McLaughlin) Bird's husband is a minister in Savannah, Ga.

Grace (Mewborn) Aycock, whose husband was installed as Chancellor of the University on October 12, was among the women who were presented to Queen Elizabeth II at the UNC-Maryland game on October 19, and was the subject of a feature article by Ann A. Smith in the GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS on October 20. According to the article, Chancellor William Brantley Aycock "is eager to share the spotlight with his wife," who helps with the details of most of his speeches and is "the backbone of the busy and energetic family." The Aycocks have two children: William Preston Aycock II, 14, and Nancy 10.

Janet Bruce (Miller) Beall writes from Edgewater, Md.: "We had our fifth addition to the family on July 22, making it four boys and a girl. My sister, Dorothy (Miller) Lewis '42 was here from Lubbock, Texas, with her four children this summer."

Marjorie (Pye) Bogle's husband, a colonel in the Air Force, is at the Pentagon and they expect to live in Arlington for the next year or so. Marjorie's address is 1413 20th Street, South.

Trudy (Ratney) Creede is back at her home at 19 Twin Oaks Oval, Springfield, N. J., after sixteen months in a TB sanatorium.

Ethel (Raymer) Briggs is homemaking in Asheville.

Ethel (Reavis) West lives at 24 Edgehill Avenue, Chatham, N. J.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Draper, Jr. (Grace Sharpe), a second son, John Thomas, October 19, Greensboro.

Evelyn (Shepherd) Apple has four sons in school and two at home. The Apples live in Burlington.

Emily (Stanton) Parker is homemaking and her address is c/o Maj. O. L. Parker, Hdqs, Army Section MAAG, Taiwan, APO 63, San Francisco, Calif.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newland (Betsy Wharton), a son, August 5, Greensboro.

'40 Olive (Briggs) Ford's husband is co-owner of the Edison Cafeteria in Fort Myers, Fla.

Carmelita (Dickson) Keefe is a homemaker in Hialeah, Fla.

Mary Ceelle (Higgins) Bridges, Greensboro, was re-elected treasurer of The Guilford County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Eunice (King) Durgin's husband, Rev. Lawrence L. Durgin, minister of Central Congregational Church, Providence, R. I., was given an honorary Doctor of Divinity Degree from Brown University in June. The citation read: "In the five short years since you became minister of the Central Congregational Church, you have aroused your congregation to examine their consciences and their beliefs, thereby fortifying both; you have become a friend and an inspiration to the students and faculty of this University; and, as president of the Rhode Island State Council of Churches, you have proved again that cooperation among groups of various doctrines need not mean the abandonment of what any of them hold dear."

Ruth Marian (Lathrop) Almy lives in Winter Park, Fla., where her husband is in the Marine Manufacturing business. They have two daughters, Laurie 16 and Cindy Lou 11. "I am busy with Scouts and Hospital Auxiliary, plus much driving about with the children."

Anna Stone (Railey) Ackerman, Falls Church, Va., has four children.

Eloise (Smith) Johnson is living in Gilmer, Texas.

Virginia (Spruill) Currie's husband, Jim, was recently appointed North Carolina Revenue Commissioner, in Raleigh. The retiring Commissioner's wife is Elizabeth (Lindsey) Shaw '22, and they have moved to Greensboro.

Carrie Stanford (Walker) Farish lives in Wake Forest. "Have daughter Stanford Ann in 2nd grade and son, Walker Owings in first grade. I am doing Brownie leader work here and taking a course in Portrait Painting at Peace College, Raleigh, this quarter."

Martha (Yelton) Harbison lives at 315 Pleasant Street, Spindale.

'41 Dorothy (Banks) Armstrong, who has lived in Montana, is now in Trenton. The Armstrongs have two daughters, Betsy 10½ and Claudia 6½.

Faye (Beckerdite) Sharpe is a housewife and mother in Winston-Salem.

Sarah Lucille (Campbell) Millers, homemaker and mother of two children, Hickory.

Annie Laura Cline teaches fifth grade at Aycock School in the Asheville City School System. "I worked at the desk of Assembly Inn at Montreat during the summer, and the work was very interesting."

Frances (Daniel) Sweet has moved from Kinston to 406 Brandywine Blvd., Wilmington, Del.

Thomas Ena (Gandy) Lankford is homemaker in Franklin, Va. They have three children.

Edna (Groves) Heffron, who lived in Puerto Rico for several years has returned to the States and they are living at 2109 Kennilworth, Louisville 5, Ky.

Anna Mae (Hatcher) Dawson teaches first grade at Gillespie School, Greensboro. She finished work on a master's degree at Teachers College, Columbia University during the summer.

Bessie (Johnson) St. Clair's husband, a Methodist minister, is District Superintendent of the Maryville District, Tenn.

Left to right: Richard Gustav, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Niebuhr (NANCY MULLICAN '47) of Cambridge, Mass. Cleve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland H. Thayer (JULIA ROSS LAMBERT '51) of Morganton. Tommy, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Terry (MARGARET HOLT '32) of Durham. Kathy, Ervin, and Therese Ann, children of Mr. and Mrs. David B. Ball (HALDANE BEAN '46) of Asheville. Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack D. Glenn (ELIZABETH COBLE '49) of Dallas, Texas.

Beulah Dare (Ormond) Nelson teaches first grade, Harvey School, Kinston, where her daughter is a third-grader. Her husband is with Du Pont Company there.

Dr. Virginia (Sanford) Mangum is an assistant resident doctor at Duke University, Durham, where her husband is also on the staff.

Mary Jane (Stuart) Whitener is a homemaker and mother of three sons. They live in Mount Prospect, Ill.

Elizabeth (Owen) McAdams' address is 411 E. Lexington Avenue, High Point.

Elizabeth (Perkins) Barrow, formerly of Staten Island, N. Y., lives at 501 Lawsonville Avenue, Reidsville.

Kathleen (Rhyne) McGugan's new address is 102 Wisconsin Street, Travis AFB, Calif.

Jean (Scott) Suttles, formerly of Southern Pines, lives at 829 N. Main Street, Mooresville, N. C.

Dorothy (Severance) Yoder lives in Shelby, where her husband is a district supervisor with Winn Dixie Supermarkets. "We have a daughter, Dottie Anne, who entered first grade this year. After living in Anderson, S. C., where I didn't see a W. C. alumna for three years, I have found Shelby to be a WCUNC stronghold. . . . Mary Lillian Blanton '42 is my neighbor."

Nancy (Winchell) Arnold has moved into their new home at 1140 Gordon Road, Cleveland 24, Ohio. "My husband was chosen to read a paper at the A.C.S. meetings in New York this month and I accompanied him. I had a grand reunion with Lib (Newton) Lewis '43 during which we made a tour of the U.N., where we discovered that not only was our guide a former W.C. student, but also Miss Gullander was in our group! We had a wonderful time catching up on W.C. news!"

Commander in the U. S. Navy. The Bartletts have four children, and they "especially love Troy, N. Y."

Doris (McRoberts) Piercy lives at 422 Wheat-sheaf Road, Roselle, N. J.

Virginia (Mayberry) Elam, 337 Fallis Road, Columbus 14, Ohio, has four children, three girls and a son, John William, who was born a year ago.

Last year Natalie (Schlossberg) Bodner, Margate, N. J., began teaching Modern Dance to her neighborhood children, and the work has advanced so that Natalie has rented the use of the local community center for her classes. "It is very gratifying to see the progress of the children."

Katherine (Smith) Davis is a homemaker in Winston-Salem.

Lucy (Taylor) Yntema's husband is an engineer at Vertol Aircraft Corporation, Newton Square, Pa. "I stay busy looking after our three children John 3½, Ted 2½ and Jeanne 1."

Suzanne (Walker) Glenn is the mother of two sons, ages 5 and 3. The Glenns live in Hartford, Conn.

Rosalie (Watson) Powell, Carneys Point, N. J., has three children, two boys and a girl. Rosalie is a homemaker.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Roger Waedemon (Julia Wolff), a son, Mark Alan, September 28, Port Arthur, Texas. They have two other children, Sandra 10 and Ron 7.

'42

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Wilkins (Marveign Cockfield), a third son, June 24, 1957, Greensboro.

Zabelle (Corwin) Norwood's husband, former fiscal officer of N. C. Memorial Hospital of the University of North Carolina, has been named business officer in the office of business manager of the University. His main duty is dealing with the UNC Division of Health Affairs.

Jean (Finch) Swan is living at Fort Douglas, Utah, where her husband is stationed following duty with the Armed Forces in Germany.

Lula (Hinton) Hoskins has joined the staff of Jack and Jill School, High Point, where she has charge of a kindergarten group.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. James A. Huffman (Ernestine Hobbs), a son, August 20, Greensboro.

Doris (Ramsey) Caldwell is a homemaker in West Palm Beach, Fla.

Mary Ann (Scott) Clark writes from 24 Morrill Avenue, Waterville, Maine: "This summer was exciting for us because we found and bought a beautiful spot on the Maine coast (near old friends at Georgetown) and are putting up a little 'prefab' house on it as a summer camp for the family—which includes Alice 13, Evelyn 10 and Alden 6."

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Elwood N. Pearce (Alice Wilson), a daughter, June 20, 1957, Greensboro.

Rose (Wilson) Henderson and her family have recently moved to 106 Cambridge Road, King of Prussia, Pa.

'44

Born to Mr. and Mrs. William Raymond Taylor, Jr. (Lea Bailey), a third child, a son, William Raymond, III, September 19, Greensboro. Lea was featured in an article in the GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS during October for the work she has done since 1953—that of a volunteer teacher at the Greensboro Cerebral Palsy School. "Physical therapy is her field and she has spent a lot of hours teaching children at the school how to use their hands and feet and how to sit. It takes a lot of patience, but that's just what Mrs. Taylor has."

Helen (Brady) Walker is a housewife and mother and lives at 817 E. Carol Lane, Midwest City, Okla.

Eugenia (Cox) Pratt's husband received a promotion to assistant superintendent by Western Electric and the family has moved from Greensboro to Ridgewood, N. J. Eugenia leaves behind in Greensboro a very active garden club career. She has passed the five garden school courses necessary to a national flower show judges certificate and has just the two reading exams and two more judging shows to go. The Pratts have two children, Penny 11 and Peggy 8.

Jean (Dickey) Kenlan has moved to 58 Lockwood Avenue, Bronxville 8, N. Y.

Annabel (Embrey) Hansen is secretary in the Niskayuna Central School District Office, Schenectady, N. Y.

Dorothy (Flowers) Woodruff teaches in Winston-Salem.

Mary Ann (Hennings) Moore writes from Woodberry Forest, Va.: "Would like to urge everyone, but especially my friends of '44 and '45 to send in news of their families and whereabouts. My eldest, Alice, is now in 1st grade; Dickie 5, in kindergarten; Preston, Jr., 3½ and Betsy ½ are at home."

Janice (Hook) Moore's husband was elected to head the Greensboro Parks Commission in Greensboro. Janice, who is chairman of the Greensboro Alumnae Chapter, is the mother of two sons.

Chase (Johnson) Duffy lives at 41 Bowdoin Street, Cambridge 38, Mass.

Margaret (Johnson) Bryan is homemaking in Elon College.

Claire (McRoberts) Bartlett's husband is studying at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute for his master's degree in Management Engineering. He has recently been selected to become a

'45

Bernice (Anthony) Foxx, 21 Belmont Avenue, Northampton, Mass., works at Smith College. "I re-visited W.C. in August and loved every minute I was there!"

Dorothy Beatty to John Herman Harte, June 29, 1957, Washington, D. C. Mr. Harte is a graduate of the University of Wyoming and also studied at Northwestern University, the Art Institute in Chicago and the Art Career School in New York. He is employed by the Standard Oil Company of California in the Phoenix, Ariz. office. At home, Phoenix.

Jean (Blalock) Middleton's husband was transferred to Galax, Va., where he is superintendent of the Burlington Industries Weaving Plant. "Our youngest child, Beth, started to school this year. Our oldest, Jimmy, is in the third grade."

Carolyn (Coker) Brandt's husband is chairman of the art department, University of Mississippi, Oxford, Miss., where they have an apartment on the campus.

Irma (Estes) Magner and her family of Minneapolis, Minn., made their annual summer visit to Irma's home in Greensboro. They brought with them, Miss Maja Buric of Yugoslavia, an exchange student at the University of Minneapolis who is living with the Magners. Irma's husband entered a newspaper contest, "Match the Face and Place," and won for himself and Irma a one-week round trip to Europe, plus a $100 purse. They decided to take their prize in Rome and then to add two weeks of European sights. They made the trip in September, with Miss Buric taking care of their two little girls, Ann and Mary.

Mary Ann (Ballenbeck) Elliott is a homemaker in Winston-Salem. The Elliotts have three children, Sally 8, Becky 7, and Linda 5.

Mary Frances (Handley) Andrus has a son, Mark Handley, who is celebrating his first birthday October 20. They live in Kingston, Tenn.

Born to Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Henson (Martha Hipp), a fifth child, a son, June 5, 1957, Greensboro.

Hlene (Israel) Beron is a social worker in New York City.

Margaret (Mullen) Easterling is president of the Junior Woman's Club, Greensboro. She and '43

Alice (Bowling) Palmer, 810 Holloway Street, Durham, is a homemaker and mother of two little girls, Kathy 4 and Clara Anne 2.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph P. Bullard (Marie Brennan), a second daughter, Sarah Grace, April 20, Greensboro.

Kathryn Rae Cox to Benjamin Cook Lee, Jr., June 15, 1957, Clinton. The bridegroom was graduated from Reinhardt Junior College and Virginia Polytechnical Institute. He is employed by the Dillon Supply Company of Goldsboro.

Carolyn (Jordan) Clark, Lumberton, says that her biggest news is the arrival of their fourth child, first daughter, Mary Jo, March 26. "She is the first girl in two generations in the Clark family. Needless to say, her brothers, Douglas, Spencer and Jordan, think she is quite a doll!"

Rebecca (McKeithan) Sisson, 250 Cedar Street, Newton, 11, Conn., has three boys, and Rebecca says "gardening and Woman's Club activities offer interesting diversion, along with sewing and reading, when my time permits."

Susie (Mattox) Harrington's husband, Lt. Col. R. N. Harrington is stationed at Schweinfurt Post, Germany, where the family is living.

Alice (Moore) Cress is homemaking in Greensboro. She does part-time hostess work at Grace Methodist Church.

Jane (Neal) Snow's husband is with Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Marietta, Ga. The Snows have three children, Christopher 6, Oliver Whitney 4, and Janet Lynn 2.

Left to right: Jane and Tom, children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Draper, Jr. (ESTA LEONARD '43) of Toledo, Ohio. Jean, Drew, Douglas, and Dale, children of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Saunders, Jr. (JEAN EMMONS '42) of Wayne, Pa. Laura Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall S. Woodson, Jr. (PATRICIA HARRELSON '33) of Lumberton. Craig and Mike, sons of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Wilson, Jr. (RAMONA AUSTIN '50) of Winston-Salem. Cam and Laurie, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Roberts (PHYLLIS VREELAND '46) of Falls Church, Va.

her family were recently featured in the GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS, as one in a series of articles written on heads of women's groups. The Easterlings have two children, Aleen 9 and Tom, III, 7½.

Helen (Mullis) Frost lives in Hampton, Va. Her husband is a doctor of veterinary medicine, in partnership in the Armistead Avenue Animal Hospital. The Frosts have three children, Bruce, Larry and Carolyn.

Dianne (Page) Bench's husband, a colonel in the U. S. Air Force, was recently awarded the Legion of Merit "for outstanding work in the office of the Secretary of the Air Force." Colonel Bench was stationed at The Pentagon for 5½ years and is now attending the Air War College for a year at Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, Ala. The family, consisting of four sons, is living there.

Mary Louise "Dee" (Price) Boquist of Clouet, Minn., attended the Congress on Better Living sponsored by McCall's Magazine and held in Washington, D. C., in October. The delegates were all former winners or multiple entrants in various contests which have been conducted by the magazine. Dee was first-place winner in the "Set A Pretty Table" competition in 1954.

Sarah (Scruggs) Sloan lives at 3207 Fountain Park Blvd., Knoxville, Tenn.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Rice (Cora Belle Stegall), a third son, David Sinclair, August 20, Raleigh.

Elizabeth (Styron) Wylie is the mother of two sons, James L. 4 and Peter 1½. They live in New Orleans, La.

Bernice (Walker) Rivard's husband, holder of a Ph.D. degree, is a research chemist in the medicinal laboratories of Smith-Kline & French. They live in Haddonfield, N. J.

'46

Haldane (Bean) Ball and her family live in Asheville.

Mary Elizabeth (Carter) Donovan has a little girl who was 2 in September. They live in Menlo Park, Calif.

Mary Ruth (Church) Wilson is homemaking for her husband and two-year-old daughter. Mr. Wilson owns and operates the Economy Drug Store in Hendersonville.

Charlotte (Graham) Harmon, legal secretary, National Labor Relations Board, New York.

Jessie (Gregory) Lutz teaches history at Douglas College, a branch of Rutgers University, Plainfield, N. J.

Born to Dr. and Mrs. Robert Wright Bedinger (Jean King), a daughter, Martha Blackwell, July 18, Richmond, Va.

Davey Jo Lumsden has been named assistant superintendent of Woman's Prison in Raleigh. She had previously worked as a child welfare worker and case work supervisor with the Departments of Public Welfare in Perquimans, Halifax and Harnett counties.

Princi Maphet's new address is 341-E Ponce de Leon Avenue, Atlanta, Ga.

Sally (Orr) Harrell's husband is an architect in Hickory. They have two daughters, Madeline 6 and Sally 1.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Bruce R. Park (Lucy Ann Pritchard), a son, Robertson Thomas, August 30, Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Park teaches English at Brooklyn College. "I am finding out how much harder mothers work than catalog librarians! And what hours!"

Hellen Louise (Rouse) Boyd's husband is stationed with the USAF in Novato, Calif., where they are living. "We are mighty proud parents of our first child, Laura Patricia, born May 15."

Dorothy Ellen (Spears) Tally's husband is on the staff at Duke University as instructor and is completing his dissertation for his degree in Educational Administration, which he expects to receive in June.

Jane (Steele) Oldacre of 3906 Detroit Street, Flint 5, Mich., wrote that she hoped to visit friends in Greensboro during the latter part of October. Their daughter, Danna is 1.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Willard E. Thomas (Alice Trosper), a daughter, August 8, Greensboro.

Phyllis (Vreeland) Roberts, Falls Church, Va., is president of the Jefferson Village Woman's Club and is vice-president of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Patrick's Episcopal Church. "Perhaps even more interesting than these is my job of Fellowship Chairman of the Church. This keeps me visiting and working with people constantly and reminds me somewhat of my intentions of eleven years ago when I received an A.B. degree in Sociology and envisioned a career as a social worker. I spent some time this summer preparing for this work and attended an institute in Richmond at St. Cath-

—Attention, Ph. D.'s—

IT is important that the Alumnae Office know which Woman's College Alumnae have doctoral degrees. If you have a Ph.D., please send full information (field of concentration, university granting the degree, year granted, etc.) to the Alumnae Office.

erine's School. I spent a week at a conference held on the campus of Hood College and found the return to campus life really delightful . . . with no cooking or dishwashing to do!" The Roberts have two daughters.

Joyce (West) Witherington of High Point, has two children, Ben, III, and Laura Joyce.

'47

Sam Beard, husband of Libby (Bass) Beard, and veteran Raleigh radio newsmen, was recently appointed director of public relations for the State Highway Commission in Raleigh.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Holley Mack Bell (Clara Bond), a daughter, Elisabeth Turner, October 16, Greensboro.

Sybil (Brooks) Rhodes' new address is R.D. 1, Chadds Ford, Pa.

Mildred (Carson) Garner, 601 Jennings Drive, Wilmington, is a homemaker and mother of three children, two of them in school.

Elizabeth Finley is assistant art director, Station WBTV, Charlotte.

Mary Betty (Leigh) Blanton is junior director of the American Red Cross, Arlington, Va. Mr. Blanton is connected with the Planters Bank & Trust Company there.

Clyde (McLeod) Hoffman's husband is a physicist at Westinghouse Atomic Power division in Pittsburgh, Pa. They have a son, Graham Walter, Jr., 1.

Betty Jean Martin, dietitian, Stanly County Hospital, Albemarle.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Highsmith (Mary Louise Mitchell), a third daughter, Catherine Mitchell, August 4, Kingsport, Tenn.

Eleanor Morgan's new address is 509 Mayflower Drive, Greensboro.

Cora Elizabeth Morrison is a graduate student in the School of Library Science at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. "I plan to start work on a M.S. in Library Science in the Spring term."

Jessie Polts to William Lawrence Owens, June 16, 1957, Highlands. Mr. Owens was graduated from Atlantic Christian College, Wilson, where he has been on the staff of the N. C. Sanatorium. He is now a student at the Medical School of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. Jessie is an instructor in home economics at Woman's College.

Teresa Shelton is an associate professor and director of physical education at Converse College, Spartanburg, S. C.

Marie (Solomon) Kahn of Wilmington says that she was disappointed not to be able to attend the tenth reunion of the Class. "Enjoyed seeing Alice (Farmer) Davis '47 at Wrightsville Beach during the summer."

Nancy (Sutton) Young lives at 512 Greenmeade Drive, Kinston.

Emogene (Thomas) McAdams is the mother of a boy and girl and lives at 305 Trollinger, Burlington.

Margaret Daniel (Wilkerson) Thurston's husband, connected with Massachusetts Life Insurance Company, Greensboro, has been named first vice-president of the North Carolina Association of Life Underwriters.

'48

(Next Class Reunion on May 31, 1958)

Janet (Breeding) Roman's husband operates the Kent Motel, Stevensville, Md. "Our motel belongs to Quality Courts, so any traveling North—cross the Chesapeake Bay Bridge—stop and stay with us." The Romans have a daughter, nearly 1.

Helen (Douglas) Woodside lives at 1421 Winston Avenue, Baltimore 12, Md. Her husband is a field engineer with Square D Company and Helen is a homemaker and mother of two children, Tommy 4½ and Nancy 3.

Frances (Fox) Kepchar's husband is head of the science department at the Norfolk Academy. They live at 205 Burleigh Avenue, Norfolk 5, Va.

Lois Jane (Gay) White has two daughters and lives at 718 South Taylor Street, Rocky Mount.

Doris (Grinnells) Butler has three sons, Robert, Gregory, and John. They live in Fayetteville.

Mildred Allene Hancock to Harold Wayne Worley, June 21, Marshall. The bride teaches home economics at Marshall High School and the bridegroom is employed by the Carolina Power & Light Company there.

Jean (Kirkman) Measel is a mathematical computer, David Taylor Model Basin, Bethesda, Md.

Isabel (McDonald) Kiker is a housewife and mother of two sons, 3 and 1½. They live in Dayton, Ohio.

Geraldine McKinney, child welfare worker, Department of Public Health, New Mexico, is in her second year at the School of Social Science Administration, University of Chicago. Upon completion of this year's work, she will return to New Mexico as Senior Child Welfare Worker.

Elvira (Massengill) Taylor is a homemaker in Bellaire, Texas. She has two children, Vickie 3, and Joel Jay 1.

Carlita (Nesslinger) Georgia, Ithaca, N. Y., reports the birth of a daughter, Deborah Elizabeth, on April 19, 1957.

Mildred (Palmer) Stout, 48 Buttonwood Drive, Fair Haven, N. J., has three children, Mary Elizabeth 7, Richard 4, and Melanie Ruth, born last April 12.

Born to Lt. and Mrs. Walter J. Whitley (Susanne Park), a son, George Llewellyn, IV, August 22, Charleston, S. C.

Grace (Quinn) Carlton and her sister, Faye (Quinn) Williams '51, are the commercial teachers for the new consolidated James Kenan High School, Warsaw. "This is our first year of teaching together. Our youngest sister, Zona Gale, is now a member of the Freshman Class at W.C.," writes Grace.

Nancy (Ridenhour) Boon is homemaking in Greenville.

Dorothy (Sisk) Sills, who teaches in the Commercial Department at Woman's College, received her master's degree in Education in June.

M. Ann (Thompson) Sorrels has a year-old son, The Sorrels live in Chapel Hill.

Annette (Tilson) Bardwell writes from 501 Eastwood Drive, Kirkwood 22, Mo., that she is busy with two daughters, 3 and 6.

Margaret (Tyson) Latham teaches in the junior high school in Greenville. She has two children, Al 6 and Priscilla 2½.

Sarah Jane (White) Taylor's husband is manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Dothan, Ala. The Taylors have a daughter, Kathy 3.

Nell (Williams) New teaches second grade in the Lubbock Independent Schools, Texas. The News son, John William, will be a year old October 31.

'49

Audrey Blackburn is a copy writer for an advertising agency in New York City.

Louise (Bridger) St. George is homemaking at 4840 N. 33rd Road, Arlington 7, Va.

Ruth (Bryant) Maxwell is a homemaker in Columbia, S. C.

Nancy Campbell, who served as executive director of the Pisgah Girl Scout Council for nearly four years, recently resigned her work there and is now traveling in Europe. She hopes to re-enter Girl Scout work when she returns.

Betty Jane (Carr) Pulkington's husband has charge of two Episcopal Missions in the area of Hitchcock, Texas, where they live. He is also chaplain to faculty and students of the University of Texas Medical School in Galveston. They have two children, Bill 4 and Mary Graham 2½.

Elizabeth (Coble) Glenn's husband is a geologist of The Seaboard Oil Company, Dallas, Texas. "We were delighted to find Barbara (Apostolacrus) Lipscomb '49 here in Dallas. We visited her family." The Glenns have a daughter, Mary 2.

Martha (Egerton) Oliphant of Washington, D. C., has twin daughters named for grandmother and great aunt who are both alumnae of Woman's College . . . Florrie (Trundle) Egerton, class of '25, and Mary (Trundle) Turner '23.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. William George Simons (Louise Eichhorn), a daughter, Katherine Nichols, July 17, 1957, Stamford, Conn. The Simons have two sons, Allan 5 and Brian 2. Hermene (Warlick) Eichhorn '26 is the grandmother.

Left to right: Eddie, Jill, and Jan, children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Rothschild (PEGGY GOODMAN '49) of Memphis, Tenn. Brenda and Alfred, Jr., children of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. George (ALMETA PLEASANT '42) of Batavia, N. Y. John Bynum, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Merritt (NANCY SOUTHER '48) of Greensboro.

Frances (Ellinger) Sorrell is homemaking in Charlotte. The Sorrells have one daughter, Susan Petty 2.

Ann (Forbes) Woodward lives at 4014 Buchanan Drive, Hampton, Va. "The children now number four—two girls and two boys. In the time that's left from cooking, sewing, and such, I am learning to play the guitar and taking ballet and the weeks go whirling by."

Mildred (Ford) Wilson teaches English in Knoxville, Tenn.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jean N. Plyler (Patsy Gordon), a son, Gordon Nelson, August 2, Lexington, Mr. Plyler works with Heritage Furniture Company, High Point, where the family expects to move soon.

Catherine Ingram is vocational home economics teacher, Robersonville High School.

Helen (Jenkins) Goodwin's husband is a Presbyterian minister in Midland, Texas. They have two sons, Danny and John Jenkins.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wailles (Nancy Kendall), a son, Richard Carl, May 6, 1957, Salisbury, South Rhodesia.

Robertia (Koster) Conte teaches in a nursery school in New York City.

Neva (McLean) Wicker's husband, Tom, has been named a Neiman Fellow at Harvard University for the current school year. Mr. Wicker is a newspaperman in Winston-Salem.

Jean (Rainey) Underwood does secretarial work in Dallas, Texas. They have two sons, G. S., III, and William Rainey.

Inge (Schoenemann) Hausman is with a travel agency in New York City.

Lula Ferguson Shepherd to Wiley Dockery Steed, August 17, 1957, Laurinburg. Mr. Steed attended Presbyterian Junior College and was graduated from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. He served with the U. S. Navy. At home, Maxton.

Carolyn (Sides) Jones is the mother of a son and two daughters. They live in Jacksonville, Fla.

Nina (Teague) Lineberry, Lumberton, received her master's degree in Education from Woman's College in June.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Allan Griffith (Lois Thomas), a son, Charles Edward, September 8, Petersburg, Va.

Betsy Umstead's address is The American Embassy, Bagdad, Iraq.

Catherine (Quick) Ambos, Berkeley Heights, N. J., has two children, Elizabeth 2 and David 8 months.

Eleanor Rigney is employed as a Heart Program Secretary with the New York Heart Association. She is living at 2800 Dearborn Place, Utica, N. Y.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Carlson F. Booth (Barbara Sanders), a daughter, Edith Jane, June 13, Harrisonburg, Va.

'51

Jane Anne Bass to Richard William Turner, August 24, Spring Hope. The bridegroom was graduated from the University of North Carolina, attended Duke University, and is a student at Berkeley Institute, New Haven, Conn.

Frances (Campbell) Porter teaches seventh grade, Aycock Junior High, Greensboro.

Jeanette (Christian) Faulconer lives in Greensboro. They have two children, Cynthia Rose 2 and Edward Lee, III, 1.

Sarah Cornella (Cranford) Morris, Albemarle, says that she stopped teaching to help her husband run grocery store and take care of daughter, Gina, nearly 2.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Cartland (Kathleen Deans), a daughter, August 24, 1957, Greensboro. Mr. Cartland is the son of Sarah (Poole) Cartland '24.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Henson (Georganna Hundley), a son, August 18, Greensboro.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest S. Rosenberg (Florence Jacobson), a daughter, Susan Ivana, July 13, Greenville, S. C.

Ann (Johnson) Lundholm's husband is an Engineering Specialist Research with Atomics International in Canoga Park, Calif. "Canoga Park is within the city limits of Los Angeles."

Sara Katherine (Jordan) Wilds lives in Harts-ville, S. C. They have a son, George 2. Mr. Wilds farms 500 acres of land just outside of Hartsville.

Virginia (Key) Trueblood still teaches the seventh grade at Westmoore School. "My husband and I are enjoying our new home here. We celebrated our fourth wedding anniversary by attending the Jamestown Festival, Jamestown, Va."

Katherin (Kilgore) Gould of Charlotte has two daughters, Margaret 3½ and Kathy 6 months.

Jeanette Lambertson to John Newton Smith, Jr., August 17, 1957, Charlotte. Mr. Smith graduated from Duke University, where he was a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity. He is employed by Wachovia Bank & Trust Company, Charlotte, where the bride teaches.

Jean (Lloyd) Ledden's husband is representative for The Upjohn Company in the Raleigh territory, where they are now living.

Barbara C. Miller is an instructor, second grade, Curry School, Woman's College, Greensboro.

Betty Lou (Mitchell) Guigan is a homemaker in Valdese. They have two children, Alex 2½ and Elizabeth 8 months.

Mary Lou (Monnett) Davis has two sons, Billy 5 and Douglas 3. She also works part-time keeping books for her father in the Monnett Carpet Shop, Greensboro.

Elva (Parker) Jordan teaches in Mount Olive.

Emogene (Powell) McNeely's husband practices medicine in Franklin, Va. They have two little girls.

Peggy Putnam is assistant home agent, Agricultural Extension Service, in Maricopa County, Phoenix, Arizona. "There is so much to learn here. So far I've enjoyed knowing more about the Indians and attending some of their ceremonies. Also, I've been to my first bull fights in Nogales, Sonora."

Margaret (Simon) Adams is a homemaker in Bellaire, Texas.

Mimi Temko is a civilian recreation director at the Fountainbleau Service Club, Seine Area Command, Com. Z, APO 11 c/o Postmaster, New York, N. Y. The club is located just outside of Paris. Before Mimi left her home in September, she held a reunion with three of her former roommates: Pickett (Crouch) Stafford '51, of Greensboro; Addie (Williamson) Mann '51, of Gastonia; and Lavinia (Smith) Suskin, class of '51, Chapel Hill. Mimi worked until September as a publicity writer for Careers, Inc., New York.

Betsy L. Tunstall teaches in the Raleigh City Schools.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. James B. Wolfe, Jr. (Laura White), a son, September 2, Greensboro.

Betty Carroll (Wimbish) Warner's husband, a former Municipal-County Court Judge in Greensboro, accepted a post with the chief counsel of the Internal Revenue Service in Dallas, Texas. They are living at 918 Shady Side Lane, Apt. D.

Margaret Anne (Worsley) Hart and her husband are building a new house in Hartsville, S. C. They have a little girl, Melissa 2½.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John C. Oakley (Ann Young), a daughter, June 27, 1957, Greensboro.

'52

Diana (Addison) Johnson's husband received his M.S. degree in Geology from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, in June and is employed with Pan American Petroleum in Oklahoma City. They have a daughter, Lynda 7 months.

Janet (Batts) Buchanan and her husband are teaching at Miller School, in Virginia. Mr. Buchanan is working on his Ph.D. at the University of Virginia. They have two little girls, Bonny 2½ and Scott 3 months.

Elizabeth (Bell) Thompson is a homemaker in Urbana, Ill.

Mararet (Brown) Blocker is a primary teacher in Rocky Mount.

Peggy (Feimster) Osnoe teaches a fifth grade, New Providence School, Clarksville, Tenn.

Frances Ferebee is a physicist, Naval Ordnance Laboratory, Silver Spring, Md.

Cora Lillian Green, Yadkinville, received her master's degree in Education from Woman's College in June.

Shirley (Hack) Hamilton is a homemaker in Raleigh.

Naomi (Hanna) McCluskey, Greensboro, received her master's degree in Education from Woman's College in June.

Lucille Hannah to Robert Eugene Cocke, June 22, 1957, Franklin. "My husband is with the U. S. Forest Service as an Assistant Ranger, and we are living in Talladega, Ala."

Betty (Harrington) Griffin is living in Anchorage, Alaska, where her husband is serving with the Armed Forces.

Susan (Hooks) Aycock lives in Mebane. They have a daughter, Nancy Oneida.

Joyce Howe to James Wagner, October 26, West Springfield, Mass. "After teaching in East Hartford, Conn., for three years, I worked in Germany for 19 months as Recreation Director for the Army (strictly civilian capacity). Had fascinating experiences and grand opportunities for travel. I am now teaching in West Hartford, Conn."

Catherin (Hudson) Smith has a daughter, Sandra Leigh, born last February. The Smiths live at 611 North Peace Haven Rd., Winston-Salem.

Doris (Huffines) Bernhardt's husband has joined the law firm of Smith, Moore, Smith, Scheil & Hunter, Greensboro, where they moved in September. Mr. Bernhardt attended Davidson College, served in the U. S. Air Force, was graduated from the University of North Carolina, and received his bachelor of laws degrees there last June. Doris is an assistant to the Director of Elliott Hall, Woman's College. The Bernhardts have a son, Richmond G., III.

Martha (Hurlocker) Bledsoe teaches in the City Schools of Charlotte.

Virginia Rae (Ingram) Teague has two sons and they live in Aiken, S. C.

Barbara (Jobe) Michos is a technical illustrator with Western Electric, Winston-Salem. Her husband is a designer, working for Lehigh Engineers Assocs. of Newark, N. J., on assignment to Reynolds Tobacco Co.

Elizabeth Kent is secretary to Congressman Reece, Washington, D. C.

Evelyn (Lawrence) Boyette teaches at the Greenville Junior High School and her husband is on the faculty of East Carolina College. They have two children, Sally and Josephine.

'50

Janet (Bachman) White has moved to 2214 Hawthorne Lane, Kinston.

Louise (Birchett) Shelby's husband is a salesman for Burroughs Corp., and they live in Richmond, Va. They have a son, nearly 3.

Mona (Phipps) Baldwin has moved to Decatur, Ga., after 16 months in Nashville, Tenn. "Frances (Harrison) Lane '51 lives down the street from us. At present our family consists of two boys, Mark 6 and Scott 4, a Boxer and her two pups and a Siamese cat."

Jane (Head) Guthrie is a housewife and mother and lives at 2569 Jody Lane, N.E., Atlanta, Ga.

Rosemary Jacobs to Edward Stanford Lamb, June 15, 1957, Winston-Salem. The bridegroom was graduated from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and is a claims adjuster for an insurance company in Lumberton.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Barnes (Romona Lamm), a daughter, Cathy Jo, March 13, 1957, Danville, Va.

Janet (Large) Best lives at 254 Irwin Drive, Fort Bragg.

Penelope (Pantelakos) Metropoul of Manning, S. C. has a daughter, Jennie Marie, nearly one. Her mother adds "she is quite a beauty."

Joyce (Parker) Robertson's husband is an architect in Syracuse, N. Y. They have three girls.

Frances (Leatherwood) Adams does secretarial work in Winston-Salem.

Mary Elizabeth Lynch to James Hardin Hill, June 2, 1957, Mount Airy. Mr. Hill was graduated from Perry Business College, served in the Pacific in World War II, and is now a partner in Galax Feed and Furniture Company, Va.

Nancy Lee Maples to Robert Andrew Weant, June 22, 1957, Rocky Mount. Mr. Weant received a B.S. and Master of Arts degrees in education from the University of North Carolina. He is employed by Paul and Crymes, Inc., of Charlotte. Nancy is teaching physical education at Queens College.

Hilda (Marston) Langley's husband is a senior at State College, Raleigh, where they are living. Hilda says she is caring for Jeff 2½, and looking forward to "their" graduation.

Lucy Page is Mrs. Carl B. Wagner, Hudson.

Raedelle (Patterson) Brooks teaches English at Cleveland High School, Johnston, County. They live at 324 Blanche Street, Clayton. They have a son, Harry, III, nearly a year old.

Betty Jo (Petrea) Kornowski is a housewife in Somerville, N. J.

Lucille Ann (Pillatt) Crumling, 5706 Northwood Drive, Baltimore 12, Md., has a year old daughter, Luray.

Joyce (Powell) Rabon teaches a sixth grade in Camden, S. C. The Rabons have a son, Randy 1.

Anne (Reavis) Creech is a social worker in Concord.

Lora Jean (Reeves) Thrash lives in Robbinsville, where her husband is assistant ranger for U. S. Forest Service. They have one son, Doug 3½.

Joan Roberts to Aimar Heyward Benton, August 4, 1957, Leaksville. Last year Joan was a residence hall counselor and co-ordinator of religious activities at Woman's College. Mr. Benton served two years in the Navy, was graduated from the University of South Carolina and is with Citizens & Southern National Bank, Augusta, Ga. At home 191 Mansion Homes, Augusta.

—A WC Family Tree—

Chancellor Emeritus and Mrs. W. C.

Jackson

Helen Clapp '27 and W. C. Jackson, Jr.

Jacqueline Johnson '52 and W. C.

Jackson, III

Julia Leigh Jackson

Born on June 20, 1957

Class of 1979

And Julia's big sister is also a part of this Woman's College family tree.

Carol (Rogers) Billings' husband is assistant professor of Drama at Montana State College in Bozeman, Montana. "This is a magnificently beautiful state and we do love it here."

Anne Cly (Russell) Applegate's husband is an engineer at Western Electric in Winston-Salem. "We are again civilians, after being in the Air Force for three years at Wright-Patterson Field, Daytonia, Ohio. Our home is kept lively by Sharon 3, David 16 months and Steven 4 months.

Jane (Sarsfield) Shoaf's address in Durham is 2200 Guess Road.

Norma Jean Sherrer to Ray Holliday Kenmore, June 15, Asheville. At home in Burlington, where the bridegroom, a graduate of the University of South Carolina, is an engineer for Western Electric Co.

Joyce Sherrill to Dr. Stuart Fletcher Clayton, August 24, 1957, Hickory. Dr. Clayton is a graduate of the University of North Carolina and the UNC School of Dentistry. He served with the U. S. Army and now practices dentistry in Hickory, where they are at home.

Dorothy (Shiver) Hubbard lives in Wilkesboro.

Carolyn (Smith) Ivey is with the N. C. Extension Service in Farm and Home Development, with headquarters in Greensboro. Her husband owns a dairy farm near McLeansville, where they live.

Priscilla (Snider) Schaeneman lives at Covington, Ky., where she is homemaking and caring for a daughter, Laura Priscilla.

Virginia (Steele) Wood is teaching in the Buckingham School, Cambridge, Mass.

Charlene (Thomas) Dale, Charlotte, received her master's degree in Education from Woman's College in June.

Elizabeth Bryan Winfield to Robert Modewell Sloan, October 5, Washington. The bridegroom attended the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and was graduated from Presbyterian College in Clinton. He attended Wake Forest Law School and is now with First National Bank in Atlanta, Ga. At home, Decatur, Ga.

Naney (Witherspoon) Welchans lives at Route 2, Box 83, Boulder, Colo.

'53

(Next Class Reunion on May 31, 1958)

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Gene Jarvis (Jean Andrews), a daughter, Holly Lynn, September 27, Asheville.

Mary (Arrowood) Hopson's husband is professor of geology at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md. They went to the Sierras in California during the summer.

Mary Jane (Beam) Noblitt's husband is a senior in the School of Dentistry, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. They have two sons, William 4 and Robert 2½.

Kathleen Bodenheimer is assistant home demonstration agent in Wilkes County, with headquarters in North Wilkesboro. She was formerly in Roanoke Rapids.

Joyce (Bowen) Early lives in Greenville, where her husband attends East Carolina College. They have two children, Keith 3 and Joyce 2.

Ethel Crawford Bonner to Dr. Lucius Clyde Sheehan, Jr., June 15, 1957, Raleigh. Dr. Sheehan was graduated from the Georgia Institute of Technology and from Mercer University and from the Medical College of Georgia with a doctor of medicine. At home, Brookwood Apts., Macon, Ga., while Dr. Sheehan interns at the Macon Hospital.

Patsy Jane Brinson to John William Burwell, June 22, 1957, New Bern. The bridegroom was graduated from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and received his master's degree from New York University. He is employed by Wachovia Bank, Winston-Salem. The bride teaches at Salem College.

Valinda (Buller) Feather's husband is teaching physics and chemistry in the Burnham, Penna. high school. Valinda is homemaking and caring for their two children.

Barbara Ellen Carden to Rev. William Preston Berry, September 7, Durham. At home, New Castle, Va.

Patsy Ruth Clodfelter to Frank Gettys Bowers, June 16, 1957, High Point. Mr. Bowers attended Catawba College in Salisbury and was graduated from Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Tex. He is in partnership with his father as Nationwide Insurance representative in Morganton. The bride teaches home economics at Glen Alpine High School. At home, 405 Patton Street, Morganton.

Betty (Cobb) Baysdon teaches in Jacksonville.

Virginia (Craig) Downs' husband teaches history at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Va. Their son, Alan Craig, is 1.

Ann (Darlington) Thomas, who is a homemaker, lives at 707 W. Main Street, South Hill, Va.

Billie Jo Ervin teaches home economics, Eastway School, Charlotte.

Jean (Fogleman) Bolton, of Greensboro, travels over the United States doing consultant and promotional work for Sarong, Inc., along with modeling and fashion shows.

Ann (Foster) Wise lives at 1107 Goodson Road, Hartsville, S. C. They have a girl, Diane 1.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Downs (Mary Howard Franck), a second daughter, Mary Katherine, May 23, Toledo, Ohio.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. William F. Black (Jo Ann Fuller), a daughter, August 16, Greensboro.

Margaret (Fuanay) Lewis' husband has joined the firm of Wilson, Hosick & Co., Certified Public Accountants in Winston-Salem. They have a son, Gary Edward, born June 20.

Mary Gaither writes: "This year I am at Pepperrell Air Force Base in Newfoundland. It is my first military town and I am enjoying it very much. I am teaching first grade here and find that we are going much faster than

I ever did in the States. I now have 31 youngsters—19 boys and 12 girls." Mary's address is: DAFC, Box T, MDS, APO 862, New York, N. Y.

Martha (Gaston) Nall, who has been in Kobe, Japan, expects to return to the States early in the Fall. The Nalls have a daughter, Mary Evelyn, nearly 1.

Harriet Hall is working for the Mecklenburg County Department of Welfare, Charlotte.

Helen (Hammond) Hough is a caseworker with the Cumberland County Welfare Department, Fayetteville, where her husband is with the Social Security Administration.

Frances Harman teaches at Merry Oaks School, Charlotte.

Patricia (Harrelson) Woodson's husband is supervisor of the City Elementary Schools in Lumberton.

Lucille Hassell teaches in Charlotte.

Peggy (Helms) Tyson's husband is serving three Methodist churches between Valdese and Morganton. He is writing dissertation for degree of Doctor of Theology from Union Theological Seminary in New York. "We had a daughter, Linda Sheridan, July 7."

Mary Ellen (Hollemen) Odom teaches in Greensboro.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. James C. Taylor (Jean Howard), a second son, John Howard, July 31, Levittown, Pa.

This is Adelaide Johnson's fifth year as head of the Business Department, Louisville College. She is also sponsor of Alpha Pi Epsilon, honorary business fraternity, and Future Business Leaders of America.

Sara (Jones) Hambleton lives at Edwards Air Force Base, where her husband is in an experimental test pilot school. They have two children, Libbie 2 and a son, nearly 1.

Dorothy Ann Kerner to Dr. John Henry Per-Lee, June 22, 1957, Bethlehem, Pa. Dr. Per-Lee is a graduate of Dartmouth College and Cornell Medical College. He is now a resident physician in otolaryngology at New York hospital.

Marion Kimmelsiel is at 2 Parkview Place, Ann Arbor, Mich. She is a medical social worker at the University of Michigan Hospital, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Anna Marie Kyzer to David Snyder Overton, August 10, 1957, Hamlet. The bride teaches in Sanford. Her husband is a graduate of the University of North Carolina School of Pharmacy. He is owner and manager of the Center Drug Store, Sanford, where they are at home.

Barbara (Little) Franklin's husband is a physical therapist in Middlesboro, Ky. They have a daughter, Shirley Ann 2.

Louise (Long) Wilson teaches seventh grade, Guilford High School. Her husband is with General Motors Acceptance Corporation in Greensboro.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. G. Robert Culp (Betty McCoy), a son, Robert Jeffrey, August 14, Jacksonville, Fla.

Polly (McDuffie) Hall's husband is a Methodist minister, Bald Creek. They have two children, Cameron 3 and Mark 5 months.

Carol (Miller) Hopper's husband is with Sunnydale Meats, Gaffney, S. C.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leary Gillikin (Marlene Louise Muller), a son, Thomas L., Jr., July 5, N. Augusta, S. C. The Gillikins have a little girl, Susan 2.

Patricia (Owen) Hedrick lives at Route 6, Statesville.

Rebecca (Rhyne) Hovis is assistant home agent in Gaston County. They live in Dallas.

Marie (Richardson) Baker's husband is out of the U. S. Air Force and they are now living at 2217 Norman Drive, Clearwater, Fla.

Josephine (Robertson) Galardo writes from 174 Thornton Avenue, Town of Mount Royal, Montreal 16, Quebec: "Deborah Ann was born May 4, 1957. A second daughter, Jody, is now over two. Tony has started his second year of medicine at the University of Montreal. We have bought a beautiful house and are very happy with our family and our home. Would love to see anyone who happens to be up this way—and there must be some once in a while!"

Ruth (Sevier) Foster of Kannapolis writes: "We camped out at State Parks on our vacation to Valparaiso, Indiana. Enjoyed a White Sox game and Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago and swimming in Lake Michigan at Indiana Dunes. Came back through Kentucky with a tour of Mammoth Cave. Our children are—Jan 3 and Robin 1."

Mary Frances Skidmore has been doing graduate work at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Doris (Smith) Prather's husband is an Air Force Jet Fighter Pilot, stationed in Austin, Texas, where they are at home.

Juanita Smith to Walter Wendrix, Jr., August 13, Lexington. The bridegroom spent two years in the Army and is now a senior at Wake Forest College. The bride teaches in Winston-Salem.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Unger (Janet Stern), a daughter, Susan Beth, August 8, Fords, N. J.

Juanita (Stokes) Williams, teaching the high school chorus, Greenville.

Betty (Styers) Harbison teaches a first grade, Chesterfield School, Morganton. The Harbisons have two sons, Charles Robert, Jr., and Steven Douglas.

Katherine (Swanson) Gillesberg works in the Training Department, Personnel Division, of L. Lamberger and Company, Newark, N. J. Her husband is employed by Wallace and Tiernan, Inc., of Belleville, N. J., in the export department. They were married last February 23. "I was so happy that Harriette (Anthony) Carlson '53 and her husband and Dodie (Snider) Muhlenberg '53 and her husband could come to our wedding."

Ruby (Taylor) Parker, Scotland Neck, teaches business in the high school there. During the past two years she has taught night classes. Her Future Business Leaders of America Club received honors at the State Convention—two students won typewriters in spelling and public speaking contests and another student was elected state reporter.

Lorene (Thomas) Johnson has moved from Anderson, Ind., to Denton.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moore (Lea S. Upchurch), a daughter, Michele Amber, May 2, Raleigh. Mr. Moore is a senior at State College, where he is majoring in civil engineering.

Mary Anne (Weatherly) Hall's husband is in the field of electrical engineering at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville. Mary Anne completed requirements for a Master's Degree in Education at Duke University during the summer. She teaches a fourth grade in the Knoxville City Schools.

Joan (Whelpley) Cblan teaches physical education at the Western High School, Baltimore, Md.

Born to Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. Wilkinson (Ann Claire Woodall), a son, Jim, June 23, 1957, Durham. Dr. Wilkinson is an assistant resident on the surgical house staff of Duke Hospital, Durham.

Dot (Woody) Markley teaches a fifth grade in the Forest Hill Elementary School, Burlington. She has a daughter, Debbie 2.

Jo Ann Zimmerman to Lt. Wayne Hamilton Oldfield, June 24, 1957, U. S. Naval Academy Chapel, Annapolis, Md. Lieutenant Oldfield was graduated from the Naval Academy and is now stationed at Bartow, Fla., where they are living. Jo Ann teaches first grade in Bartow.

'54

Bette Jean Allison teaches in Newark, Del.

Nancy Alice (Barrow) Abbutt lives at 12 Canary Road, College Park, Md.

Nancy Beamer to Dr. Roger Hiatt, June 29, Mount, Airy. Dr. Hiatt received a bachelor of science degree from Brigham Young University in Utah and his doctor of optometry degree from Southern College of Optometry at Memphis, served two years as a lieutenant in the Medical Corps of the Navy and now is a junior at the University of Tennessee Medical School, Memphis.

Emily Robbins Bowen received an assignment with Army Special Services and left in September for duty in Germany and France. She will work as a recreation leader.

Lou Bradley, Greensboro, received her master's degree in Education from Woman's College in June.

Marilyn Brannon, who is a 1st lieutenant, U. S. Medical Specialist Corps., is stationed at Fort Riley, Kan., where she does physical therapy work.

Linda Carroll teaches elementary art, New York School for the Deaf, White Plains, N. Y.

Mary Helen Cooper to Graham Watson Somers, August 10, 1957, Charlotte. Mr. Somers, a graduate of Mars Hill College, received his B. A. degree from Berea College, and his master's degree from Duke University. He teaches at Myers Park High School, Charlotte. Mary Helen teaches at the Plaza Road School there.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Phillips, Jr. (Barbara Cornelius), a son, August 7, Greensboro. Mr. Phillips is the son of Lela (Wade) Phillips '22, and Mr. Phillips, Public Relations Director at Woman's College.

Peggie Jean Deck to Charles Julian Whaley, September 7, Durham. The bridegroom attended

State College, Raleigh, and is employed by Peden Steel Company there.

Julia Deskins to Dr. Richard Werner Vook, September 7, Greensboro. Dr. Vook received a B. A. degree from Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., and his M.S. and Ph.D. in physics from the University of Illinois. The bride received a master's degree in Music from the University of Illinois, where Dr. Vook was a member of the teaching and research staff of the physics department. He is now a research physicist with the IBM Research Laboratory, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where they are at home.

Patsy (Ellinger) Rumbough has a two-year-old son, Roy, Jr., and they live in Chapel Hill.

Phyllis (Franklin) Bierstedt's husband is with DuPont in Wilmington, Del., and they are living at 3906-B Lancaster Pike.

Rebecca Freeman is a teaching assistant in Housing and Home Management, School of Home Economics, Woman's College, Greensboro.

Mildred (Fuller) McGowan teaches in Faison. The McGowans have a son, James, who is 1.

Rowena (Gee) Lachot recently moved to 609 North Park Avenue, Dunn.

Jeanne Marie (Gravely) Waggoner, home-making, Bethesda, Md.

Virginia J. Harris is reference assistant in the Public Library of Charlotte and Mecklenburg County.

Mary Dean Hedrick to Kenneth Leigh Steele, June 16, 1957, Lexington. Mr. Steele served two years with the Army and was graduated in June from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. Mary Dean teaches in the business department of Walter Williams High School, Burlington.

Betty Jo Hill is doing graduate work in religion at Garrett Biblical Institute, which is on the campus of Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Edith Holcomb is a fifth grade teacher in the Yadkinville School.

Ashley Holland to Graham Pinson Dozier, III, August 24, Greensboro. The bridegroom, a veteran of the Air Force, was graduated from Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn. He is now a salesman for International Business Machines Corp., Winston-Salem, where Ashley teaches.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Wade H. Presson (Avis Irvin), a daughter, June 1, 1957. The Pressons live in Sugar Grove, where Avis is home economics teacher.

Willie Belle (Johnson) Redmond teaches in Mocksville. She has a daughter, Athena 8 months.

Agnes (Lee) Farthing teaches home economics in North Wilkesboro.

Hope Leonard does library work in Chapel Hill.

Ruth (Long) Greer teaches in Boone.

Emmalen McLeod is with the Research Laboratories of the V. A. Hospital in Atlanta, Ga.

Patricia Jo McMahan to William Paul Holt, Jr., August 17, Greensboro. Mr. Holt was graduated from Guilford College and the Law School of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. He is now a member of the law firm of Hall & Thornburg, Sylva. The bride is seventh grade supervisor at McKee Laboratory School, Western Carolina College, Cullowhee.

Barbara (Mallard) Thomas to Dr. Donald Austin Olewine, August 11, Chapel Hill. Dr. Olewine was graduated from Dickinson College and received his doctorate from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. At home, Burlington, Vermont, where the bridegroom is an instructor in the medical school at the University of Vermont.

Clara Elizabeth Morris to Carl Stanley Hedberg, June 23, 1957, Charlotte. Mr. Hedberg attended Franklin Institute and North Eastern University of Boston. He is employed by Charles T. Main Engineers of Boston, Mass. Clara is teaching in Newtonville, Mass.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. F. West (Georgia Nicolas), a daughter, Ellen Lynn, July 29, Winston-Salem. "I enjoy reading the NEWS, but I do wish more of the girls would write in information about themselves."

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin D. Haines (Marjorie Preisinger), a daughter, August 19, Greensboro.

Beth Putnam to George Hamrick, July 6, 1957, Shelby. Mr. Hamrick was graduated from Wake Forest College and is now a senior in the law school there. Beth teaches at Lattimore.

Jean (Ragan) Woodson is a newspaper woman in Denver, Colo.

Gail (Reilly) Grim is homemaking in Quantico, Va., where her husband is a pilot in the Marine Corps.

Patsy (Sherrill) Jordan and her husband live in Chapel Hill, where Mr. Jordan is attending the University of North Carolina. Patsy is the Girls' Health and Physical education instructor at Northern High School in Durham.

Mary Ann Spencer received a master of music in music literature from the University of Rochester, Rochester, N. Y. in June. She is a public school music teacher in Seattle, Wash.

Betty Louise (Templeton) Lilly teaches business subjects in Greensboro.

Thelma (Thompson) Miller teaches in the Willston School, Falls Church, Va.

Anne Rivers (Tripp) Summers, Greensboro, received her master's degree in Education from Woman's College in June.

Betty (West) Curlin is a homemaker in Winston-Salem.

Barbara Ann Woolard teaches mathematics at the Washington High School, Washington, N. C.

'55

Frances Carol Alexander to Bobby Jack Campbell, August 24, Burlington. Mr. Campbell received B.A. and M.A. degrees in psychology from Texas Christian University and did further graduate work at the University of North Carolina. At home, Carrboro.

Mary Louise (Anderson) Lewis is a laboratory technician at State College, Raleigh, where her husband is a student, majoring in recreation.

Henry (Baggett) Moses and her husband, a first lieutenant in the Army, have been living at Fort Bragg, where he has been stationed. They expect to go to Butzbach, Germany, in November, where they will be for three years.

Emily Jean (Bancroft) Lewis is secretary to Col. George Webb, Adjutant General, Quartermaster Training Command, Ft. Lee, Va.

Barbara (Blue) Greer lives in Aberdeen. Their daughter, Laura, was born April 1.

Sue Byerly to Louis Leonidas Sasser, Jr., July 20, Durham. The bridegroom was graduated from Duke University and is now employed by Drum and Forster Group of Insurance Companies. Sue teaches at the Club Boulevard School in Durham, where they live.

Mary Ann (Callahan) Sugg's husband is with American Oil Company in Charlotte. She taught last year in Mooresville, while her husband attended Davidson College, where he was graduated in January. They have a daughter, Karen Lee 1.

Barbara (Campbell) Clark is still assistant home demonstration agent in Craven County, and lives in New Bern.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. C. Bulkley Gibson (Mary Jo Campbell), a daughter, Sharon Ann, September 14, Washington, D. C.

Imogene Carter teaches at Myers Park High School, Charlotte.

Deanie (Chatbam) Calaway has moved to Salisbury, where her husband is assistant manager of the Montgomery Ward, Inc.

Norma Jean Cofer to John Knox Witherspoon, Jr., September 28, Winston-Salem. Mr. Witherspoon was graduated from McCallie School, Chattanooga, Tenn., and from Princeton University, in New Jersey, where he belonged to the Press Club, the Elm Club and Phi Beta Kappa. He served in the U. S. Army two years and is now employed by Provident Life and Accident Insurance Company of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Betty Jean (Collins) Christy teaches fifth grade, Kannapolis. During the summer she began work on her master's degree in Education, Appalachian State Teachers College, Boone.

Ann (Colvard) Stover lives at 5340 Cobb Drive, Dayton 3, Ohio.

Millicent (Cooley) Wiener's husband is stationed at Books A.F.B., San Antonio, Texas, where they live. Their daughter, Florence Eva, is nearly 1.

Jeanette Parrish Cutbrell to Jerrald Allison Ridge, August 10, Norfolk, Va. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and is a member of the sales department of Reynolds Tobacco Company, Baltimore, Md., where they are living at 1527 Medford Road.

Zora Fay Daniel teaches at Alexander Graham Junior High, Charlotte.

Mary Jane Dickerson to Cecil Wyche Capps, August 3, 1957, Oxford. Mr. Capps is a student at State College, Raleigh, where they are at home at 2109 Park Drive.

Doris Ann Durham to Arthur Lee Seabolt, August 18, 1957, Burgaw. The bridegroom is a student at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and the bride teaches in Hillsboro.

Frances Nell Green to Herbert Basil Magill, August 31, Raleigh. Mr. Magill served with the U. S. Army, attended Pfeiffer College and State

Left to right: Jaydev, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harshraj Mehta (PAGE COLEMAN '48) of Bombay, India, Patricia and Carol, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McDaniel, Jr. (DOROTHY MANSFIELD '42) of Orange Park, Florida, Bonnie Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jones (SONIA ANGSTADT '52) of Rochester, N. Y. George, Al, and Betsy, children of Mr. and Mrs. Albert McAulay (JOHNNIE YORK '46) of Mt. Gilead, Mary, J. D., Susie, and Kit, children of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Benson (KATIE DECK '47x) of Pawling, N. Y.

College, and is now employed by the Duke Power Company in Charlotte. At home there.

Elizabeth (Griffin) Green's husband has recently been released from the U. S. Army and they are presently in Robersonville. They have a daughter, Karen Elizabeth, born March 15.

Jean Carole (Griffin) Rogers teaches commercial subjects in Laurinburg.

Josie Grimes to Paul Raymond Berrier, August 11, Thomasville. The bridegroom received his A.B. degree from Duke University and is a senior in Duke's Divinity School. He is also minister of Grace Methodist Church, Asheboro. Josie teaches in the Asheboro schools.

Lillian (Harding) Scholl's husband is in his last year of study at the Virginia Theological Seminary, Alexandria, Va. They live at 4334 Raleigh Avenue, Alexandria, Va.

Madeline Wayne Hartsell to Dr. Clyde Leslie Taylor, October 26, Charlotte. Dr. Hartsell is practicing dentistry in Greensboro, where they are at home.

Edna Joyce Hayes teaches a fourth grade at Park Road, Charlotte.

Dorothy (Howard) McDaniel is temporarily in Buies Creek, where she is teaching and home-making, while her husband is serving as a Naval Air Force pilot.

Marian D. Hunter is now Mrs. John Van Ness Andrews, Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Aberdeen, Md.

Karen Ann Jensen is an Eastern Air Lines' flight attendant, stationed in Charlotte. "I am now a veteran of two years and roughly 2,000 hours in the air. The world is a lovely place from 8,000 feet."

Rose Marie Johnson teaches in Smithfield.

Lois Jones to Donald Basnight Freeman, August 24, Greenville. Mr. Freeman received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from East Carolina College. He is employed by the Shenandoah Life Insurance Company, Greenville. Lois is assistant home demonstration agent in Pitt County.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clodfelter (Joan Kearns), a son, Robert Benjamin, August 21, Winston-Salem. Their daughter, Kim, is 2½.

Louise (Kiser) Miller lives at 6310 Oakfield Road, Columbia, S. C.

Unni Kjosnes is a physical therapist at the North Carolina Cerebral Palsy Hospital, Durham.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Larry W. Harper (Marie Kornegay), a son, Wyatt Talmadge, June 11, 1957, Mount Olive. The Harpers have a daughter, Larie 1½.

Annie (McClelland) Smith teaches in Roanoke, Va.

Anne Matthew Mason to James Benton Messer, II, June 23, 1957, Yadkinville. Mr. Messer, a graduate of the University of Kentucky, served two years in the Army medical service in Korea and did graduate work at the University of North Carolina, is employed by the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission as a fisheries biologist. At home, Waynesville.

Jean Massey, teaching, Burlington.

Jerita (Miller) Johnson is a homemaker in Graham.

Ruth Miller is teaching fourth grade, Myrtle Heights Elementary School, Myrtle Beach, S. C.

Ruth Crisp Nelson to William Pryor Davis, September 21, Lenoir. The bridegroom graduated from State College, Raleigh, and is associated with the Klopman Division of Burlington Industries, Greensboro.

Astrid Parmele is Mrs. Norman George, 3157 Martha Custice Drive, Alexandria, Va.

Barbara (Pillatt) Resnick and her husband, a lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force, have moved from Pasadena, Texas, where he received his navigator wings at Ellington AF Base, to Mather AFB, Sacramento, Calif. Their address is 5939 Marconi Avenue, Apt. 8, Carmichael, Calif.

Margaret Porcher of Charleston, S. C., and Suzanne Rodgers, of Scotland Neck, arrived in France on July 26 and will tour Europe until October 29.

June (Rapp) Bitzer writes from 9 Bennett Place, Westfield, N. J.

Vira Anne Rodgers to Allen Edward Kivett, August 17, Asheboro. Mr. Kivett attended Greenbrier Military School, served two years in the Army, and is now a student at Greensboro College. The bride is a dietitian at Woman's College.

Jean (Seawell) Rankin is a laboratory technician in Plant Pathology at State College, Raleigh, where her husband is a junior in the Industrial Arts Department. They have a son, Edwin, Jr., born January 5, 1957.

Betty (Sexton) Rieger's husband was recently discharged from the U. S. Army and is now in the drug store business with his father in Baton Rouge, La.

Billie (Sledge) Erwin's husband is pastor of the McDowell Presbyterian Church, Greeleyville, S. C. He was graduated in May from Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Va.

Nannette Starling is a physical therapist at the Easter Seal Rehabilitation Center for Crippled Children and Adults in Miami, Fla. "Peggy (Harris) Swafford '55 visited me in September."

Barbara L. Steelman teaches fourth grade, Kinston.

Gloria Anne Talbot completed work in May for a Master of Arts Degree in English at Duke University which was awarded in September. She received a grant-in-aid scholarship and spent the summer there doing doctoral work in English.

Geraldine Bennett Tatum to James Bryant Cochran, June 30, 1957, Greensboro. The bridegroom attended Lees-McRae College at Banner Elk and is employed by the North Carolina Department of Revenue, Greensboro. The bride is a piano teacher at McLeansville School. At home, 1846 Villa Drive, Greensboro.

Jeanne Wagoner is athletic director and assistant to the Housemother at Chatham Hall, Chatham, Va.

Nancy Walker is a law student, George Washington University, Washington, D. C.

Lula Margaret Wall, Lilesville, received a Master of Fine Arts degree from Woman's College in June.

Patricia Jane Warlick to Kenneth Roger White, August 25, Statesville. The bridegroom is a senior at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. The bride is teaching in Chapel Hill.

Rachel (Warlick) Dunn teaches music at Oxford Orphanage. She also directs the choir in the Oxford Methodist Church.

Patty (Wilhelm) Sawyer is a housewife and mother of a son, David Vance 1½. They live at Kalamazoo, Mich.

'56 Nancy Carolyn Andrews to Watts Q. Beard, Jr., August 17, 1957, Durham. The bridegroom graduated from the University of North Carolina and will be a candidate for his doctorate in chemistry next June at Duke University. At home, 1007 W. Trinity Avenue, Durham.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howard (Beverly Annis), a son, Richard Edward, June 2, Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mary Edith Bagwell is working in the serology department in the State Laboratory of Hygiene in Raleigh.

Mary Ann (Baum) Marger and her husband spent the summer vacationing in Europe. They are now living at 50-A Boylston Street, Apt. 2, Cambridge 38, Mass.

LaVerne Blue teaches a fifth grade at Easton School in Winston-Salem.

Mae Yvonne Britt to Willis Everette Murphey, III, August 17, Lumberton. Mr. Murphey was graduated from Wake Forest College and its law school. He was named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities and was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. At home, Roanoke Rapids.

Shirley (Brown) Koonce teaches vocational home economics in Waynesville, Mo. She attended the American Home Economics Association Convention in St. Louis, Mo., last June, where she "was delighted to see Kay Beatty '55. We had our own W.C. Alumnae Luncheon!"

Paula Bruce to Floyd Robert Horton, August 10, Atlanta, Ga. At home, College Park, Ga.

Evelyn Kathryn Clay is a secretary for Gardner, Morrison & Rogers, Washington, D. C.

Shirley (Councilman) Lindley lives at Route 3, Chapel Hill.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Poteet (Ann Crymes), a son, Sam Holladay, Jr., August 10, Greensboro.

Jane Deans teaches a second grade at Sherwood-Bates School, Raleigh. "Living at 301 Brooks Avenue with Lela Morris '55 and two other teachers. Worked at Campus in the Woods-Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship training camp for college students in Canada during the past summer."

Dorothy (Donalson) Moore, whose husband is a journalist, teaches kindergarten in the Dayton, Ohio, Public School System.

Sylvia Janet (Durham) Isley is a homemaker in Mt. Airy.

Betty Elzey is a dietitian at the V.A. Hospital, Montrose, N. Y.

Frances Fortune to Edward Gardner Ceely, June 15, Brevard. Mr. Ceely is a graduate of Coyne School, Chicago, Ill., Brevard College and the University of North Carolina. He is affiliated with the Radio Corporation of America in Cocoa, Fla., where they are living.

Patricia Godwin works with Duke Power Company, Winston-Salem.

Doris Joan Harlow to John Goldie Balfour, September 1, New Bern. Mr. Balfour is an alumnus of Presbyterian Junior College and of High Point College. He is engaged in farming at Lumber Bridge, where they are at home at Inver Leith Farm.

Betty Jane Harvey to Lycurgus Cutler Ham, August 17, Greensboro. Mr. Ham was graduated from Christ School, Arden, and attends Guilford College. Betty Jane is a member of the faculty of Brooks School at Greensboro.

Joan (Hester) King's address is 11 Montgomery Road, Cambridge, Cambs, England.

Betty Holland (Bell) Smith's address is Box 205, Elizabeth City.

Vali Lazarr teaches in New Jersey and "hopes to go to Harvard graduate school next fall."

Marjorie Leder to Donald Philip Harris, June 30, 1957, Whiteville. Mr. Harris was graduated from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and has entered the Medical School there. At home, No. 9 Hillsboro Apts., Chapel Hill.

Harold Lee to Vernon Aiken Vaughn, August 31, Asheville. Mr. Vaughn was graduated from State College, Raleigh, spent more than three years in the U. S. Army, and is now a field engineer with Western Electric Company at Whippann, N. J. At home, Lake Hiawatha, N. J.

Carolyn (Lentz) Lithgo says she is "having a wonderful time just being a mother to our son, William Joseph, born May 17." Mr. Lithgo works with Security Bank in Greensboro.

Joyce Long has completed work for her master's degree in English at Cornell and is now studying theology and literature at the University of Chicago Divinity School. Her address is 73 Gates, 1010 E. 59th Street, Chicago 37, Ill.

Clarajo Lovett to Capt. Donald Peter Gruendel, September 21, Asheboro. The bridegroom attended Loyola University and received his medical degree from Stritch School of Medicine, Chicago, Ill. Following his discharge from the Army in October, they planned to go to Milwaukee, Wis., where he will take residency at Milwaukee County Hospital.

Virginia (Marshall) Schafer teaches in Houston, Texas.

Sandra (Molsinger) Jones lives at 633 Twin Oak Drive, Decatur, Ga. Her husband is working with Arthur Andersen Public Accounting Firm and Sandra is doing supply teaching.

Marion Lois Prescott to Lt. John David Wray, June 30, 1957, Raleigh. Lieutenant Wray was graduated from Georgia Tech, and is now serving with the U. S. Army, stationed at Ft. Eustis, Va.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Singleton (Jeanne Pritchard), a daughter, Lynn Marie, October 9, Greensboro.

Nancy Quinn to Benjamin Cooper McCoy, III, August 10, Winston-Salem. Mr. McCoy attended Louisiana State University and Centenary College and is youth director of the Raleigh Y.M.C.A. At home, Glenwood Garden Apts., Raleigh.

Cynthia Reed spent last summer in Europe, where she visited nine countries. "I saw Julie Sanders '55 on a tour and also saw Dr. Eugenia Hunter, of the Woman's College faculty, pass on a train in Copenhagen."

Rose (Samet) Kline is a homemaker in Columbia, S. C. She was an attendant in the wedding of her former roommate, Clarajo Lovett.

Norma (Saunders) Fitzgerald is doing secretarial work in Reidsville, while her husband is serving with the U. S. Army in Tokyo, Japan.

Mary Elizabeth Scott to James Dalton Wordsworth, Jr., October 13, Clinton. Mr. Wordsworth was graduated from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and is personnel and purchasing officer at Woman's College, Greensboro. Last year Mary Elizabeth was secretary to the director of residence halls at the College.

Carolyn V. Shepard is first vice-president of the Asheboro Branch of the North Carolina Education Association.

Betty Reel Shuford to Valdis Juris Zeps, September 9, Clinton.

Mary Talley to George Philmore Upton, Jr., June 22, 1957, Randleman. A graduate of State College, Raleigh, the bridegroom is assistant farm agent of Sampson County, with headquarters in Clinton.

Patricia Lee (Teague) Packett's husband is with the U. S. Air Force, stationed in Greenland. Patricia will be with her family in Marion until his return.

Mary Jane (Tinsley) Sutherland's husband received his degree of B.S. in furniture manufacturing from State College, Raleigh, and is now in training with Drexel Furniture Company, Morganton. At home, 118 Jefferson Street.

Ellen (Towne) Ledbetter is teaching English in the Franklin High School. Her husband is connected with Burlington Hosiery Company there.

Alice Dillon Walker to Murray B. Lynch, Jr., July 27, 1957, Washington. Mr. Lynch attended East Carolina College and is now associated with a life insurance company in Greenville, where they are living. Alice teaches seventh grade in Chocowinity.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Irv Fox (Barbara Weiss), a son, Kenneth Howard, September 22, Oxford.

Mary Finch Westray teaches English and French in the Spring Hope High School.

Betty (Yeapanis) Marshall lives at Fort Lewis, Washington.

Betty Lloyd Amis, secretary, Virginia Beach, Va.

Audrey Anderson, teaching physical education, Nutley Junior High School, Nutley, N. J.

Caroline Anderson, social case worker, Mecklenburg County, Charlotte.

Mary Henri (Arthur) French teaches in the Burlington Public Schools.

Sally Ausband to John Henderson Pitts, III, August 10, 1957, Albemarle. The bridegroom, graduate of Clemson College, served in the Korean War, and is now employed by Spartan Grain and Mill Co., Albemarle. Sally teaches there.

Edith Ausley, Danville, Virginia, City Schools.

Jane Austin, Export Department of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem.

Marilyn Baker, commercial subjects, Hampton, Va.

Mary Bell Baker, teaching in Rowland.

Gloria Bass, medical secretary and Pathological Assistant, Fayetteville.

Joyce Biser, at home, 408 W. Gold Street, Kings Mountain.

Ben Nita Black, working for Mr. C. W. Phillips, who is directing the new teaching experiment over WUNC-TV, at Woman's College.

Julia Mae Black, secretary, Piedmont Inc., Charlotte.

Marcia Black, third grade, Silver Spring, Md.

Peggy Ruth (Blanks) Shearin, seventh grade English, South Houston Junior High School, Texas.

Joan Blanchard to Clarence Richard McIntyre, June 23, 1957, Burlington. Mr. McIntyre is a junior at Elon College and is employed by Western Electric Company.

Marilyn Blanton to Lt. Phillip Keith Price, July 14, Spindale. The bridegroom, a graduate of Wake Forest College, is stationed at Ft. McClellan, Ala., in the Naval Unit, Chemical Corps School. Marilyn teaches in the Anniston schools.

Shirley Blanton to Charles Wayne Hoover, August 3, Winston-Salem. Mr. Hoover received the B.S. degree in dentistry in June from the University of North Carolina and is a second year student in the Dental School at Carolina. Shirley is a laboratory technician at Veterans' Hospital, Durham.

Lucy Blue, assistant home demonstration agent, Sampson County, Clinton.

Audrey Boldt attended summer school at the University of Toledo in Ohio, where she took two graduate courses and one undergraduate course. She is now teaching in the Dearborn School System, a suburb of Detroit. "I have been assigned to the Thomas Edison School. It is very modern and new. I am teaching seventh grade English and Latin American Geography and eighth grade English. I'm not sure if the children are learning anything, but I'm learning a lot."

Sarah Boyles is at Montrose School for Girls, Reisterstown, Md.

Sarah Bradford, studying in New York City.

Glenda Brady writes: "Nancy Jo Paschall and I are living together and both attending the University of Pennsylvania. We are taking the certificate course in Physical Therapy. We will be here at this address for six months, possibly longer. We live at 3921 Locust Street, Philadelphia 4, Pa."

Dorothy Breazeale, eighth grade, Southwest High School, Atlanta. She lives at 2189 W. Cedar Lane, S.W., Atlanta 11, Ga.

Joyce (Breeze) Wilson, clerk, cashier's office, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Patricia Brendle to William Otto Glomb, Jr., June 14, Waynesville. Mr. Glomb is attending Ohio State University where he is working toward Chemical Engineering and Master of Science degrees. At home, Columbus, Ohio.

Geraldine (Britt) Smith teaches in the Winston-Salem Schools.

Martha Brookshire, secretary, U. S. Probation Office, Greensboro.

Barbara Brown, commercial subjects, Pageland High School, Pageland, S. C.

Karen Bryant, graduate student, Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass.

Annah (Buff) Prago, teaching in Greensboro.

Ann (Burke) Braxton's address is Box 295, Siler City.

Peggy Burke, assistant home demonstration agent, Stanly County, Albemarle.

Frances Burns, second grade, Lumberton City Schools.

Jane Burns, dietetic interne, Dooley Hospital, Medical College of Virginia, Richmond, Va.

Rose Callahan, teaching in Union Level, Va. During the summer she worked in the library there.

Mary Johns Cameron, first grade, Winston-Salem.

Mary Lou Cameron, sixth grade, Aberdeen School.

Patricia Campbell, teaching, Charlotte Schools. Della Canada, teaching, High Point.

Janie (Cannon) Gaylord, occupational therapy teacher, Caswell Training School, Kinston.

Carole Cardwell, teaching in the Bay View Elementary School, Norfolk, Va.

Ann Carlson, teaching in Greensboro Public Schools.

Cynthia (Cartledge) Estridge, teaching, Appleton, Wis.

Jean Cauble, Parish secretary of First Lutheran Church, Greensboro.

Patricia (Chappell) Calleson, teaching, Hillsboro.

Nancy Chesson to Nicholas M. Perry, August 11, Louisville. Nancy is an architect's assistant in Raleigh.

Betsy (Clayton) Winberry, secretary, Home Security Life Ins. Co., Durham.

Nancy Clayton, assistant fashion coordinator, Bloomingdale's, New York City.

Sue Cochran to Cuthbert Malcolm Copeland, August 10, Charlotte. Mr. Copeland was graduated from the University of North Carolina, served in the Army, and is now assistant manager of Belk-Tyler Store, Washington, N. C.

Harriet Conrad, secretary, Regional Director of U. S. Dept. of Health Education and Welfare in Charlottesville, Va. She plans to be married to George Knox Crutchfield, III, on December 27.

Marjorie Cooper, teaching, Atlanta, Ga.

Mary (Corpening) Young, home economics instructor, Stokesdale.

Nancy Coulter, mathematician, National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics, Langley Field, Va.

Cynthia (Covington) Wease, homemaking, Fayetteville.

Patricia Cramer, teaching, Norfolk, Va.

Ann Craven, primary teacher, Boylan Heights, Raleigh.

Ann Crawford, Camp Fire Girls, Pilchuck Council, Everett, Wash.

Jane Crawford, assistant home demonstration agent, Catawba County, Newton.

Doris Crews, teaching, Greensboro City Schools.

Frances Crews is a member of the art faculty at Woman's College. During the summer she assisted her father with paintings in his business in Greensboro.

Sylvia (Crocker) Weeks, sixth grade, Graham School, Rocky Mount.

Eleanor Crossley, teaching, Winston-Salem.

Mona Crofts, at home in Albemarle.

Sybil (Crofts) Gray, graduate work, Woman's College, Greensboro.

Minnie Ella Currin, vocational home economics, Graham.

Rebecca (Currin) Mangum, homemaking, Oxford.

Carolyn Dalton to Samuel P. Stuart, August 24, 1957, Winston-Salem. Carolyn is now secretary for Womble, Carlyle, Sandidge & Rice, Winston-Salem.

Dorothy Dalton, teaching, Winston-Salem.

Mattie (Danford) Mason, homemaking, Stantonsburg.

Evelyn (Daniels) Albea, French, Burlington.

Diana (Davie) Davis and her husband have moved to Lancaster, Pa., where Mr. Davis is working with Armstrong Cork Co.

Barbara Ann Davis, technical illustrator at Western Electric, Winston-Salem.

Barbara Evelyn Davis to Lewis David Berryhill, Jr., June 9, Charlotte. The bridegroom is a student at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and the bride is teaching in Durham.

Helen Davis, working in the Warfare Department, Wilmington.

Martha Ann Davis, third grade, Cleveland Elementary School, Atlanta, Ga.

Dillon Dawson, teaching in Elizabeth City.

Frances Deal, teaching, Hollywood, Fla.

Linda Kay Deal to Pvt. Edward Norfleet Michels, June 15, 1957, Morganton. At home in Durham, where the bridegroom is employed by Venable Tobacco Company and the bride is teaching.

Nancy Dillard, business education, Reeds School, Lexington.

Loretta (Dillehay) Garner, first grade, Sternberger School, Greensboro.

'57 (Next Class Reunion on May 31, 1958)

Irene Abernethy, Rankin High School, Greensboro.

Joan Ackerman is a student at the University of Chicago.

Elizabeth Adams, ward secretary, Medical College Hospital, Charleston, S. C.

Alice Albert, case aide, Guilford County Welfare Department, Greensboro.

Norma (Alderman) Busie, fifth grade, Plainview School, Arsenal, Ark.

Sarah Jean Allison to Dallas Carroll Abree, Jr., August 10, 1957, Hickory. The bridegroom is a student in the School of Design, State College, Raleigh. Sarah Jean is teaching there.

Eleanor (Allen) Harris, mother of a six-months-old child, teaches in the Raleigh City Schools.

Barbara Alley is studying in New York City. She spent the summer in Moran, Wyoming, where she did camp work.

Anne Gordon, teaching, Leaksville.

Patricia Gorman, puppeteer with State Board of Health, Raleigh.

Phyllis Graham to Carl Eugene Patterson, August 17, Mount Ulla. The bridegroom, a graduate of State College, Raleigh, is engaged in farming in China Grove, where they are living. Phyllis is a dietitian in Cabarrus Memorial Hospital, Concord.

Willia (Graham) Moore lives at 719 Chamberlain Street, Raleigh.

Sally Grant, secretary, Tennessee Eastman Corp., Kingsport, Tenn.

Priscilla Graper to Joseph M. Griffin, September 14, 1957, Upper Montclair, N. J. They plan to live in Whidbey Island, Oak Harbor, Wash., for several months, before going to San Diego, Calif.

Patricia (Green) Honeycutt, teaching, Columbus, Ga.

Carmen Greene, senior executive secretary, Wachovia Bank & Trust Co. Winston-Salem.

Mildred Gregory, teaching, Monroe.

Felice Guld to Theodore Parker, September 1, Wilmington. The bridegroom is a graduate of Duke University, Durham, and is now working toward a master's degree at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. At home, Brookline, Mass.

Edna (Guyer) Driver, engineering technical assistant, Western Electric, Winston-Salem. She and her husband live in Guilford College.

Patricia Ann Hammond, graduate assistant and student, Cornell University, Ithaca.

Rachel Haralson to Dr. Martin Roeder, August 11, Alumnae House, Woman's College, Greensboro. The bridegroom was graduated from Queen's College, received a master of science degree from the University of New Mexico, and is an assistant professor of biology at Woman's College. At home, 847 W. Bessemer Ave., Greensboro.

Mary Isabel Hargrove to Benjamin Franklin Craven, Jr., June 15, 1957, Greensboro. Mr. Craven, an accounting graduate of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, is an accountant for Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Company, Greensboro. Mary is teaching in Greensboro.

Jane Harrell, elementary grades, St. Brides, Va. During the summer she worked as a secretary.

Gwendolyn Harrington, English and journalism, Hampton Senior High, Hampton, Va.

Ann Bryan Harris, home economics, New Bern High School.

Betty Harris, assistant home demonstration agent, Granville County, Oxford.

Virginia Harris, Princess Ann School, Virginia Beach, Va.

Harriet Harrison, technical illustrator, Western Electric Co. Winston-Salem.

Peggy Hartsell to Edgar Allen Cranford, August 25, Thomasville. Mr. Cranford served three years in the Marine Corps and is now a student at State College, Raleigh, where they are living. Peggy teaches a fifth grade in Raleigh.

Betty Lou (Harvel) Kellis, homemaking, Candor.

Bettie Hawes, home economics, Lake Forest Junior High School, Wilmington.

Caroline Hayes, vocational home economics, Salisbury.

Bobby Jean Helton, secretary in Labor Relations at Western Electric Co., Winston-Salem.

Clara (Herron) Cole, teaching, Asheville.

Margaret Hester, home economics, Southern Pines.

Carolyn Hill to John William Bolen, August 2, Washington, N. C. Mr. Bolen graduated from Davidson College and is a second-year medical student at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, where they are living. Carolyn teaches a third grade there.

Dorcas Hill, chemist, State College, Raleigh.

Peggy Ann Hinton to William Everett Stevens, August 24, Mount Olive. Mr. Stevens attended East Carolina College and is now serving as administrator of the National Guard unit in Mount Olive, where they are living. Peggy teaches primary education in the Goldsboro schools.

Ann Holton, home economics, Reidsville.

Betty Joyce (Horne) Lowery, business education, Howthorne Junior High School, Charlotte.

Peggy Jean Horner, senior home room teacher, John M. Morehead Senior High, Leaksville. She also has charge of the cheerleaders.

Frances Hosley worked as a camp counselor during the summer and is now employed in New York City, where she shares an apartment with three other girls.

Mary Ann Divine, advertising, Mark Cross, New York City.

Shirley Dixon, copywriter, advertising agency, Greensboro.

Nancy Jo Doggett, first grade, Macon School, Grosse Point, Mich.

Hilda (Donaldson) Horsman, third grade, Park View Elementary School, Mooresville.

Elinor (Dorsk) Bloom, graduate study, Richmond, Va.

Margaret Dukes, teaching, City Schools, San Diego, Calif.

Elizabeth Duncan to T-Sgt. Thomas Sterling Hopkins, USMC, August 10, Edenton. Sergeant Hopkins attended San Mateo College in California and is now stationed at Edenton. Elizabeth teaches music in the Washington, N. C., elementary school.

Lois Anne Duncan to Robert Louis Gunn, June 30, 1957, Greensboro. The bride is working toward her master's degree in zoology at Duke University, Durham, where she holds an assistantship. The bridegroom is a student at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. At home, Durham.

Julia Dunn, secretary, Charlotte.

Hilda Donaldson to Craig Marshall Horsman, June 23, 1957, Barium Springs. The bridegroom, a graduate of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, is awaiting call to enter the U. S. Army.

Jo Ann Eberenz, ninth grade English, Princess Ann High School, Virginia Beach, Va.

Margaret Edmonds, Princess Ann High School, Virginia Beach, Va.

Barton Edwards, mathematician, NACA, Langley Air Base, Hampton, Va.

Jane Elder, Burlington City Schools, Burlington.

Martha Ellis, grade teacher, Raleigh.

Doris Ann Ensley, home economics vocational teacher, North Mecklenburg High School, Charlotte.

Claudette Epting, elementary grades, Winston-Salem.

Elizabeth Evans, Roosevelt High School, Atlanta, Ga.

Lucy Everette, textile chemist, Elon College.

Sylvia (Evosevich) Duda, Latimer Junior High, Pittsburgh, Penn.

Shelby Faircloth, secretary to Manager of Farmers Exchange, Durham.

Mary Virginia Farr, secretary for F. H. Ross & Company, Charlotte.

Christine (Feather) Greene, first grade, James B. Angell School, Highland Park, Mich. Her husband, a graduate of Duke University, is now employed by the Chrysler Corporation where he is working toward a master's degree in automotive engineering at the Chrysler Institute. At home, 221 West Willis Avenue, Royal Oak, Mich.

Shirley Featherstone, service club director, Tinker Air Force Base, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Ruth (Ferrell) Sawyer, home economics, Elizabeth City High School. They live at Belcross.

Nancy Fishel to Richard Raymond Cannon, June 29, 1957, Winston-Salem. Mr. Cannon, a graduate of the University of Delaware is working for Melpar, Inc., Falls Church, Va. Nancy is teaching in Fairfax County schools.

Barbara Fisher to Albert McLain, Jr., June 9, 1957, East Marion. Mr. McLain was graduated from Wake Forest College and is now doing graduate study in music at the Florida State University, Tallahassee, Fla. Barbara is teaching in the schools there.

Ann Fitzhugh teaches home economics, Jefferson High School, Roanoke, Va.

Betty Flinchum, physical education, Greensboro Public Schools.

Nancy (Flowe) Dunn, homemaking, Tryon.

Carolyn Frank, fifth grade, Barringer Elementary School, Charlotte.

Sandra Freeman, home economics, Hilderbran.

Jackie Gabriel, teaching, Hollywood, Fla.

Bettie Gantt, fifth grade, Albemarle City Schools. During the summer she was a swimming instructor and lifeguard at the Albemarle City Pool.

Beverly Gates to John Donald Taylor, August 17, Roanoke Rapids. The bridegroom is attending Richmond Professional Institute and is employed by Richmond Newspapers, Inc. Beverly teaches general science, Highland Springs, Va. At home, 2700 Idlewood Ave., Apt. 15, Richmond, Va.

Elaine German, fifth grade, Baltimore, Md.

Laura E. Gilliam, music teacher, Mecklenburg County Schools, Davidson.

Sue Jo Glasby, casework assistant, Harnett County Department of Public Welfare, Lillington.

Carrie (Howell) Lickel, homemaking, Greensboro.

Florence (Howett) Wilkerson, home economics, Columbia.

Martha (Hoyt) Jeffries, teaching and home-making, Tampa, Fla.

Martha Pearce Hoyt to Edward Shain Jeffries, Jr., June 28, 1957, Washington, N. C. Mr. Jeffries is a graduate of the University of North Carolina. He is with Scott Paper Company in Tampa, Fla., where they are at home.

Barbara Hudgins, teaching, Arlington, Va.

Mary Ward Huffman, research technician, Bowman Gray School of Medicine, Winston-Salem.

Claire Hunt, working at Pilot Life Insurance Company, Greensboro. During the summer she worked in the Recreation Department, City of Greensboro.

Virginia Hyatt, teaching, Atlanta, Ga.

Mary Isabel Ingram to Garth Howard Payne, June 22, 1957, Taylorsville. The bridegroom majored in business administration at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and is now a deputy clerk in Greensboro Municipal County Court, Greensboro. The bride is teaching in Greensboro.

Mary Faye Jackson, home economist, Duke Power Company, Gastonia.

Maxine Jarrett, homemaker, Kingstree, S. C.

Jerry Anne (Jervis) Allred lives at 124 W. Sprague Street, Winston-Salem. She expected to begin work in an office in the Fall.

Mildred Anne Jessup to Edward Douglas Hartsell, August 10, Asbury. Anne is a member of the faculty of Burlington City Schools. Mr. Hartsell attended Mars Hill College, served in the U. S. Army, and is now a student at Elon College.

Barbara Johnson to John K. Smart, Jr., June 9, Morganton. Mr. Smart graduated from Lenoir-Rhyne College and is a second year law student at the University of North Carolina. Barbara teaches in a kindergarten in Durham.

Elizabeth Johnson, primary teacher, Madison.

Greta (Jones) Johnson, sixth grade, Forest Hills, Burlington.

Mary Dell Johnson, second grade, Winston-Salem.

Nancy Johnson, general science, Cherokee Junior High School, Orlando, Fla.

Janie Jones, primary grades, Charlotte.

Mary Frances Jones, Chestnut Street Junior High, Wilmington.

Shirley Ann Jones to Richard Lemuel Winslow, Jr., September 13, Chapel Hill. The bridegroom attended the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and is now an announcer for radio station WDNC, Durham, where they are at home.

Betty Jordan, studying at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas.

Lucille Jordan, teaching in the Albemarle High School.

Martha Jordan, Exfoliative Cytology (cancer detection), Charlotte.

Barbara Kelly, teaching, Henderson.

Gretchen Kelly, living at 2448-B Morosgo Way, N.E., Atlanta, Ga.

Ruth Ann (Kelly) Mann works for the Highland Park Methodist Church, Dallas, Texas. "The church, the largest church in Methodism, is located next door to the Southern Methodist Seminary, where my husband is a student."

Cecelia Kennedy, assistant home agent, Guilford County, Greensboro.

Annie Hellen Kent, physical education, Beaver Country Day School, Chestnut Hill, Mass.

Shirley (Knott) Young, first grade, Pensacola, Fla.

Sue Lachot to Ernest Augborn Banner, Jr., June 21, Rutherford College. Mr. Banner graduated from Wake Forest College, Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, and is now minister of Catfish Creek Baptist Church, Latta, S. C. Sue teaches in the elementary grades there.

Peggy Lamb, teaching, Greensboro.

Jean Lamm to Richard Edwin Ward, June 22, Wilson. Mr. Ward graduated from Atlantic Christian College in June. Jean is doing social work in Wilson, where they live.

Patsy Lamont to Robert Palmer Willcox, June 30, Raeford. Mr. Willcox is a student at the University of South Carolina, Columbia, where they are at home.

Ellen Lavinder, Civil Service, Langley Field, Hampton, Va.

Mary Frances Lawrence, teaching, Portsmouth, Va.

Mary Louise Ledbetter, interne in Dietetic Department, University of Oklahoma Medical Center, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Dorothea Lee, teaching, Cedar Crest College, Allentown, Pa. During the summer she was a counselor at Camp Illahee, Brevard.

Lorena Lee, second grade, Pineloch School, Orlando, Fla.

Patricia Lentz, chemist, American Cyanamid Research Labs, Old Greenwich, Conn.

Jeanette (Leonard) Ragan, Belle View Elementary School, Alexandria, Va. Her husband, Rev. Robert R. Ragan, is the Director of Student Work for the General Board of Temperance, The Methodist Building, Washington, D. C.

Sara Ann Livingston, teaching, Atlanta, Ga.

Polly Gray Lloyd to Gene Anderson Wicker, August 10, Burlington. The bridegroom received a degree in mathematics from Elon College. He attended State College and is now serving in the U. S. Army, stationed at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala. Polly Gray is teaching in Burlington.

Janet Long, mathematics, Woodrow Wilson Junior High School, Danville, Va.

Barbara Lowder, teaching, Spartanburg, S. C.
Anne Lundy, vocational home economics, Madison.

Sharon Lupton, teaching, San Diego, Calif.

Sarah Lyday, secretary to Clerk of Supreme Court, Raleigh.

Laura Lyle, secretary, Wachovia Bank & Trust Company, Winston-Salem.

Miriam Macdonald, working with design consultant, Laura Appleton Interiors, Boston, Mass.

Mariha McBrayer was not employed when we heard from her.

Carole McCadams to Calvin Eugene Hester, June 8, 1957, Greensboro. The bridegroom is employed by the City of Greensboro, and the bride is teaching in the schools there.

Pat McCauley, mathematician, David Taylor Model Basin, Navy Dept., Washington, D. C.

Dorothy McConnell, graduate work, School of Social Service Administration, University of Chicago, Chicago, Ill.

Mary Frances McCracken, home economist, Duke Power Co., Charlotte.

Margaret McCrary, teaching, Valley Stream, N. Y.

Patricia McDaniel, laboratory technician, Boston, Mass.

Kathleen McDonald was living in Elon College when she wrote.

Mary Faye McDowell, first grade, Atlanta, Ga.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Webb Leonard, Jr. (Betty McGee), a daughter, Charlotte Randolph, June 10. Betty is teaching sixth grade in Durham and her husband is a ministerial student at Duke Divinity School.

Carolyn McGranahan, third grade, Porter School, Greensboro. "I will marry Wayne Fletcher of Durham on December 21."

Ann Lyon McIntosh, teaching, San Diego City Schools. She lives at 1369 Felopar Street, San Diego 9, Calif.

Catherine (McLaughlin) Bass, elementary grades, Millville, N. J.

Neill McLeod, office assistant, Training Films, Inc., New York City.

Mary Frances Mackie, executive trainee, Thalhiers Department Store, Richmond, Va.

Joyce Mahaffey, vocational home economics, Cramerton.

Marguerite Adele Mann, teaching, Atlanta, Ga.

Shirley (Mann) Goldmann, homemaking, Rutland, Vt.

Jane Marlette to Everette L. Martin, July 27, High Point. Mr. Martin is a junior at State College, Raleigh, where Jane teaches third grade at Sherman Bates School.

Elizabeth E. Martin, secretary, Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., Greensboro.

Elizabeth (Martin) Shaw, fifth grade, Ft. Devens post school, Ayer, Mass.

Karen Martin, art teacher in two elementary schools, Wilson. During the summer she worked in the Cashier's Office, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Kay Masterson, junior executive trainee, Baltimore, Md.

Carol Ann Matheson, teaching, home economics, San Diego, Calif.

Shirley Jean Matheson to Andrew Perry Haywood, June 29, 1957, Hamlet. A graduate of High Point College, the bridegroom is in the Navy, stationed at Charleston, S. C., where they are at home.

Catharine (May) Dawson, teaching, primary grades, Laredo, Texas.

Deree (Mayberry) Hand, teaching in Savannah, Ga.

Mary Nell Meroney to Robert Alan West, June 22, 1957, Winston-Salem. The bridegroom, a graduate of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, is stationed with the Army at Ft. Eustis, Va. Mary Nell is teaching in Warwick, Va.

Carolyn (Miller) Payne, homemaking, Albemarle.

Gertrude Miller to John H. Shell, June 15, 1957, Morganton. The bridegroom is a graduate of State College, Raleigh, served in the U. S. Army, and is now a student in the School of Dentistry, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Marilyn (Mondy) Yike, homemaking, Clemson, S. C.

Doris Moore, Bio-Chemist, Bell Research Laboratory, Durham.

Elizabeth Moore, teaching, Arlington, Va.

Martha Anne Morgan to John Thomas Rowe, June 17, 1957, Statesville. Mr. Rowe served three years with the U. S. Army and is employed by E. I. DuPont de Nemours at the Savannah River Plant, Aiken, S. C.

Jacqueline Moser to Robert David Appleyard, August 18, Winston-Salem. Mr. Appleyard attended The Citadel and is now a student at Guilford College. Jacqueline is teaching and they make their home at Guilford College.

Joan Moser, teaching, East San Diego, Calif.
Hope Murphy, clerk, Greensboro.

Mary Jo Myrick, window dresser and store display of Van Straatens, Durham.

Beverly Nance, private secretary, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem.

Therry (Nash) Deal is with her husband who is serving overseas with the U. S. Navy.

Rose Marie Newton, teaching, Atlanta, Georgia.

Janice (Noble) Barwick, fourth grade, Deep Run School.

Patsy (Odum) Wright, homemaking, Burlington.

Sharon O'Neal, French and history, Danville, Va.

Ernestine Osborne, home economics, Clyde.

Tamara Osikowska has a fellowship to the University of Iowa, Iowa City, where she is working on her master's degree.

Julia Parsons, second grade, Whitacre School, Winston-Salem.

Marie (Partridge) Smith, homemaking, Columbus, Ga.

Nancy Jo Paschall is studying at the University of Pennsylvania.

Nancy Pass, teaching, Kennedy's Commercial School, Roxboro.

Helen Patterson, physical therapy student, Duke University, Durham.

Thelma (Payne) Smithers, living in Bayreuth, Germany, where her husband is stationed with the U. S. Army. She is teaching at a dependents school.

Beryl Peters, assistant editor, Physical Review, New York City.

Rachel (Pharr) White, physical education assistant, Panama Junior High School, Rodman, Canal Zone. Her husband is serving with the U. S. Marines there.

Mary Frances Philbeck to Bob L. Boyles, September 1, Shelby. Mr. Boyles attended Gardner-Webb Junior College, Atlantic Christian College and is now a student at the University of North Carolina. He served in the U. S. Navy. The bride teaches in the Walter Williams High School, Burlington, where they live.

Georgie Photinos, caseworker with Training School, Reisterstown, Md. "Sarah Boyles '57 and I are both working here with about four other W.C.'ers, 55's and 56's. We love it."

Sally Pickett, assistant manager for Slenderella International, Blue Island, Ill.

Mary Frances Pohl to Robert Wiley Carrington, Jr., June 29, 1957, Aberdeen. The bridegroom attended Oak Ridge Military Institute and Elon College. He is stationed at Pine Castle Air Force Base, Fla., where they are at home.

Ann Powlas, home economics, Atlanta, Ga.

Barbara (Price) Iserloth, French-Spanish secretary, Moroccan Embassy, Washington, D. C.

Catherine Priest, studying at Katharine Gibbs School, New York City.

Annie Pugh to Robert Joseph Collier, August 4, Graham. Mr. Collier is a partner in Collier Nash Motors of Pikeville. Annie teaches in the Goldsboro City Schools.

Betty Ann Rabil, third grade, Arlington, Va.

Nell Ramsey to Harry Lee Garrison, June 15, Asheville. Mr. Garrison attended Mars Hill Junior College and Western Carolina College. Nell is assistant home demonstration agent, Henderson County. At home, Hendersonville.

Mary Sue Rankin, chemist, Department of Soils, North Carolina State College, Raleigh.

Glenda Ray is at home at 906 Madiso Avenue, Winston-Salem.

Ann (Rich) Hobson, primary grade, Raleigh
Mary Richardson, commercial subjects, Princess Anne High School, Virginia.

Anne Roberts, piano, Hillsboro.

Nancy Roberts, physical education, Weaver ville.

Janet (Robinson) Huskins' husband is a student at Davidson College and they live in Gastonia.

Nancy Robinson, sixth grade, Fairfax County Va.

Relda Shirlene (Royster) Grigg, home economics, Piedmont High School, Lawndale.

Barbara Russell, at home, 401 West Kivet Street, Asheboro.

Jo Anne Safrut, teaching, Austin, Texas.

Margaret Sanders, teaching, Raleigh City Schools.

Rita (Satsky) Farmer, research at Emory University, Atlanta, Ga.

2nd Lt. Caroline A. Sevier is stationed at Army Medical Service School, Ft. Sam Houston, Texas.

Shirley Sheffield, teaching, Mocksville.

Margaret Shipman, home economics, Enka.

Ann Simon took special courses in art at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, during the summer.

Barbara (Smith) Beck's address is Box 383 Wingate.

Barbara Joan Smith is Mrs. Thomas Joseph Sutherland, 739 Oakglade Drive, Monrovia, Calif.

Jobyna Smith to George H. Batchelor, Jr., August 24, Marion. The bridegroom attended Baylor School for Boys, served two years in the Army, and is now a student at Guilford College. Jobyna is teaching at Lindley Elementary School, Greensboro.

Kay Smith, sixth grade, Walkertown School.

Margaret Elizabeth Smith, graduate student, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Martha Smith, interne in medical technology, Moses H. Cone Memorial Hospital, Greensboro.

Donna Lee Snyder, graduate work in history, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Carolyn Somers, assistant home demonstration agent, Alamance County, Graham.

Jane Sommers, student, General Assembly's Training School, Richmond, Va.

Kay (Speas) Alley, teaching in Greensboro City Schools.

Alice Spell, research assistant, Durham.

Anne (Spell) Pate, kindergarten, Durham.

Virginia Spencer, assistant home demonstration agent, Randolph County.

Shirley Spivey, first grade, Finley Elementary School, Westminster, Calif.

Dorothy Stafford, seventh grade, Goldsboro Junior High School.

Gladys M. Stamper, assistant home demonstration agent, Stokes County, Walnut Cove.

Janet Stanton, second grade, Arlington, Va.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert David Starr (Barbara Stubblefield), a second son, John Robert, July 14, 1957, Greensboro. Barbara is a medical technologist trainee.

Mary Miller (Starr) Edwards, housekeeping, Tarawa Terrace.

Nancy Stilwell, interior decorator, Erwin Lambeth's, Inc., Thomasville.

Shirley Stilwell, instructor, Ashmore Business College, Thomasville.

Josephine (Strickland) Allen, teaching, Albemarle.

Carolyn Strong, mathematician, N.A.C.A., Langley Field, Va.

Kathryn (Stutts) Bradley, homemaker, Burlington.

Johnsie Ann Sugg to Sp. 3/c Robert Ray Avert, Army, October 4, Greensboro. The bridegroom attended State College, Raleigh, and is now stationed at Ft. Bragg. Johnsie is a member of the Bessemer School faculty in Greensboro.

Millie Sutton, working at Belk Stores Services, Inc., Charlotte.

Patsy (Swain) Levens, living in Germany, where her husband is stationed with the U. S. Army.

Katie Swain, fifth grade, Elizabeth City.

Mary Carolyn (Talbot) Russell, homemaker, Buffalo, N. Y.

Margaret Tandy, fifth grade, Elizabeth School, Charlotte.

Josephine (Tanner) Cawthorne, assistant home demonstration agent, Halifax County, Roanoke Rapids.

Elizabeth (Tatum) Young, homemaker, Greensboro.

Faye Taylor's address is: Mrs. P. R. Parker, c/o United Geographical Corp., Cortez, Colorado.
Barbara Terwilliger, student, University of Wisconsin.

Betty Fay Thacker, teaching, Whitsett.
Anne Carolyn Thomas, physical education, Central Jr. High, Greensboro.

Sara Joan Thompson to John Boone Trotti, June 12, 1957, Asheville. Mr. Trotti was graduated from Davidson College and is now a Foreign Service

THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE has announced that the annual Foreign Service Officer Examination will be given on December 9 in approximately 65 centers throughout the United States. Applications may be obtained from Mrs. Josephine P. Schaeffer, Placement Officer, Woman's College.

A number of the successful Foreign Service officer candidates will take up duties at one of the 275 American Embassies, Legations and Consulates around the world.

Candidates must be at least 20 years of age and under 31, as of October 28, and must also be American citizens of at least 9 years' standing.

The Foreign Service Officer Examination consists of a one-day written test, which tests the candidate's facility in English expression, general ability, and background, as well as his proficiency in a modern foreign language. This written test will be followed by an oral examination administered in regional centers throughout the United States. Those candidates who pass the oral test will be given a physical examination and a security investigation. Upon completion of these phases the candidate will be nominated by the President as a Foreign Service Officer of Class Eight, Vice Consul and Secretary in the Diplomatic Service.

Starting salaries for successful candidates range from $4750 to $5350 per year depending upon the age, experience, and family status of the individual.

student at Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va. The bride is teaching in Hermitage High School, Henrico County.

Shirley Ann Thompson, home service advisor, Duke Power Company, N. Wilkesboro.

Joyce (Tilley) Reardon, assistant director of Dairy Council, Durham.

Anna Tilson to William Garner Roberts, Jr., September 22, Chapel Hill. The bridegroom was graduated from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. At home, Baltimore, Md.

Helen Trader, field director, Camp Fire Girls, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Sara Jean Trent, teaching, Reidsville.

Barbara Lea Tucker, primary grade, Greensboro.

Toaksie Tucker, to be married November 2 to Joseph Malone, Jr.

Joyce Burlington, secretary, Charlotte News, Charlotte.

Margaret Tyson, vocational home economics, Rolesville.

Barbara Vanover, elementary grades, Asheville.

June Vlek, teaching, Seaboard.

Carolyn Walke, teaching, Aquebogue, L. I., N. Y.

Marjorie (Ward) Gore, home economics, Clarendon.

Sally Falls Watson, second grade, East Orange, N. J.

Martha Waits, mathematician, U. S. Government, Washington, D. C.

Peggy Welch, laboratory assistant to Dr. William Lynn, Department of Biochemical Research, Duke University, Durham.

Jane Wells, extension work, Assistant County Agent's office, Bakersville.

Doris (Westbrook) Bolick, teaching, Greensboro.

Frances Westmoreland, biology and general science, Atlanta, Ga.

Kate (Wharton) Hockett, housewife, Mesa, Arizona.

Adelia (White) Powell, homemaking, Key West, Fla.

Weeta White, temporarily working as hostess and cashier at Hot Shopettes, Washington, D. C.

Yearle (Whittington) Page, elementary grades, Greensboro.

Carolyn Wilkie, Cherokee Jr. High School, Orlando, Fla.

Dorothy Wilkinson, teaching, Belmont.

Mary Wilkinson, teaching, San Diego, Calif.

Nancy (Wilkerson) Jones, homemaker, Greensboro.

Blanche Williams, Cherrydale Elementary School, Arlington, Va.

Jewell Williams, teaching, Winston-Salem City Schools.

Mary (Williamson) Wardlaw lives at 803 Seveler Drive, Russellville, Ky.

Betty Willingham, tenth grade, Ashely High School, Gastonia.

Patricia Ann Willis, executive secretary, Dupont, Kinston.

Barbee (Winchester) Hairfield's husband is a student at Wake Forest College, Winston-Salem, where they are living.

Virginia Winner to Royce Davis Byrd, September 8, Greensboro. Mr. Byrd attended Hampden-Sydney College in Virginia and served two years in the Army. He is a student at Louisiana State University.

Carol Winston, assistant home demonstration agent, Northampton County, Jackson.

Ann Woody, primary grades, Bessemer City.

Janice (Woolsley) Nelson, teaching, Kernersville.

Anne Wooten, secretary, Duke Hospital, Durham.

Margaret (Wyatt) White is homemaking and caring for son Kenneth. They live in High Point.

Betty Jean Yelton, dietetic interne, Army Medical Specialist Corp., Walter Reed Army Hospital, Washington, D. C.

Martie Yow, mathematician, David Taylor Model Basin, Washington, D. C.

Commercials

Jean Carol Adams is secretary to American Legion Representative, Winston-Salem.

Anne Alexander, stenographer, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Charlotte.

Nancy Alford, comptometer operator, Gulf Oil Corporation, Greensboro.

Rebecca Carol (Arey) Smith, office clerk, Farmers Home Administration, Shelby.

Vickie Armfield, secretary, High Point.

Eleanor Clark Baker, accounting clerk, High Point.

Joan Barden recently wrote that she was awaiting Civil Service appointment.

Catherine (Barnes) Bryant, secretary, Pilot Mountain.

Sue Barnes, secretary, Greensboro.

Carolyn (Bennett) Lee is living in Waco, Texas.

Xylda Bland, stenographer, Carolina Power & Light Co., Raleigh.

Nancy Bondurant, secretary, Aetna Casualty & Surety Co., Greensboro.

Joanne Boone, stenographer, Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co., Madison.

Judith Lou Boyd, secretary, Fayetteville.

Agatha Brewer, secretary, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem.

Alfreda Britt is a student at the North Carolina Baptist Hospital, Winston-Salem. During the summer she worked in the ASC office, Lumberton.

Barbara Britton, secretary, Poe Motor Co., Chapel Hill.

Daisy Brock, secretary, Morehead City.

Anne (Brown) Hux, homemaking, Henderson.

Barbara (Brown) Newton, stenographer, Mooresville.

Jean Carol Brown to L. D. Donaldson, August 24, Mooresville.

Barbara Bryant, secretary, Western Electric Co., Winston-Salem.

June Bryant, teller in Bank, Mayodan.

Linda Bullock, secretary, Memorial Hospital, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Darla Sue Burke to L. L. Beman, August 31, 1957, Charlotte. At home, Raleigh.

Carolyn Burkhardt, secretary, Charlotte.

Barbara (Bailey) Caldwell, homemaker, Greensboro.

Una Carol Cain is at home in Spencer.

Nancy Calhoun, stenographer, Cleveland County Welfare Department, Shelby.

Nelda Cashion, working for Champion Paper & Fibre Company, Clyde.

June Casper, secretary, W. H. Phillips & Company, C.P.A.'s, Henderson.

Mary Lou Casstevens to James Ring, August 31, 1957, Yadkinville. She works in the office of Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem.

Reha Casstevens is at home in Boonville.

Carol Helen Castrovinci, secretary, Greensboro.

Alherta Clayton, secretary, Willow Springs.

Barbara Jean Cochran, secretary for Peden Steel Co., Raleigh.

Geraldine (Coleman) Alston, homemaking, Rocky Mount.

Barbara Collier, stenographer, Wachovia Bank & Trust Co., Charlotte.

Phyllis (Conrad) Robbins lives at 1540 Beaucrest Road, Greensboro.

Sandra Cook, stenographer, U. S. Government, Wilmington.

Margaret Cornelius, working in Raleigh.

Carolyn Delores Cox, office of Cherokee Flooring Corp., Burlington.

Rebecca Anne Crump, secretary, Charlotte.

Mary Ann Culbreath, secretary, American Trust Company, Charlotte.

Eleanor Jacqueline (Davis) Hall, secretary, Probation Office, Greensboro.

Jean Elizabeth Davis, secretary, Southern Dairies, Inc., Charlotte.

Patsy Ann Deaton, stenographer, The Travelers Ins. Co., Raleigh.

Nancy Denny is a student at Charlotte Presbyterian School of Nursing, Charlotte.

Janet Dickerson, secretary, Fort & Denkins Insurance Agency, Raleigh.

Bessie Dimos was staying at home in Charlotte when she recently wrote.

Lynette Downing to George R. Ehler, August, Fayetteville. Lynette was an assistant church secretary for the summer.

Sara Ellen Dry, Boling Chair Co., Siler City.

Shirley Mae Duell to Albert Lee Edwards, July 4, 1957, New Bern. She is now a bookkeeper, Coleman Motors, Inc., New Bern.

Billie Jean Edwards, secretary, Spray Cotton Mills, Leaksville.

Shirlee Eller, secretary, Placement Service, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Barbara Everhart, secretary, Mid-State Tile Co., Lexington.

Barbara Fagge, secretary, J. P. Stevens, Greensboro.

Glenda Felton, bookkeeper and secretary, People Building Supply Co., Rocky Mount.

Kitty Ferebee, First Citizen's Bank & Trust Co., New Bern.

Ada Shelby Fink, accounting department, Stewart Everett Theatres, Inc., Charlotte.

Rebekah Fitzgerald, secretary, Winston-Salem.

Myra Floyd, secretary, Wysong & Mills Co., Greensboro.

Carolyn Forbes, secretary, Chapel Hill.

Martha A. Foster, secretary, Greensboro.

Patricia Maxine Foster, secretary to Mr. Herbert Vaughan, principal of Curry School, Greensboro.

Rose Marie Foster, secretary, Swanson Motors, Inc., Danville, Va.

Carolyn Faye Fountain, National Airline Radio & Teletype Operator, Wilmington.

Dorothy Maye Fountain to Ronald David Wood, September 1, 1957, Wilmington. She is secretary for Fountain Brothers, Inc., in Wilmington.

Nancy Ann Galloway, secretary, Belmont.

Rose Gasper, Loan Department, First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Raleigh.

Sylvia Gautier is attending Powers School in New York City.

Janel Marie Gaynor, secretary, Virginia Electric and Power Company, Roanoke Rapids.

Katherine Geiger, secretary to Chief of A.B.C. Law Enforcement Division, Greensboro.

Carol Gillespie, secretary for Mecklenburg County Tuberculosis Association, Charlotte.

Markla Rae Gist, Stanly County Health Department, Babin.

Mildred Faye Grizzard, stenographer, accounting department, VEPCO, Roanoke Rapids.

Sandra Hall, bookkeeper, Rockingham.

Margaret (Harper) Maloney expected to be in San Antonio, Texas, until October.

Sylvia Harrell to Raymond Hardy Woolard, June 15, 1957. Beaufort. The bridegroom attended Wake Forest College and works for Bethlehem Steel. At home, 35 — 34th Street, Riveria Beach, Fla.

Thornie Hartle, secretary, McLean Trucking Company, Winston-Salem.

Sandra Hemphill, secretary to Clerk of Superior Court, Greensboro.

Margaret Hill is living at her home in Asheville.

Florence Hood, secretary, First Citizens Bank, Raleigh.

Carolyn Hughey, Lowe's Hardware, Inc., Asheville Branch, Biltmore.

Charlotte (Hunt) Knell is homemaking at 3800 Park Road, Charlotte.

Rachel Annette Hunt, secretary, Asheville.

Caryl Hunter, secretary, Derita.

Gwen Hunter, secretary to District Manager of Equitable Life Assurance, Charlotte.

Clarice Johnson, bookkeeper, Burlington.

Carol Jean Jones, secretary, Long-Haymes Advertising Agency, Winston-Salem.

Billye Keith, secretary to Personnel Director, Hanes Hosiery Mills Co., Winston-Salem.

Elaine Kithas, private secretary, J. P. Stevens & Co., Greensboro.

Sara Faye Kline to Martin A. Bernstein, September 8, 1957, New Bern.

Kay Knight, Public Utilities Dept., Rocky Mount.

Vilma (Komar) Craddock, secretary, Air Conditioning Corp., Greensboro.

Suzanne Kramer, secretary, Timmes Corp., Wilmington.

Mary Ann Lackey, secretary, Hickory Memorial Hospital, Hickory.

Jane Lanier attended High Point College during the summer and is now a student at Guilford College.

June Lankford, secretarial work, Tryon.

Martha Lawing, secretary, Singer Sewing Machine Co., Charlotte.

Shirley Jean Lefler, secretary, Mt. Gilead.

Jo Ann Lennon, secretary, Southern Bell Telephone, Wilmington.

Jewel Lineberry, secretary, Davis Hosiery Corp., Greensboro.

Joan D. Lloyd, Credit Department, Southeastern Radio Supply Co., Raleigh.

Jean Love to Frank W. York, August 3, 1957, Salisbury. Mr. York is a senior at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, where they are living.

Martha Anne Love, steno-clerk, Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co., Concord.

Martha McCall, secretary, Southern Radio Corp., Charlotte.

Amelia McGinnis has returned to Woman's College to begin work on a degree.

Alice (McGregor) Strickland, homemaking, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Sandra Jo McHone is working in Madison.

Sue H. McLain is working in Greensboro.

Carolyn McSwain, secretary, Bryant Electric Co., High Point.

Sarah Ann Mahe, secretary, Kernersville Weaving Co., Kernersville.

Lila Jane (Martin) Shore, secretary, Hanes Hosiery Co., Winston-Salem.

Janice (Matthews) Holder, Internal Revenue Service, Greensboro.

Ruth (Matthews) Thomas, Internal Revenue Service, Greensboro.

Anne Maultsby to C. Virgil Roberts, June 26, 1957, Whiteville. At home, Whiteville.

Martha Kay Maultsby, secretary, Commercial Credit Corp., New Bern.

Martha E. May is a student at Peace College, Raleigh.

Alice Faye Mears, stenographer, Rocky Mount. Jean Yvonne Medlin, typist, Lindsay, Squires & Everett, Greensboro.

Doris Moore, clerk-typist, Western Electric Co., Burlington.

Linda Morris, secretary, Babcock & Wilcox, Charlotte.

Barbara Murphy, stenographer-clerk, Jamestown.

Jean Newsom, secretary, Wilmington Savings & Trust Co., Wilmington.

Glenda Norris attended summer school and wrote that she planned to work in Raleigh.

Lois Norris, secretary to advertising manager, Sears, Roebuck & Co., Winston-Salem.

Nancy Carolyn O'Brien, secretary to a lawyer, Oxford.

Diana Odom, secretary to Dr. S. F. Horne, Rocky Mount.

Barbara Ann Oglesby, secretary, N. C. State Nurses' Association, Raleigh.

Mary Elizabeth Pardue, stenographer, Winston-Salem.

Jane Parker, secretary, Saluda.

Patricia R. Parrish, secretary, General Adjustment Bureau, Rocky Mount.

Vivian Pate, secretary, Chamber of Commerce, Williamston.

Beth Paul, secretary, Wachovia Bank & Trust Co., Winston-Salem.

Joyce Pearce, teller, First National Bank, Thomasville.

Linda (Lewrey) Pegg, secretary, Cary Furniture Co., London Bridge, Va.

Judith Marlene (Pennington) Ingold, secretary, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane, Greensboro.

Sandra Lea Perry, temporarily in Smithfield.

Elsie Mae Peterson, stenographer, Burnsville.

Margaret Phipps, stenographer-clerk, City of Greensboro.

Rachel Pryce, secretary, Sandhurst Mills, Inc., Rockingham.

Julia Love Read attended summer school at Woman's College, where she is working toward a degree.

Carolyn Roberts, secretary to Superintendent of Stokes County Schools, Pine Hall.

Phyllis Robinett, secretary, Belk Stores Services, Inc., Charlotte.

Martha Anne Robinson, secretary, Greensboro.

Doris Rudisill, general office work, Lincolnton.

Patricia Satterfield is attending Mars Hill College.

Alma J. Savage, secretary, Carolina Telephone & Telegraph Co., Williamston.

Sylvia (Schutt) Sullivan, secretary, Wilmington.

Frances Seaford, general office work, Salem Steel Co., Advance.

Margaret L. Sears, stenographer, Ellerbe.

Becky Sharp, secretary, Prudential Life Insurance Co., Greensboro.

Helen Sharpe, secretary, Gulf Oil Co., Greensboro.

Judy Sharpe, secretary, Sanford.

Jean Shields, secretary, Security Life & Trust Co., Winston-Salem.

Deby Ann Short, Information Dept., Southern Bell, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Harriet Shortridge, secretary, Odell Hardware Co., Greensboro.

Mary Sue (Byrd) Sitterson, homemaking, Robersonville.

Barbara D. Smith is at home in Whiteville.

Betty Louise Smith, secretary, Executive Offices, Burlington Industries, Siler City.

Carol Faye Smith, secretary to Director of Nursing, City Memorial Hospital, Winston-Salem.

Kay Smith to John Howard Nash, Jr., September 1, 1957, Kannapolis. Kay is a secretary at Douglas Aircraft Co., where her husband is employed in Charlotte.

Janel (Snyder) Wilson, secretary, Wachovia Bank & Trust Co., Winston-Salem.

Sarah Springthorpe lives at 201 Fernandina Street, Ft. Pierce, Fla.

Thelma Stanley, rotometer operator, Four Oaks.

Ellen Stewart, general office work, Greensboro.

Anne Strickland, bookkeeper, Miller Lumber Co., Mebane.

Elizabeth Ann (Thomas) Royster, secretary, State Capital Insurance Company, Raleigh.

Elizabeth Thomerson, secretary, Carolina Tractor and Equipment Co., Salisbury.

Lila Ann Tice, secretary, Greensboro.

Letitia Townsend is at home in Lumberton.

Linda Troutman's address is Box 387, Mt. Holly.

Janice Turbyfill, private secretary, Pell Cotton Co., Charlotte.

Joyce Rebecca (Turner) Morton, First National Bank of Albemarle, Albemarle.

Kay Vaughn, secretary, Dillard Paper Co., Greensboro.

Martha Waggoner, secretary, Physical Education Department, Wake Forest College, Winston-Salem.

Gwen Walker, office of Burlington Industries, Reidsville.

Frankie Wall, stenographer, Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co., Stoneville.

Mary Louise Wall, secretary for Resident Judges at Guilford County Court House, Greensboro.

Marilyn (Walser) Craver, stenographer, Western Electric Co., Winston-Salem.

Nancy Walton, bank teller, Burlington.

Della Ward, billing clerk, Brown Summit.

Georgia Rae Warren to Harvey Lee Hines, August 10, 1957, Kernersville. At home, Winston-Salem, where Mr. Hines is in business with his father.

Faye White, stenographer, North Carolina State Board Bureau of Employment for the Blind, Raleigh.

Mary Ellyn White, stenographer, The Atlantic Refining Co., Charlotte.

Nancy White, office work, Henderson.

Anna (Whitfield) Fleming is homemaking in Lumberton.

Nelda Wright, Trust Department, First National Bank, Hickory.

Elizabeth Jane Wyatt, Accounting Department, Landrum Mills, Landrum, S. C.

Priscilla Wyndham, secretary, Equitable Life Assurance Society, Charlotte.

Gail Ziglar, stenographer, Research Building, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem.

Sympathy

Misses Annie and Mary Petty, retired members of the Woman's College Faculty, in the death of their two brothers, Herbert C. Petty, of Archdale, who died August 19, and George Edward Petty, who died September 12, in Greensboro.

Eliza (Austin) Shearin '02, Janet (Austin) Chambliss '06, and Helen (Austin) Robbins, class of '12, in the death of their sister, Emily S. Austin, class of '01, September 24, 1957, Tarboro.

Betty Aiken Land '03, in the death of her sister, Helen Randolph Land, September 19, Greensboro.

Virginia (Davis) Perry '21, in the death of her husband, Dr. Robert E. Perry, June 23, Greensboro.

Lula Martin (McIver) Dickinson '21, in the death of her sister, Annie (McIver) Young '05, July 1, 1957.

Mary Alice (Spears) Longest, class of '21, and her daughter, Hilda (Longest) Smith '45, in the death of their husband and father, J. N. Longest, August 12, Goldsboro.

Marie Tyson '24, Evelyn (Tyson) Dixon '27, and Dorothy (Tyson) Warren

39, in the death of their father, Dr. Thomas David Tyson, August 17, Mebane.

Alice (Burton) Harris '25, in the recent death of her husband, William V. Harris, in Salisbury.

Jane (Wharton) Sockwell '31 and Betsy (Wharton) Newland '39, in the death of their mother, Mrs. William G. Wharton, September 10, Greensboro.

Lucile (Sharpe) Long '32, Alma Elizabeth (Sharpe) Garlow, class of '35, and Evelyn (Sharpe) Bumgarner '36, in the death of their father, Terry D. Sharpe, September 19, Greensboro.

Grace (Mackie) High '37, in the death of her father, Marvin A. Mackie, October 4, Granite Falls.

Annie (McNairy) Ozment, Com. 38, Marjorie Lee (McNairy) Smith, Com. '41, Mary Scott (McNairy) Dixon, Com. '50, and Betty McNairy '50, in the death of their mother, Mrs. W. D. McNairy, August 5, Greensboro.

Eleanor (Bell) Alexander '40, in the death of her husband, John Wilson Alexander, August 29, Asheboro, and to Annie (Moring) Alexander '10, Margaret (Alexander) Stevens '45, and Julia Alexander '47, in the death of their son and brother.

Mary C. Harris '43, in the death of her mother during September, in Inez.

Rosalie (Watson) Powell '44, in the death of her father, Dr. Samuel Robert Watson, Sr., August 17, Henderson.

Irene Glass '49, in the death of her brother, John S. Glass, Washington.

Barbara (Keller) Dolan '50 and her husband, in the death of her baby daughter, Barbara Karen, during the summer.

Frances (McGeady) George '51, in the recent automobile death of her brother, James A. McGeady, Jr., near Asheville.

Mary Louise Wall, Com. '57, in the death of her mother, Mrs. Jesse David Wall, September 13, Greensboro.

Campus Facts

Continued

A GRANT of $5,500 from the Fund for the Advancement of Education (a unit of the Ford Foundation) is enabling the Department of Biology to conduct an experiment this year in the better utilization of teaching resources. Drs. Victor Cutter and Martin Roeder are directing the study which is placing greater responsibility on the students for their own education.

Twelve freshman general biology classes are involved in the study. The students in six classes are attending lab once a week; they may meet for 45 minutes a week, if they choose, to ask questions of the instructors; and they are required to come each week for a 15 minute quiz. Instead of meeting for lecture-recitation classes, special emphasis is placed on individual study.

Throughout the year, the experimental and traditional "control" classes will be tested on the same basis, and the results will determine whether or not, at the freshman level, it is necessary for students to attend lectures, or whether they can do the required work independently. If the experiment is successful, a teacher will be able to handle four sections of biology with only one more hour than he now handles. The results of the experiment will be of special value in view of increasing numbers of students expected to enter colleges in the next several years.

THE EXPERIMENTAL TELEVISION teaching program in the public schools, which has been made possible by a grant of the Ford Foundation's Fund for Adult Education, is an effort to determine whether or not a better teaching job may be done with better facilities and less money. Mr. Charles W. Phillips, Public Relations director at Woman's College, is on leave and is directing the TV classroom teaching experiment.

The $100,000 grant, matched by a similar amount furnished by participating schools, is covering the central program of teaching, broadcasting, and administering a program in four subjects: American history, world history, general science, and 8th grade arithmetic. The courses are being telecast from WUNC-TV studios in Chapel Hill and in Greensboro five days each week from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m., on 30-minute schedules. It is estimated that this instruction is reaching 10,000 junior and senior high school students each day in composite "classes" ranging from 90 to 300 students. The program has an active participation of 44 schools in the state and another 55 schools are receiving the lectures on an unofficial basis.

The four teachers who are participating in this program are Miss Myrtle Brock '27 of Trenton, world history; Mrs. S. E. Denton of Columbia, South Carolina, general science; Miss Lois Edinger of Whiteville, American history; and Mrs. W. A. Gordon (Mary Polk '26) of Greensboro, arithmetic. In workshop consultation these teachers with Mr. Phillips, University professors and guidance personnel, worked out a syllabus and details of both the TV broadcasts and follow-up classroom discussion, quizzes, reviews, and assignments. Local teachers whose schools are participating in the program met in Chapel Hill from August 12-23 to receive instruction on the materials and procedures which are being used.

Commercial stations in Winston-Salem, Charlotte, and Asheville are relaying telecasts to cities outside the viewing range of WUNC-TV.

According to Mr. Phillips, television teaching may be one long-range answer to the teacher shortage. In a class of 300 students, three teachers could do the work that ten ordinarily would do in a regular classroom of 30 students each. Thus, seven teachers could be released to assist pupils who are slow to learn or who have fallen behind in their studies.

BEVERLY GRAVES, a senior from Fredericksburg, Virginia, has been elected College Beauty Queen (a position comparable "in ages past" to May Queen) by her classmates. Sandra Kaffin from Wilmington and Nancy Childress from Washington, D. C., were elected by the Seniors with Bev as Senior Beauty Representatives.

Barbara's

Continued

Martha von Briesen, guest); and Alumnae Chapters (Duke University's Assistant Director of Alumni Affairs Anne Garrard, guest). Celeste Ulrich '46, Frances (Gibson) Satterfield '28, and Betty Anne (Ragland) Stanback '46, respectively, chaired the three sessions.

You who were not here for the conference will hear about the discussions and far-reaching suggestions in periodic reports from the College-Alumnae Committee. Conferees directed that their two-days' work be turned over to this group of Alumnae, faculty, and administrative representatives for further consideration and directives for ACTION.

I, too, will be seeing you on February 1!

Barbara Parrish

Calendar of Events

... of interest to Alumnae

November 6, 7, 8 8:15 p.m. THEATRE OF WOMAN'S COLLEGE Aycock Auditorium
 "Oklahoma" in cooperation with School of Music and Dept. of Physical Education until

 November 11 9:30 a.m.
 9:30 p.m. THE HAMMER ART COLLECTION Elliott Hall

11-13 8:00 p.m. PENICK LECTURES Alumnae House
 Dr. Theodore Parker Ferris
 Trinity Episcopal Church, Boston, Massachusetts

November 14-15	SOCIAL SCIENCE FORUM See page 5 for details
----------------	--

18 8:30 p.m. MARVIN MACDONALD SERIES Aycock Auditorium
 NBC Opera Company

21 8:00 p.m. CIVIC MUSIC SERIES Aycock Auditorium
 Jacob Latsiner, pianist

24 8:15 p.m. GREENSBORO ORCHESTRA CONCERT . . . Aycock Auditorium

November 27-December 1 THANKSGIVING HOLIDAYS

December 11 8:00 p.m. MADRIGAL SINGERS CONCERT Music Building

15 4:00 p.m. CHRISTMAS CHORAL CONCERT Aycock Auditorium

December 19-January 1 CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS

January 5 11:00 a.m. SOPHOMORE UNIVERSITY SERMON . . . Aycock Auditorium
 Dr. Herbert Gezork
 Andover-Newton Theological Seminary

8 8:00 p.m. CIVIC MUSIC SERIES Aycock Auditorium
 Isaac Stern, violinist

11 & 13 8:30 p.m. MARVIN MACDONALD SERIES Aycock Auditorium
 "No Time for Sergeants"

17 8:00 p.m. LECTURE-ENTERTAINMENT SERIES . . . Aycock Auditorium
 Les Chanteurs de Paris

20-25 SEMESTER EXAMINATIONS

February 1 12:30 p.m.	MID-WINTER MEETING OF THE . . . Stone Building of ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION Home Economics
---------------------------------	---

Season tickets for the Woman's College Lecture-Entertainment Series and single admission tickets may be secured at the box office in Aycock Auditorium or from Mrs. Kathleen P. Hawkins at the College.

The Alumnae News

The Woman's College of the University of North Carolina

Calendar

January, 1958

PROBLEMS IN ALUMNAE FUND ARITHMETIC

- (1) Your interest
 +
 A few moments
 +
 Your checkbook
 +

The RED-LETTER envelope

=====

?

(Two correct answers)

365 days

(2)

— Number of days since January 1

?

Answers

(1) Success for the 1958 Alumnae Fund

or

The privileges of active membership in the Alumnae Association and the next four issues of THE ALUMNAE NEWS.

(2) Number of 1958 choices remaining for your RED-LETTER day for the Alumnae Fund.

January, 1958

you may make und.

the success of the 1958
ative participation and four times a year (October, April, July), by the Alumnae of the Woman's College of ity of North Carolina, Greensited as second-class matter at ice in Greensboro, N. C., June ngle copies, 50 cents.

The Alumnae House

January, 1958

To the members of the faculty:

It is with pleasure and our best wishes that we send you this copy of our first ALUMNAE NEWS Calendar.

Because of their interest in the activities of their former students and of the Alumnae Association, many members of the faculty each year subscribe to THE ALUMNAE NEWS, which is published quarterly.

Since the printing of THE NEWS is an expenditure of the Alumnae Fund, there is no minimum subscription fee: a contribution of any amount to the Fund constitutes a subscription for four issues. We regret that our financial state is such that we cannot send you a complimentary copy of each issue, but we shall welcome your subscription.

For your convenience in sending your contribution-subscription, you will find enclosed an envelope which may be mailed "local"-ly.

Barbara Parrish
Alumnae Secretary

Februar:
the Midv
socation tion are the busi candidat
February for the Woman's WUNC-7
stallatio
torium b
May 31 w
portance unions, i
June. The "get-toge
1922, 19
1953, 195
your plan

Answers

- (1) Success for the 1938 Alumnae
or
The privileges of active men and the next four issues of
(2) Number of 1938 choices ren
for the Alumnae Fund.

21.

(2)

L
C
P
Y (1)

The Alumnae News

The Woman's College of the University of North Carolina

Vol. XLVI, No. 2

January, 1958

Datelines

February 1 has been selected as the date for the Midwinter Meeting of the Alumnae Association. Active members of the Association are invited to lunch and to attend to the business of the organization (slate of candidates, budget, etc.).

February 24 is the date which has been set for the installation of Chancellor of the Woman's College Gordon Blackwell. Station WUNC-TV: Channel 4 will televise the installation ceremony from Aycock Auditorium beginning at 2:30 in the afternoon.

May 31 will be Alumnae Day. Of special importance is the new schedule for class reunions, adopted by the Association last June. The following groups will be planning "get-togethers": Old Guard, 1908, 1913, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925, 1933, 1938, 1948, 1953, 1957. But everyone is welcome. Make your plans NOW to come!

Contents

1958 (January through December)

365 days . . . any one of which you may make
RED-LETTER for the Alumnae Fund.

An envelope

Your RED-LETTER way to insure the success of the 1958
Fund and to assure for yourself active participation and
THE ALUMNAE NEWS quarterly.

Barbara Parrish, Editor

Evon Welch Dean, Assistant Editor

Mildred DeBorde Jackson, Circulation Manager

Published four times a year (October, January, April, July) by the Alumnae Association of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro. Admitted as second-class matter at the postoffice in Greensboro, N. C., June 29, 1912. Single copies, 50 cents.

JANUARY

1958

1958

SUNDAY

MONDAY

TUESDAY

WEDNESDAY

THURSDAY

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

26

27

28

29

30

31

1

NEW YEAR'S DAY

4

3

FEBRUARY

1958

1958

SUNDAY

MONDAY

TUESDAY

WEDNESDAY

THURSDAY

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

26

27

28

1

MIDWINTER MEETING
ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

INSTALLATION OF CHANCELLOR BLACKWELL

MARCH

1958
SUNDAY

MONDAY

TUESDAY

WEDNESDAY

THURSDAY

FRIDAY

1958
SATURDAY

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

1

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

26

27

28

29

30

31

MARY FRANCES STONE BUILDING

APRIL

1958	1958
SUNDAY	SATURDAY

MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
--------	---------	-----------	----------	--------	----------

1	2	3	4	5
6	7	8	9	10	11
12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23
24	25	26	27	28	29
30

GOOD FRIDAY

EASTER

1958

MAY

1958

SUNDAY

MONDAY

TUESDAY

WEDNESDAY

THURSDAY

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

26

27

28

29

30

31

COMMENCEMENT MEETING
ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

THE ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

JUNE

1958

1958

SUNDAY

MONDAY

TUESDAY

WEDNESDAY

THURSDAY

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

1

COMMENCEMENT

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

SUMMER SCHOOL
REGISTRATION

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

26

27

28

29

30

A CHINESE PARABLE

Once there was an emperor who wished to learn if people live on the moon. It occurred to him that if a loud enough noise were sent up from the earth, it might be heard on the moon and given an answer. So he sent an order throughout all his domains that every man, woman and child should gather in every village square on a certain day at a certain time and, at a certain instant, raise a mighty shout—loud enough to reach the moon.

Elaborate plans were required for the experiment. At last the appointed day arrived. At the appointed hour all the subjects of the empire were assembled, anxiously awaiting the appointed instant. The signal was given and—instead of the loudest sound the world had ever heard—there was utter silence.

great sound himself.

Have you just been "listening" for the last 181 days as did the emperor's villagers?

Come on . . . SHOUT! The Alumnae Fund will not be "answered" by a collective silence, we are confident. But "to reach the moon" we need every Alumna's help. Of course, we'll appreciate your being as generous as you can . . . but your participation means more than the amount which you contribute.

Only 184 days remain in 1958 and this Alumnae Fund year.

If the RED-LETTER envelope which was enclosed with the Calendar back in January has disappeared, any envelope will do.

JULY

1958

1958

SUNDAY

MONDAY

TUESDAY

WEDNESDAY

THURSDAY

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

26

27

28

29

30

31

INDEPENDENCE DAY

ELLIOTT HALL

1958

1958

AUGUST

SUNDAY

MONDAY

TUESDAY

WEDNESDAY

THURSDAY

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

1 2

3 4 5 6 7 8 9

10 11 12 13 14 15 16

17 18 19 20 21 22 23

24 25 26 27 28 29 30

31

CURRY SCHOOL

1958

1958

SEPTEMBER

SUNDAY

MONDAY

TUESDAY

WEDNESDAY

THURSDAY

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

1

LABOR DAY

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

26

27

28

29

30

OCTOBER

1958

1958

SUNDAY

MONDAY

TUESDAY

WEDNESDAY

THURSDAY

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

5

FOUNDER'S DAY

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

26

27

28

29

30

31

NOVEMBER

1958

1958

SUNDAY

MONDAY

TUESDAY

WEDNESDAY

THURSDAY

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

1

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

30

24

25

26

27

28

29

THANKSGIVING

THE SPENCERS

1958

1958

SUNDAY

MONDAY

TUESDAY

WEDNESDAY

THURSDAY

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

DECEMBER

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

26

27

28

29

30

31

CHRISTMAS

1958 is now a thing of the past.

And with it has gone 365 opportunities for you to contribute to the Alumnae Fund.

If you took advantage of one of these opportunities, we thank you . . .
and we shall count on your continued interest and contribution in the New Year.

If you never got around to taking advantage of one of 1958's days, we offer you . . .

1959

and 365 brand-new opportunities

Miss Virginia Trumper

TODAY

may be a RED-LETTER day for the 1958 Alumnae Fund.

The Alumnae

*Today
is a Red-Letter day!*

on of a college,
er,
ks to carry out it these things a as well as by the
which the ins

Miss Virginia Trumper

PLACE
3¢
STAMP
HERE

The Alumnae Fund
Woman's College, UNC
Greensboro, North Carolina